CONCERNING THE "LAW OF LOVE"

Paul Shockley
Trance-Interpreter

Question:

Awareness, this lady from the Dena Foundation, M.M.P. wrote quite a long letter, which I can extract from, asking several questions: one referring to the Law of Love. She says: "The Law of Love states that it is the law 'which places the welfare and the concern and the feelings for other above self' (above underlined), which seems in contradiction to the phrasing (quote) "as oneself" (as underlined, her own underlining) which is the phrasing given this law through Jesus Christ as the channel, and also through countless other individual channels both before and since, according to various records and reports. The interpretation as given in those particular words is reminiscent of the older church teachings and interpretations which led to what many have been told are basically erroneous concepts of "robbing Peter to pay Paul", or the belief that God is a respecter of persons and requires one to put others above himself as being worthy of ones concern. It is my understanding that this is one of the major tenets that Jesus gave his priests and self-elevated church leaders of his time, although I guess they called themselves scribes, as well as high priests in those days. In any event, all of the rest of the transmission is so very "right on" in every respect, according to my own understanding of these New Age teachings that I thought perhaps it might be wise to clarify these points in our mind, so that we all understand clearly exactly what Cosmic Awareness really represents as truth in this respect."

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness wishes to move through the Law of Love. This Awareness indicates that the Law of Love was first introduced through the entity, Ed Young, who wrote this out on paper. That this entity did present this to Ralph Doby. That the Law of Love then was expressed through trance by the entity, Ralph Doby, through certain readings.

This Awareness indicates that many entities in the Organization of Awareness became aware of the apparent origin of the Law of Love and felt that this had no place in the organization because this had come from Ed Young, rather than from some channel. This Awareness indicates that this controversial Law in the Organization of Awareness had been argued and discussed by many.

This Awareness indicates that the entity, Ed Young, was not without awareness; that this Awareness can speak through anyone. This Awareness indicates that those who felt Ed Young was not qualified to write the Law of Love, or that the Law of Love was not acceptable because it came from Ed Young's pen rather than from Ralph Doby's mouth, this as erroneous thinking. This Awareness indicates that these concepts must be examined for themselves and not for their source, not as being from an authority, but from what they, themselves, are saying and whether this is appropriate to the general situation or not.

This Awareness suggests that we now consider the Law of Love: This Awareness indicates the word 'Law' as being synonymous with the word 'Principle'. That a principle is a law in the cosmic sense. This as a rule, or a principle of love. The principle of love is that principle which places the welfare and concern and feeling for others above self:

This Awareness indicates that the entity, Jesus, had the ability to avoid placing the welfare and the concern and the feelings for others above self, has the ability not to partake and drink of the cup, had the ability to avoid crucifixion, had the ability to escape with his life and thereby avoid any kind of repercussion from his actions of healing others, teaching those who do not know. This entity could have avoided that outcome by placing others along with self, and following others as they followed him, walking through time and space without ever sacrificing, or giving anything to others unless assured that they would give an equal amount back to him. Yet this entity was caught in that strange phenomena called the Law of Love, the principle of love, and this entity did love humanity so much that he was unable to place the welfare and concern and feeling of others along with self, but placed them above himself; and in that action, gave himself for the mass of humanity.

This Awareness indicates that It has never demanded nor insisted, nor directed that any entity place himself or herself below others, nor that any entity be placed above you, nor that you are to be forced to love others, or to place them above yourself. This Awareness has simply stated in this Principle of Love that this is what love is. Whether an entity is capable of loving is up to the entity.

This Awareness indicates there are many who can place the welfare and concern and feeling for others above self, for their consciousness has extended beyond concepts of 'self' into concepts of 'we'; and to see another suffer, or to gain for oneself, or to be able to protect oneself when one could give something to help another, this becomes impossible for entities who love.

This Awareness indicates that It has suggested that there has been enough sacrifice, that lifetimes have been strewn with sacrifice, that civilizations have been strewn with sacrifice; that for eons of time this Awareness has watched entities sacrifice themselves for a cause:

This Awareness does not ask that entities sacrifice themselves; this Awareness asks that you love one another.

That it cannot be over stressed. That loving one another whereby each entity places the welfare and concern and feeling for others above self-interest, that is the true meaning of the Law, or Principle of Love. And whereby entities can place the welfare and concern and feeling for others above their own self-interest, they shall find that there is no need to sacrifice themselves: for wherein one finds himself being violated for having placed the welfare of another above self, one also discovers that to allow that violation is not to be fair and equitable to the one who would violate, and to place the welfare of that one who would violate above self, one must call attention to that violation so that the violator may become aware of himself and may grow toward greater purpose and activities.

This Awareness indicates that love places the welfare of others above self, but to avoid sacrifice of your own self, there must be that which is communication:

Communication and love, working together, allow for the flow and the exchange of love and energies in a manner that does not create violation.

This Awareness indicates that those who are not capable of placing the welfare of others above self, are encouraged to place the welfare and concern for others along with self.
