CONCERNING DIVORCE (Why so Many?)

Paul Shockley
Trance-Interpreter

Question:

Will Awareness please comment on what is the cause and reason for the divorce epidemic? Why is there so terribly much divorce and unhappiness from it these days? Are there really that many mismatched couples? If so, Why? I have the feeling there is much more to it than that. It is so much easier to get a divorce nowadays. As many people say, this would be saying that married couples never have loved each other and wanted to stay together. (This question from J.N. of Benton Harbor, Michigan).

Cosmic Awareness:

This Awareness indicates that the changing values in the society have accentuated concepts of self-gratification.

This Awareness indicates 50 years ago, or 100 years ago, the concepts of self-gratification were far down the list of values. The concepts of raising children, of earning your way in life through activities that were acceptable, activities that were productive, activities that were morally and ethically sound; these concepts were much stronger than they are today. And the value of living a life of honorable existence, a good life, a strong family life, these values were much more important.

This Awareness indicates that the concept of physical security was also strong. That marriage and family were closely linked to teamwork for physical security purposes, keeping the children clothed and fed, working to keep the house in food, keeping shelter and clothing and to have the few luxuries in life. These were concepts which held the family together, for the family did work toward their own needs.

This Awareness indicates that at present time, security is such that many entities discover that they can receive more security by leaving their mate and finding another who has more wealth, or by moving toward welfare situations, or by leaving the mate and family in order to have and keep the money which is being made instead of sharing this with the family.

This Awareness indicates the security concept of working together has given way to personal security.

This Awareness suggests also that the religious concepts which held families together has given way to concepts of self-gratification, pleasure-seeking and fun. Pleasure-seeking and fun can be experienced without having a close family situation.

This Awareness indicates in this manner, many entities discover that if a marriage does not give them personal gratification, they are tempted to run next door or across town to someone else who will do this for them. In this manner they are satisfying their immediate needs at the expense of more deep and long-lasting relationships.

This Awareness indicates that the laws have encouraged this kind of activities by allowing divorces to become easily obtained, the increase of trust between people in society, the cities which have their bars and restaurants, their gathering places, their entertainment sources, all of these contribute to intermingling of entities whereby they can get acquainted with strangers.

This Awareness indicates that 50 years ago you just did not speak to strangers in a casual attitude. Wherein there was a speaking, there was a reason for speaking.

This Awareness indicates that the situation as moving into levels of a breaking down of values, of the concept of two against the world, wherein a marriage was an alliance to live together in competition with the rest of the world, that this area as breaking down.

This Awareness indicates that in its place there is becoming more and more a social awareness, rather than a family awareness.

This Awareness indicates that the happy balance will occur in a few years, wherein entities who have come from scattered homes, from a loss of the feeling of home life, shall grow up to be adults and shall seek the home which they lacked as a child and shall begin to work toward re-establishing the family feeling.

This Awareness indicates that the balance will occur wherein entities can have their family and still be socially oriented. Wherein families can come together, can visit one another, and wherein entities can become close to one another even though they are from different families.

This Awareness indicates the action of the sexual revolution as beginning to wane and the emphasis that has been on sex for so many years, being thrown out into the world, wherein everyone for approximately 15 years has observed the sexual orgy in society, and this orgy now as beginning to lose its significance.

This Awareness indicates that within a short time, other values and significances will begin to take their proper places, and entities shall find that they can be loving and close with their neighbor without having to crawl in bed to express that affection.
