From Bill...

REVELATIONS OF AWARENESS--THE NEW AGE COSMIC NEWSLETTER
COSMIC AWARENESS COMMUNICATIONS, P.O. Box 115, Olympia, Washington 98507

No. 81-10 $3.00

In previous readings, Cosmic Awareness has indicated that Bill, (who has requested we not publish his last name) was a Wanderer, who has traveled far, gathered information, and returns to share much which can assist in the work which shall soon be entering a new and powerful phase for establishing the new world, as has long been prophesied. Awareness indicated that Bill is one of the key members of a group of Wanderers who have been working through many lifetimes for the lifting of the vibrations on this planet. After many years of searching for God, Bill is now capable of pure surrender, able to open his Crown Chakras to allow his subconscious access to the Super Consciousness and thus allow the Christ Consciousness to witness through his channel. Bill's letters to the staff of C.A.C. are now being published as an additional service to the membership. The response from the membership to Bill's letters has been overwhelming: entities are writing every day. "Let's hear more from Bill." Also, Bill is currently channeling a tremendous amount of material and sending it to us almost daily, so we see no reason you should not hear from this entity as you request. Although some of his channelings may appear to conflict with previous information from Awareness, Bill's frame of reference is from 'the Plane of Oneness'--the true Reality that views the illusion. Awareness has indicated that It sees no contradiction in Bill's frame of reference and in his channelings.

Dear Avaton....

Well, how's everything? Son of a gun, it's amazing and awfully humbling to hear that those readings are 'striking a chord' with your readers. I never would've believed it. But it emphasizes the need for keeping the channelings pure and not letting the 'rational mind' or personal opinions contaminate them. I'd been having a terrible battle with the "rational mind" concerning the Beatles. Trying to bring through clear channelings regarding the Beatles has been very hard. But with the help of that editorial you wrote, the "rational mind" is beginning to be cleared of its prejudice and hypocrisy.

Concerning that first letter to you, where it describes building an accelerator-pyramid machine, it would be well to have a follow-up of some kind warning entities NOT to ever try to build one of these machines, because it can get them killed. When I tried using that machine as a "hyperspace cannon" on the 'Council of 13', I found that they are far more adept at that sort of thing than I was. They 'whipped my ass', as Jimmy Carter would say. No matter how good the motive, no entity should ever try to use psionics against the Luciferians, because that is their home turf. You become a rabbit in a lion's cage when you meddle with these forces. Entities have to go to a plane higher than the Luciferians have any access to, and that way the Light radiations are energized for planetary healing.

I know you don't have a particular fondness for the Summit Lighthouse group, but they have a tape that is super-good concerning this very subject. It's called "Confidential File 10017", and concerns the occult side of the Conspiracy and how entities can help neutralize it from a higher plane of consciousness. Its information does not penetrate all the way to the inner circle of the "Council of 13", but it is 'par excellence' as far as it goes. It's oriented toward entities who are "in the world but not of it". I think the price is $15.00. Summit Lighthouse also puts out a catalog of all their stuff. I think if you just saw this catalog, you'd see the tremendous Light that this outfit is putting out. The beauty of their stuff is, it's geared to being "in the world, but not of it", establishing a Grace that permits entities to be channels of God while still living and functioning in the world. Granted, it's only an intermediate level, but there are still so many entities whose unfoldment is at that level.

As far as Clare Prophet having "copied" from C.A.C., the fact is, they both went to the Source. That is why there's such a ring of similarity in the two channels in certain areas. Their channelings have an error rate of about 10%, and I only hope I can keep my own channel that clear, and keep the "rational mind" and prejudice subdued at all times. (This letter became a channeling at this point).

Concerning the Avataric Company (many of whom are in Clare Prophet's group), these entities have often suffered great calamities and upheavals in their lives. Often, as it was with me, it is these sufferings that initiate the search for God.

The Avatar's suffering, whether physical or emotional, is a fairly accurate barometer of the "karmic pressures" in the world. These sufferings are a "flow meter" of the karmic 'steam' that's being jetted out into hyperspace. These Avatars are generally very perplexed by their sufferings, thinking it must be personal karma or past-life karma that they are experiencing. They sometimes feel very guilty at this stage of their awakening, thinking, "I sure must have been a terrible hellion in my past lives to bring all this karma on myself."

