CHAPTER
I

What is a curse?

Before we get into the heart of this book you may want an explanation about what a curse is. In its most common form, a curse is something which would cause something bad or negative to happen to a person through the use of magic. When people talk about Black Magic they are generally talking about cursing, although summoning spirits and demons would generally fall into this category as well. General cursing is the most predominant form of Black Magick performed today. When spirits are summoned to aid someone in the art of cursing, this too would definitely be classified as cursing.

There are three schools of thought when it comes to cursing, and all three can be found in this book. The first manner of cursing is the most common and consists of intense anger focused at the victim of the curse. The second is through the use of a poppet or Voodoo type doll of the person and consists of harming the doll in some way, which is mirrored by the victim of the curse. The last method is the invocation of demons or deities to carry out the curse on the intended victim.

The use of focused anger or hatred, while sounding easy, is perhaps the most difficult manner by which to curse someone. The reason is that the emotional force brought into play must be vastly more focused and acute than what we feel under normal circumstances. This anger must be contained without release until the moment that the curse is unleashed. The most challenging part of this is that it differs remarkably from emotional repression. The person that is going to perform this curse must not allow themselves to feel the emotion at all, repressed or otherwise, until the actual release. When a person has mastered this manner of cursing they are truly a dark force to be reckoned with, as they can effectively curse with a glance or a simple spoken word. The chapter on Irish Curses found in the latter part of the book is specifically for individuals such as these.

The second manner of cursing is through the use of a proxy, or image of the person or part of the person that you wish to cause effect upon. Cursing by proxy is the oldest form of magic. There are recorded instances of cave men destroying clay bison in order to assist them in hunting. The philosophy behind this kind of curse is anything but simple. The premise of this is these items, people, and animals have a mirror or double in the spiritual plane. When change is enacted to an item that has been related to the spiritual manifestation of the victim, then harm is caused to the item, it will be reflected on the material plane in the same way. A very common manner of doing this is the sticking of pins into a doll, known commonly as the Voodoo Doll. The exact effectiveness of this method depends entirely upon how strong the link is with the spiritual plane, and the ambitions of the person performing the curse.

The third method is the invocation of forces outside of the practitioner in order to cause the desired effect. This involves summoning a demon in order to carry out the intended effect, or beseeching a god to cause the effect. This method depends not on faith or belief, but in the ritual itself. It assumes that the demon or god has a desire to assist, or in some way is forced to assist the practitioner.

All three methods of cursing involve significant peril to the person performing the curse. In the first instance they may not be able to handle the psychological effects of the emotional manipulation that is required. In the second they must realize that on the spirit plane, 'like' attracts 'like' and by releasing vast amounts of negative energy that they are themselves becoming a vortex for negativity. They may invoke a force that they are ill prepared to deal with, and thusly, place their self directly in spiritual or physical danger.

Does Cursing Make me Evil?

It depends on your definition of evil, but in a conventional sense the answer must be, 'yes'. In order to curse, we tap upon our inner darkness and bring it to the surface. When we tap this inner darkness, we come face to face with a part of our selves that most people would rather not admit that they have. It is a fair statement to say, at least for the duration of time, that you are actively cursing someone, that you are a force of darkness in and of yourself.

If you chose to continue to hold onto this darkness, then you would be soundly evil, or you may choose to let it go at the time that the curse is completed, but you will never be the same again. There are people that feel that if you only curse someone that deserves it, that there is no long term effect I would advise them to think about when you release the darkness, some of it always goes into you. Generally after a few successful curses, you will begin to find more and more people in your life that just so happen to deserve it. Chance? Not at all.

Is Cursing Proper?

Though there are those out there that would disagree, to me a person that is a practitioner of the magical arts that lacks the ability to curse is shallow and one sided in their beliefs. There are those out there that would like to say that they represent the balance and yet they are so totally blinded by the light that they cannot embrace the darkness, much less acknowledge and respect this part of themselves.

With that said, cursing is not only proper, it is a respectable and fundamental aspect of any magical practice, just as healing is. There are no healing spells in this book for a very simple reason. The reason is that there are already a ton of such books out there for people that desire to learn how to heal.

I'm a 'Witch', Should I Curse?

If you are a Witch, then by all means, you should curse. Cursing is a very large part of Witchcraft. A Witch that cannot curse is arguably not really a Witch.

Cursing is, however, not part of Wicca. If you are a Wiccan and you have a desire to curse, you might want to rethink being a Wiccan. At the very least, you might find it very appropriate to keep your own council on the issue of cursing, lest you want to become very unpopular with the other Wiccans in a speedy manner.