But as their spiritual awakening deepens, they find that it is world karma that they are venting, just as they themselves programmed it before coming down. (Or in the case of many of the Avatars, they are venting karma associated with a city or a region.) By and large, it is not personal karma that they are experiencing. And this should be a cause for comfort and reassurance to these entities.

There is some personal karma involved to be sure, due to attachment to the world. And this is why it is so vital that these Avatars return to their "First Love" and come under Grace again.

As it happens sometimes, an Avatar will get tangled in karma and worldly attachments, and be locked into a 2nd or even a 3rd embodiment before throwing off the karma. In some cases, they get locked in permanently, building a karmic backlog, and never get free. This has happened time and time again. There are Avatars who came down thousands of years ago who are still here, having long forgotten their Avataric mission. Like a diver going down into a sunken ship (as in the Edgar Cayce allegory), they became tangled and choked and never came up.

When Avatars make their plans, it all looks so clear-cut and straightforward, like the diver mapping out his plans before the dive. Then, full of hope and exuberance, he dives down into the "sunken ship" in his heavy "diving suit" of flesh. And suddenly the water is murky and turbulent and full of sharks, he has vertigo, and feels his air line being choked off. All the clear-cut plans are the furthest thing from his mind now. The only reality at the moment is simply surviving in this mess. And that's how the Avatar sometimes gets trapped in karma and rebirth.

But if that trapped diver would just stop, take stock of his situation, and reconnoiter for a moment, he'd find there's a life-line that he'd completely forgotten about. And that, to the Avatar, is Grace, making God the first attachment through Pure Surrender. Through Grace, through the life-line, he can come back Home to the surface, free of the entanglements and suffocation. And the same Grace applies to all humanity as well. All they have to do is take it.

From the plane of Grace, you see the duality of the world and the karmic systems of the world from the vantage point of Oneness. It's just like viewing a city from a mountaintop instead of from within that city. You see the whole thing as a unit instead of from down in the midst of it. All its ghettos and slums and high-rises and factories and banks and rich neighborhoods are just one blob as you look at it. And suddenly it dawns on you--"That place, that city down there in that murky, smoggy valley, with all the divisions and dissensions, full of pursuits that lead nowhere, is out of touch with Reality. Reality is here on this mountaintop in the sun, here in the Clear Light of heaven. Let's raise that city up. Let's move heaven and earth to move that city. Let's rebuild it here on the mountains, in the Light. Let's not try to take the Light down there or make the Light conform to the narrow, stifling confines of that city. Let's rebuild it completely, up here in the Light, here on the Mountain of God."

The "city", of course, is the earth as it is now. And the 'mountain' is Higher Consciousness, or Grace established by man's pure love for God.

The earth as it is now, the entirety of it, even the richest and most affluent parts of it, is truly the Skid Row of the Cosmos. Yet that same earth is soon to be raised up out of the dinghy smog of karma and duality into the Clear Light of Christ. A transfigured humanity, each one immortal even in the flesh, will populate the New Earth.

The ending of karma and rebirth, the closing of the Luciferian Experiment, will reveal the true Light of Lucifer, the great Light-Bringer. For only by seeing the depths of darkness can the earth become the Freedom Star. Shining brighter than any physical sun, the earth will illumine this whole sector of the universe, as the "Testament of Union, beacon unto the ages". That is the legacy and the destiny of this little mote called earth.

The unusually large number of Avatars who are in the earth now all came down by mutual agreement. It was agreed that the first ones of the group to awaken would sound the note to help the others awaken, so that hopefully none would get trapped in maya and reembodiments. The message of Grace, the Lifeline, is the Avatar's hope of regaining the Ascension. Pure Love, pure surrender to God, is the "Grace that will lead us home." And all humanity as well.

There has been another large-scale crumbling of the antichrist's hold on the earth. And some new wedges of Light have been driven in. Today came the hostage release, perhaps not too significant in itself, but it has generated a wave of thankfulness, of good will, of higher vibration that can be energized and accelerated still further. If we all really jump on this with magic and prayer, before the waves die down, these energies can be built higher and higher. Sparks of Light are glowing all over the earth right now. And they're momentarily growing brighter, as if air were being fanned onto a bed of embers. It reminds you of stars appearing in the evening sky. If these embers can be fanned and fanned, if enough Light Workers will really get on this, these embers can be fanned into a fire, then a conflagration, then into a great firestorm of Light that will sweep the length and breadth of this planet.

GOD'S GRACE IS NOT OF "THIS WORLD"

( A pep talk to the Avataric Company )

Some entities seem to feel that when they take up the spiritual path, God's grace is going to come like a big sugar plum fairy and give them a nice, rosy life in "this world". God is supposed to be a Cosmic Santa Claus waiting with bated breath to unload the goodies at entities' beck and call. This channel would like to disillusion you gently if this has been your concept of God.

The devotees of God, the true pioneers of the New Age, are not going to have an easy life in "this world". God's grace is the Liberty that unbinds you from the karma of this world. But that doesn't mean life is going to be a rose garden in the material sense. God's grace is the liberty to follow God alone, no matter if the whole world turns against you and crucify you.

You are a pioneer in a wilderness, when you walk in "this world". You have come into "this world" not to have a party and a soft life. That is not the aim or the purpose of your embodiment here. You come from a country that is not of "this world". Yet you are here, just as if you had parachuted into a jungle with only the barest survival gear. You came in here to do a job. And that is to transform this jungle, to make it into a habitable and fit place for life.

The Grace of God, which is pure surrender to your High Self, is your staff and sustenance in "this world". And sometimes the Grace of God may seem ferocious and terrible as Providence begins the process of your awakening. The eradication of the ego, the cutting loose of the ties and dependencies of "this world" is all part of the Grace of God.

You are an Avatar, a Child of the Light. Your home is the Clear Light of heaven. And you're here in this steamy snakepit because you volunteered to come here. You came as part of the Avataric force that is raising this planet into the Clear Light, the same Light that is your Home.

So the Avatars should never feel cheated or disappointed if they're not having an easy, comfortable life here. The Avatar's reward is to see this world raised up in Resurrection, to see the 'Clipper Ship' of humanity sail into the Golden Sea. The massive karma of the 20th Century is borne by the Avatars of today. It is not retroactive back to Jesus' atonement on the cross. Jesus bore some of the karma of the world of his day, and the Gospel writers reflect on this, saying "He hath taken upon him the sins of the world." That applied to THAT DAY. It is not a "vicarious atonement" for today like the literalists and fundamentalists believe.

Jesus' act of atonement was very widely-publicized as an example for future Avatars to follow. Jesus was only one of many Avatars involved in Intercession. Jesus' sufferings spanned a few hours, while other Avatars' sufferings have spanned lifetimes. The actual amount of karma that Jesus vented for the world is not nearly as important as the legacy he left for all future Avatars: "Do this in remembrance of me". The tremendous karmas that were to come onto the world over the next 2000 years had to be borne by many Avatars, especially right here in the closing decades of the 20th Century.

Right now, many of the Avatars are still seeking healing and solace for their troubles, still wanting an easy life in "this world". The Avatars have sought escapism through drugs and license and every form of "medicine" the world had to offer. Some have gone to healers and doctors and psychiatrists seeking relief, and others have tried to find God through religion, hoping for relief. But suffering dogged their heels no matter what. Some would get one ailment cured only to have it pop out as another. Some of these entities, as they began to learn about such things as karma, developed guilt complexes, figuring, "I must have done terrible things in my past life to cause all this."

Many entities who are in fact Avatars find themselves in this predicament. And there is only one possible road to follow if all else has been a dead end. And that is pure surrender, pure devotion to God even if it means cutting loose from everything else in the world. It may mean total austerity and total alienness in 'this world'. But you know what? You will have absolute peace and joy and serenity, knowing that you are in the Will of God, fully yielded as a channel of God, doing the very work of God. And it's possible to live and move in this state of pure surrender with no money or material sustenance of any kind, relying totally on the universe to supply your needs day by day. Saint Francis and the Apostles and many Sanyasis and Sadhus of India have proved this to be so.