Confusion inevitably arises when Wiccans and Witches discuss this subject; the reason is that Wiccans call themselves Witches. If you do feel the need to discuss this topic with Wiccans be certain that you explain this distinction to them or they will become very offended, as Wiccans don't curse.

The Rule of Three

As you explore the various aspects of cursing you will undoubtedly come across what is called the “Rule of Three” it says:

“Ever mind the Rule of Three
Three times what thou givest returns to thee
This lesson well, thou must learn
Thee only gets what thou dost earn!”

To put this in laymen’s terms, this means that if you curse someone, you will be affected by similar bad things, only three times worse. It has been my observation that if you are a Wiccan and hold this to be true, then it’s true. This again goes back to the negative energy vortex that we spoke of in the preceding section. With simple protection, this effect can be circumvented. Of course, it stands to reason that the more powerful the curse that you put on your enemy, the stronger your protection needs to be. Below is the common extended version of ‘The Wiccan Rede’, whose author remains unknown to this day.

Bide the Wiccan Laws we must
In perfect Love and Perfect Trust.
Live and let live,
Fairly take and fairly give.
Cast the Circle thrice about
To keep the evil spirits out.
To bind the spell every time
Let the spell be spake in rhyme.
Soft of eye and light of touch,
Speak little, listen much.
Deosil go by the waxing moon,
Chanting out the Witches' Rune.
Widdershins go by the waning-moon,
Chanting out the baneful rune.
When the lady's moon is new.
Kiss the hand to her, times two.
When the moon rides at her peak,
Then your heart's desire seek.
Heed the North wind's mighty gale,
Lock the door and drop the sail.
When the wind comes from the South,
Love will kiss thee on the mouth.
When the wind blows from the West,
Departed souls will have no rest.
When the wind blows from the East,
Expect the new and set the feast.

Nine woods in the cauldron go,
Burn them fast and burn them slow.
Elder be the Lady's tree,
Burn it not or cursed you'll be.
When the Wheel begins to turn,
Let the Beltane fires burn.
When the Wheel has turned to Yule,
Light the logs and Horned one rules.
Heed ye Flower, Bush and Tree,
By the Lady, blessed be.
When the rippling waters go,
Cast a stone and truth you'll know.
When ye have a true need,
Hearken not to other's greed.
With a fool no season spend,
Lest ye be counted as his friend.
Merry meet and merry part,
Bright the cheeks and warm the heart.
Mind the Threefold Law you should,
Three times bad and three times good.
When misfortune is enow,
Wear the blue star on thy brow.
True is love ever be,
Lest thy lover's false to thee.
Eight words the Wiccan Rede fulfill:
"An' Harm ye none, do as you will."

Break up a Love Affair

#1

Materials Required:

Six black candles

An item of clothing belonging to each person

One large yellow onion

Two eggs

Instructions:

Take two of the black candles and carve the name of the man on one, and carve the name of the woman (or significant other) on the other candle. While doing so, state the following for each candle:

“I name this candle [state the person’s name]”

You will need to imagine the person’s image strongly in your mind while doing this, and it must be done for both candles.

Place the remaining four candles on your altar, illustrated further below.

Take one of the eggs and write the man’s name upon it. Wrap the egg up in the woman’s clothing article, and place it on the altar, in front of the woman’s candle.

Take the other egg and write the woman’s name on it. Wrap this egg up in the man’s clothing article and place it on the altar in front of the man’s candle.

Light the four candles at each corner of your altar.

Now, light the man’s candle and repeat the following nine times:

“Through the power of flame [Man’s name] will love [Woman’s name] no more.”

Now, light the woman’s candle and repeat the following nine times:

“Through the power of flame [Woman’s name] will love [Man’s name] no more.”

Allow all the candles to burn out.

At midnight, go outside and dig a hole in the ground with your hands. Place both the man’s candle and the woman’s clothing (containing the named eggs) in the hole, along with all the candles that were used on your altar. (The clothing should still contain the named eggs, they should still be unbroken). Place the onion in the hole on top of everything else and cover the hole. Jump upon the hole 9 times stating the following:

“No more, no more they will love, no more. As the onion grows their love will lessen.”

(This should break the eggs). Make certain the hole is covered completely. You may need to scoop some more dirt in to fill it up. As the onion grows the love affair will vanish.

“This lemon is the friendship between [1st person’s name] and [2nd person’s name] It is full of sourness, and will soon be no more.”