You feel the gentle touch of Light on the Chakra, knowing you're in contact with the Universe, knowing "God is the only Reality"

"God is Seer and Provider of all needs"

"God is my Source, my Life, and my Protection".

And it is so. There is the perfect peace of KNOWING that all you do is done by God, even if "this world" condemns you and crucify you for it. Sufferings will still come, but you bear them with grace and serenity, knowing that this is the karma of humanity being vented. And you're grateful to God for this.

This is the Avatar's job here in this 'jungle outpost' of the universe. It is the Grace of God empowering the Avatars to clear this jungle and make it the cradle of the Son of God, the Christed Humanity. It is the lighting of the Freedom Star.

As long as we're still of "this world", we're still of the Luciferian consciousness. God's Grace is not of this world of duality and karma.

WHAT IS GOD ? (And how to contact God )

Many entities have heard it said that we must come to love God above all else in life before we can know the meaning or purpose of existence. But most entities, conditioned to the programming of the "rational mind", have difficulty forming a concept of God they can love.

A primitive Aborigine, on the other hand, is not crippled in this way. Perhaps we in our "enlightened", scientific society could take a lesson from the Primitives on the nature of Reality. An Aborigine knows that the heavens throb with life just as his own innards do. He knows, without the process of analysis or deductive reasoning, that he is a part of the heavens, and that the intelligence and emotions within him are also in the heavens. He calls the heavens his Sky Father and the earth his Mother. He knows that the continuity of love between the heavens and the earth is causal to all that appears in form. He doesn't stop to reason or analyze why he knows it. He hasn't degenerated that far yet. The Aborigine hasn't yet developed the "rational" thinking process that thinks it knows something apart from its Creator. The childlike, pure consciousness of the Aborigines and "primitives" is the closest thing today to the Adam-state.

It's as natural and normal for the primitive to love nature and the Creator as for a child to love its parents. To these people, life is their religion, and all their waking activities are predicated on their relationship to Sky Father and Mother Earth. They would have no reality apart from their Living Religion. (Many of these people, like the American Indians, have been robbed of their pure religion by foreign invaders professing "Christianity".)

But the primitives who still survive today are mankind's closest living link to the true God-State of man. Gurus and Saints and Yogis and mystics have to spend their lives and energies seeking and holding the Reality that the primitive has never lost. Yet it is to that childlike and innocent purity that the entire race must return.

God has been called the Cosmos, the Universe, the 'Self-that-appears-as-man', the 'One-who-appears-as-the-Many', and many other names familiar in religion, as well as 'Higher Consciousness'. God is all of these things. God is the thermonuclear Primal Particle that radiates and sustains the visible universe as well as all the planes of Hyperspace. God is the All-Intelligence of all the planes put together. God is the great living, emoting Being who is the universe, and we are the "cells" in the Body of God. Just as each cell in our bodies contains a perfect DNA replica of our body, we are the "DNA" in the Body of God.

Just as each cell in our bodies is in perfect "communication" with the rest of the body through the nerves, so we are in communication with the Universe through the chakras.

The Universe, the Self, the Cosmic One,—that is the God man has forgotten. The "rational mind", the Lucifer, which separated man from God, was just like separating cells from a living body and trying to make them function. The "rational mind" closed down the chakras one by one, separating man from God just as surely as slicing the nerves in a living body. And so the Law of Karma had to be imposed to keep man alive at all in this dissociated, disconnected state.

The reopening of the chakras—that is man's restoration to his native state of Oneness with God. But how do you reopen the chakras? How do you "reach up" and get ahold of God?

Through the ages, man has tried, through yoga, through "good works" and charity, through drugs, through Kundalini, through aestheticism and monasticism and a thousand other ism's, to somehow "get" or earn Oneness with God. But the way is strewn with the bones of those who tried, and they take birth again and yet again to try new and different ism's. And the wheel of karma ground on and on, perpetuating the Luciferian Experiment.

But there is only one way to God. And that is to love God above any other love. And then the chakras open automatically. When you begin with the pure love for God, and fervently want to be a surrendered vessel of God, the chakras open like flowers blooming in the spring rain. You don't have to force the chakras, as you do in many yogas and spiritual disciplines. Pure love, pure devotion to God, is the highest way. But it doesn't come cheap. Often it costs all else in life, even your closest kin and friends. Very often it costs all your ego and self-esteem. Serving the Great Self most always requires the crucifixion of the little self. This is the cost of being a fully-surrendered vessel of the Cosmic One. It permits you to sever all karmic ties to the world, and often demands that you do. This is because "this world" is an artificial system apart from God, and God is not involved in the affairs of "this world". (True, "this world" contains the polarities of good and evil, and good does derive from God. But the true state of Oneness is above the duality of "this world", and is therefore beyond karma.) As Christ told his disciples, "Leave your nets (of karma) and follow me". God is not harnessed even to the "good" of this world. But a true disciple is harnessed to God, and must be prepared to follow the Higher Reality even when it appears evil in the sight of the world. "This world" is not the Real world.

So to the question, "What is God"? there can be as many answers as there are disciples. God has many faces, and each face is God. What is your concept of God? Is it the High Self of every human, who is simultaneously the Self of the Cosmos, just as the image in a camera is of the outside scene? Perhaps you see God best in the beauty of nature, or in the stars, or in the crashing surf. Perhaps the voice of God speaks to you on the peal of the summer thunder, or in the song of a bird. Maybe the flight of an eagle lifts your soul into rapture.

God is the All. All that is in its natural, unspoiled form, all that has not been marred by the greed of the Luciferian consciousness, is God, to the eye that can see.

The beauty of a woman, the perfection of all her parts, and the cosmic glory of lovemaking can be the ultimate experience of God.

The human mind or human speech cannot begin to encompass God or to define God. Each seeker, every soul who would know Reality, must find his or her own best concept of God. And to that God must be addressed the fervent prayer: "not my will but Thine be done". And there must be the willingness to let go of all that is not God if need be. That is the first step on the road to Reality. Until there is this first step of pure surrender, karma must go on, and the wheel of rebirth will roll on and on.

Very often when the heart truly yields in pure surrender, there comes a touch, an anointing, as though from an angel hand, right on the top of the head. Sometimes this "touch" is hardly noticeable and may not be regarded as significant. But it is the Crown Chakra trying to ignite. Signals from the heart of the universe are trying to tap through. This touch may seem just too simple or too subtle to mean anything. But God first comes as a "still small voice", buried under the din an cacophony of the outer world. And the chakras first begin to open as a "still small touch". We are concerned here primarily with the 8th, or Crown Chakra (not to be confused with the 'thousand petaled lotus', which is the 7th chakra.) Many other gurus and teachings specialize in the lower chakras (up to the 7th).

The 8th chakra is the "Bliss at the top of the head". This current will rise in waves as it builds up, and will flow and cascade down over the whole body, like gushes from a cosmic fountain. As you yield and surrender into this Bliss, mentalizing the concept "not my will but Thine be done", you are actually communicating with the universe, with God. The universe hears the concept of what your mind is saying, though not the actual words. If the universe hears a call of pure, surrendered devotion, it will answer back. It answers in concepts, which flash back into the mind, and the mind translates into words or speech. When this Cosmic Contact is established, it is a direct, 2-way "telephone link" to the heart of God. (To a Buddhist, who does not believe in a Cosmic Deity, the "link" would simply be to the 'Higher Self' within.) Whether to the Higher Self or the Cosmic Self, the 'link' is to God, and direct communication, or Enlightenment takes place.

The 'current' going through the top of the head may rise to intensities that seem nearly overwhelming, and for this reason is sometimes called the 'Higher Orgasm'. In this type of Enlightenment, it is the Crown Chakra that opens first, and then the energy works downward, clicking the lower chakras into resonance. This is in contrast to other methods, which begin with the lower chakras, trying to work upward.