Place the lemon on a cutting board or on your altar and slice it in half while saying 9 times, the following:

“As the sour juice runs from this lemon, so does the friendship run from [1st person’s name] and [2nd person’s name].”

Take the two halves of the lemon and bury them in two separate holes, at least several feet apart from each other.

Break up a Marriage

#3

Materials Required:

One red heart, (cut from paper and colored, or cut from red construction paper)

One piece of parchment paper

One wooden box

One sulfur match

Instructions:

This spell is to be performed on the night of a full moon. On the piece of parchment paper, draw a figure representing the man on the top half of the parchment paper, with his name directly underneath the figure. Now, draw a figure representing the woman on the bottom half of the parchment, with her name directly underneath the figure.

Take all the spell ingredients outside. Tear the parchment in half, separating the man and the woman, while saying:

“I rip the asunder. As I tear you apart on paper, so your marriage is torn apart in the world.”

Dig a small hole with your hands and place the heart inside. Take the match and set afire the image of the person who you want to go away, while repeating the following:

“I burn thee! Go, go, go, away and trouble me no more.”

Place the ashes on top of the heart while saying:

“As the heart is cold and dead, so shall you be. You will love no more.”

Cover the heart with soil. Place the other drawing in the wooden box and allow no one to see it.

Special Notes:

This spell must be repeated once a month on the full moon or it will lose its effectiveness. This spell is very powerful, but it takes time to work. The stronger the relationship the longer it will take, but it will happen in time.

Do the same for the woman's figure, then draw or carve their names on the respected figures.

Pour the vinegar into the jar and say the following:

"This is the vial of ill intention. Those emerged in it will reject with disdain and scorn, those that come to them. They will find themselves soured to their suitors, and indifferent to their desires."

Place the figure of the person that you want to lose interest in the other in the container of vinegar while saying:

"[Woman's name] will sour towards [Man's name]"

Place the man's figure next to the woman's figure (the woman's figure will be emerged in the vinegar, the mans on the outside – or vice versa)

Every day, move the man's figure 6 inches away from the woman's figure, while saying:

"[Man's name] tires of the vinegar of [Woman's name] and will soon depart from her, to never seek her again."

By the fourth time that the figure has been moved, the courtship will be over.

Remove the dollar. (Removing the dollar should cause the house to collapse) DO NOT BURN THE DOLLAR!

Now state the following:

Hold the blade in your hand and think of the person. Imagine them stabbing their flesh, and visualize the flow of blood. Carefully lay the razor on the altar or table, and using the pin, scratch onto the surface of the blade the symbol you see below. Leave the razor where they will find it.

Special note: the symbol is a very powerful glyph that can be used on any tool that you wish to turn against its owner. It is advisable that you do not keep it in your possession longer than absolutely required.

Cause a Person to Smell Badly

Materials Required:

Wax doll of the person

¼ Cup of asphatita (herb used in cooking & Witchcraft, also spelled asphitida,)

Pronounced (as-fa-tee-da)

Instructions:

Take the doll of the person and say:

“As this smells, so does [person’s name].”

Take the asphatita in your hand and say:

“This is the stench of the grace, it will cling to [person’s name] as it does to the dead, and only in death shall he know relief.”

Roll the doll in the asphatita and place it someplace where it will not be found by anyone.

Special note: You may want to perform this curse outside, as it really does smell horrible.

Asphatita is also a component used to punish disobedient spirits, so you can imagine how it smells.

Cause a Person to Become Depressed

Materials Required:

One wax figure

One black cloth or bag

Instructions:

Create a wax figure of the person that you wish to effect, and carve their name upon it. If you can get a piece of their hair or fingernail clippings to go into this doll it would be even better, but is not necessary. Hold the doll up to the East and say the following:

"This is the body of [person's name]. What befalls this doll shall befall [person's name]."

Stand the doll upon the altar or table and state the following:

"[Person's name] stands in silence alone and removed with only the screams of their mind to keep them company. When they are by themselves, they are tormented by inner demons. When they are in a crowded room, they are all by themselves."

Take the black cloth in you left hand and say the following:

"This is the darkness of the soul. It envelopes and destroys. It is the totality of [person's name] reality."

Drop the cloth over the figure, turn and walk away. You may proceed to the next spell to enact another curse, to make the person suicidal, or you can bury the figurine in the ground where it will not be found by another person.