When the chakras fall into resonance, there is an in-flow of energy from the various planes of the universe, which, under perfect attunement, will eliminate all need for physical food or sustenance. Yet physical strength and stamina increase, the mind and senses become honed and heightened, and you experience the native, natural state of man, the way it was in the Beginning.

A devotee who experiences this state may try to carry it back into the world, and may find that it will not function in the world. He may find, after several attempts, that the Light of God is not meant for "this world", but is meant only for bringing in the Real World and doing away with "this world" altogether. It may take several attempts, lighting the chakra and then losing it, to learn to 'let go' and let the Christ-Experience lead where it may. This channel had several heart-breaking attempts like this, before learning to "let go and let God". The Crown Chakra will stay lit once you let God have His own way.

Sometimes the current through the Crown Chakra, during its peak intensities, causes a crackling, gritting sensation in the vertebra of the neck, but this goes away after awhile. The energy is "clearing the circuits" through long-unused channels.

Some of the writings of the American guru Bubba Free John are worthwhile reading, particularly concerning the surrender to the "Bliss at the top of the head". This is 8th plane material. Some of Free John's other teachings may not appeal to entities, but there is much Light that can be gleaned from Free John's channel.*

So what is God? No single answer, or a million answers, can ever adequately tell.

Perhaps the answer is this: God is whatever your heart is set on, whatever you truly feel you couldn't live without. Your "god" may be your money, your prestige, your family, your home and possessions. Or, God may be the One who is causal to all that appears to be. If this One is the single Reality that you cannot live without, to whom you will surrender all else, then you ARE an embodied vessel of that One. And by direct perception, through your own Inner Knowing, you will have your own answer to "What is God?"

*The address of Bubba Free John's book is listed on the last page of 'Letters from Bill' No. 8.

CONCERNING THE "BIG PERSON" OF GOD

The totality of God could never be comprehended by the 6 senses except through metaphor and symbol. That's why religions pictured God as a "big person". What they couldn't understand intellectually they had to picture symbolically. And their love for Deity had to be directed to this imaginary "Big Person". But that didn't make it any less real.

The consciousness of the Universe, which ebbs and flows across the vastness of space, is duplicated in its entirety in the human being. The human is the "miniature" of the Universe, the actual form of the Unformed.

Working down through all the "planes" or vibration-rates, the Universe develops the forms that eventually appear in dense matter. But even that dense matter, vibrating at the slowest and lowest rate, contains within it, all the vibration-rates of the Universe. The higher rates simply appear as finer and finer grids of waves, in between the atoms of matter. These finer systems of waves, that interpenetrate matter and fill all of space, are the substance of the "ether", or non-physical. Yet they are the vehicles of mind, psyche, spirit, etc.

So the imaginary 'Big Person' is actually the Consciousness embodied in man himself, identical to and resonating to the Consciousness of the Cosmos.

The same light that shines through the shutter of a movie projector also illumines the screen; the only difference is in the "stepping down" of the image from a macro cosmic to micro cosmic level. That's sort of a hazy analogy.

The key to understanding this "stepping-down" action lies in the speed of light and its higher ranges of velocity, which form the planes of Hyperspace or "heaven". They are identical to the vibration-rates of mind, psyche, spirit, etc., which appear in man. (That manuscript "8 of Infinity" explains this in much greater detail.)*

THE UNREALITY OF "DEATH"

The subject of death has been a source of untold and needless confusion to the human race. The separation from the physical body that occurs in so-called "death" is in reality no more a mystery than the separation of a butterfly from its cocoon or of a baby from the womb. Does the fetus "die" when it leaves the womb? Or does the caterpillar "die" just because it becomes a butterfly?

Our modern "enlightened", scientific age, which denies the metaphysical side of reality, is the source of the stupid and unnecessary fears connected with leaving the body. Our stalwart age of "science" has emancipated us from the superstitions of bygone times; but our "science" so-called has itself become the superstition. Our "science", dressed in a tuxedo and sporting an armload of PHD's, has become the harbinger of ignorance and fear. It is a false science, because it deals only in effects. It deals only with the physical world while denying the metaphysical. And the metaphysical is the cause of all that appears in the physical. The causal world, the root-source of this world of effects, is what "science" refuses to look at. And that is why a science that deals in effects only has to be relegated to the category of superstition. In not considering both sides of reality, present-day science is a stooge and a charlatan, irrespective of the great "advances" it has made in the world of effects. And the ignorance and fear of death is one of the "gifts" of modern science. An Aboriginal tribesman knows more about Reality than all of modern "science" put together. That tribesman lives in contact with the causal world, which is the Source of all that still mystifies science. And to the Aborigine, "death" holds no mystery or fear. He knows that this body is just a temporary husk for a short sojourn here on the earth. And then upon putting aside the husk, he returns to the world he came from, the great Dreamtime out among the lights in the sky. The tribesman never lost contact with Reality, because he never got corrupted with the "enlightenment" of so-called civilization and science. "This world", which has come to be accepted as reality by most of the human race, is a stupid and idiotic illusion. And 'this world's' concepts of death are some of the stupidest of its illusions.

First off, there is no such thing as "death". This is a Universe of Life. There is only life. When life completes a cycle of existence in one form, it moves on to another, sometimes leaving behind a husk or a "shell" that it carried for its development in one stage. That shell may be a cocoon, an embryonic sac from the womb, an old tree trunk, a sea shell, or a human body. But the Life, the living entity that inhabited those forms, never dies. And leaving the old form should be no more traumatic or mysterious than taking off an overcoat.

[ At this point this channel would like to acknowledge and praise the work of Dr. Elizabeth Kubler-Ross and Dr. Raymond Moody for their pioneering work in understanding the "death" experience. These entities, working under the scrutiny of their colleagues in orthodox science and psychology, have "parted the veil" and revealed the reality of the Other Side of Life. Their finding, as revealed by thousands of clinical cases of patients who have "returned", show the universality of life both in this world and the next. This channel would heartily recommend the reading of these entities works.* The book, The Tiger's Fang, by the ECK Master Sri Paul Twitchell is also an excellent treatise on the "many mansions" of reality on the other side. The Tibetan Book of the Great Liberation* is also excellent. A reading called "A Journey up Through the Planes" by this channel (Bill) is also recommended. ]

So what actually happens when an entity leaves the temple of clay for the journey back to the causal side of reality? At the present stage of human unfoldment, about 80 to 90 percent of all entities go no farther than the astral plane or 2nd plane. There, they dwell in the astral body in an environment patterned very much like the earth-plane familiar to humanity at large. The astral world, composed of substance of 8 times finer mesh than the physical, is home to the great bulk of the human race between embodiments. The astral world extends upward from the earth's physical surface a score of miles or so, as the so-called Astral Sphere of the planet.

More evolved entities (the 10-20/ minority), upon leaving the physical form, shed their astral body as well. They discard this astral shell in the same sense as they did the physical. They are now in the Mental body, made of substance 8 times finer than the astral. In this finer body, they can travel on up to the Mental plane or 3rd sphere of the planet, which lies several hundred miles out into space. This is a much vaster domain than the astral sphere, and is made up of pure mind-substance. The environment is created and patterned by the minds of the entities dwelling on this plane. It reflects their more-evolved consciousness. It contains beautiful landscapes and great bodies of water and teems with friendly, unfeared animals and birds of all kinds. The human entities there have established many institutions, temples, and Halls of Learning. There are great museums, halls of invention, and musical symphonic halls dotting the length and breadth of this realm. The "heavenly cities" of most orthodox religions are found here.

[ Three excellent books dealing specifically with the 3rd or Mental plane are these:

"Here And Hereafter", "Life in the World Unseen", "More About Life in the World Unseen". These are all by the same author, Anthony Borgia. They are excellent works.

ED's Note: For years CAC was able to obtain these three books, but we have been informed they are out of print. They are published in England. However, certain spiritualist publications and groups may still have copies for sale. Also book finders may be able to locate.