Cause a Person to Become Suicidal

Materials Required:

One black cloth

One red cloth

One wax figure

Several razor blades

Instructions:

This spell is an extension of the previous spell, # 21. It requires that you proceed only after you have left the figure covered for 3 days with the black cloth. After the three days have passed, retrieve the doll, then hold up the red cloth and say the following:

“This is the anger and the blood that depressions have brought [person’s name]. They will feel the anger and know that suicide is the only solution.”

Place the red cloth over the figure, then state the following:

“Feel the rage, as you are hopelessly lost. [person’s name], suicide calls to you!”

Slide the nine razor blades under the red cloth, and for each one, state the following as you slide them under the cloth:

“[Person’s name], release yourself from your suffering. Find peace from your demons, and embrace death. Spirit of the Night, speed them upon their way!”

When the last razor has been placed state the following:

“So it is done!”

Special note: you may be tempted to maul the figure with the razor blades to show where you want to person to cut their self. Resist this temptation, as it will limit the manner in which the person can commit the act.

Cause a Person to Have Night Terrors

Materials Required:

- One black feather
- One black candle
- One stick of dragon's blood incense
- One container black or silver glitter.
- One black robe

Instructions:

This ritual is to take place at a time you know the person is asleep. The optimal time is approximately 2 hours before they may awaken. If you are uncertain about the best timing for this ritual you may want to perform it at around 4:00 AM, unless they work nights. Dress yourself in the black robe. Take all of your materials outside to a location where there is no visible artificial light. Plant the stick of incense into the ground and say the following:

"I consecrate this place for the workings of the Spirit of the Night. May he take heed of the wishes that are requested on this night, and speed them to action."

As you light the incense, say the following:

"I call upon you, Spirit of the Night to be present at these workings. I offer up this smoke, that it may be pleasing unto you. Hear my request and grant it, and may the wings of the raven speed it along."

Place the candle on the ground and state the following:

"Find home in this candle, minions of the Spirit of the Night, for you are the shadows of this deserted place. Let the flame draw you."

Light the candle, and state the following:

"Come! Come! Come shadows!"

Wait for a sign that the shadows have come. (If the candle burns all the way down before you receive a sign, try the work on a different night.)

Hold the glitter up to the sky and say the following:

"These are the dark dreams of man, the visions of the pit, full of unnamable horrors and deaths."

Take the feather in the other hand raise it up while saying the following:

"This is the feather, the wings of my spell, blessed by the Spirit of the Night, and empowered by the shadow host gathered here. Give my spell wings! Give my spell wings!"

Using the feather, brush the glitter until it scatters from your hand. Chant the following while brushing the glitter around:

"GO! GO! GO! GO! GO to [person's name], and bring them the darkness that you contain. The wings of a raven may speed it upon its way. Shadows make it strong and true. SPIRIT OF THE NIGHT, HEAR ME!"

Burn the feather in the flame, and when the feather has finished burning, bury what's left of the feather in the ground and say:

"So it is done."

Cause a Person to Catch Chicken Pox

#24

Materials Required:

One chicken feather

Instructions:

This curse is mostly verbal. You simply take the chicken feather and approach the person, touch them with the feather while looking them directly in the eyes, and say the following:

“AIA! AIA! AIA!”

(It is pronounced: ā-u, similar to the vowel sounds in the words “may” and” buck”)

The words were derived using the following equation:

Spirit bring pox:

$19 + 16 + 9 + 18 + 9 + 20 = 91 = 9+1 = 10 = 1+0 = 1$  or A

$2 + 18 + 9 + 7 = 36 = 3+6 = 9$  or I

$16 + 15 + 24 = 55 = 5+5=10=1+0 = 1$  or A

The Word “AIA” contains the same impact as the statement “Spirit bring pox”, except it is hidden, and only appreciated by the caster. It is this very mystery that powers this spell. For a handy reference see the letters of the alphabet and their corresponding numbers in case you wish to create your own spell or curse. Some very elaborate curses have been created in this manner, but the wise would seek to keep their works simple and as direct as possible.

"This is the body of [person's name], the beast!"

Hold the wolf's hair up to the moon and state:

Light the black candle and state:

"He is a beast in body!"

Take the hair and stick it to the figure and say:

"Lupis, Canis, Lupis, come to your brother. [person's name] is one of flesh and spirit. They will show on the outside what lives on the inside. The moon will call to his spirit as it calls to the wolf in the forest at night. Lupis! Lupis! Lupis! Canis come!"

Place the figure into a small black bag and bury it at a place that you know that wolves travel over. The person will be cursed as long as the figure remains buried. To release the person from the curse, you must dig the figure up and burn the figure.