The 4th plane or "Ethereic" domain is of a substance 8 times finer in mesh than the Mental, yet interpenetrates the Mental just as the Mental interpenetrates the Astral (and the Astral the physical). But the Etheric also extends far out into space, in a sphere encompassing the orbit of the moon. This extremely vast, etheric domain is the home of very evolved entities. They shed their Astral and Mental bodies between incarnations, retaining only the Etheric. In the Etheric body, they dwell here on the 4th plane sometimes for thousands of years of earth-time, and are often visited by Masters and Adepts from the planes beyond the 4th. The denizens of the 4th plane, when they embody on the earth, are the true Saints and workers of charity and loving service in the karmic world. They are the Earth's great Overcomers and masters in the arena of karma. Although they are not technically Avatars since they are still under karma, they rank alongside the true Avatars in this world simply by virtue of their purity and holiness. In this sense, this channel classes them as Avatars. They embodied from a very high realm, which, though not entirely karmaless, may be considered as a "God-Realm". That is the 4th plane, the Etheric sphere of the planet.

So far, does "death" still have any meaning to you? The very concept of "death" is so utterly meaningless and stupid that it should be struck out of the dictionary, and will be in the New Age. There is nothing in this Universe that is not Life, and Life only changes from one form or mode of expression to another. Life does not "die", and cannot die.

A funeral or a wake is an exercise in absurdity and foolishness. The dirge, the sadness and grief, are all so needless and unwarranted. In many cases, the "deceased" is right there in the funeral parlor in the astral, vainly yelling to dense, unhearing ears, "Hey you guys, I'm not dead. I'm right here! What's all this silly fuss about, anyway?"

In many cases, a family's grief over a departed loved one becomes a psychic bondage, a virtual chain of imprisonment to the entity, and prevents him or her from going on into those areas where he's supposed to go. Grief over a departed entity is SELFISHNESS. It is possessive, unmitigated selfishness to grieve or hold onto an entity this way, and is a terrible disservice and bondage to the entity.

In the Unity Magazine put out by the Unity movement, there was an article called "Angel Tears". It was about a little girl who had crossed over, and her father's grief was so great that the little girl was locked in limbo, unable to progress on. She was finally forced to appear to her dad in astral vision, and told him, "Daddy, don't cry for me any more. I can't go and be with the angels if you hold on to me this way." The vision was so profound that it broke the man's grief and he did let her go, full of new-found assurance of the reality of life on the Other Side. There is a saying, "If you truly love something, let it go. If it comes back, it's yours. If not, it never was."

And this saying is profoundly true concerning "death" and our relationship to the one who has crossed over. Untold damage and misery is heaped onto departed entities by the selfish, possessive grief of entities on "this side". If you truly love the departed one with an unselfish love, let him or her go. Wish them Godspeed and blessing and happiness in their new home. That is the only way to express love to a departed entity. We'll meet them again, anyway, when we cross over.

* CAC stocks most of these books. The Tibetan Book of the Great Liberation, $5.95. Dr. Moody's books, "Life After Life", $2.75; "Reflections on Life After Life", $1.95; Elizabeth Kubler-Ross's books, "Death, the Final Stage of Growth", $2.95; "On Death and Dying", $2.45; "To Live Until We Say Good-Bye", $5.95.

Funerals desperately need to be abolished from this plane, and will be. They are a hold-over from an age of dark ignorance and superstition, and this ignorance is perpetuated in the guise of "enlightened" science. A "Departure Service" for the departed one should replace the dark and ignorant funeral. An entity's time of crossing over is a happy, festive time. He has "graduated" from another round of learning, and has gone back home for a sabbatical and rest, a well-earned "R & R" from the wheel of embodiment. This is the spirit of the true Departure Service. It's an occasion that should be just as happy and festive (if not more so) as a birthday.

Entities on this plane desperately need to wake up to the true facts surrounding the illusion called 'death'. Not only can they save themselves much unneeded grief, but they can, more importantly, do great service to loved ones on the Other Side. Sending them happiness and joy and blessing is the greatest service we can render.

So far this reading has dealt with life in the 4 lower planes, the so-called "4 quadrants of Mater". Mind and matter, being different densities of the same thing, make up these 4 realms known esoterically as "Earth, Water, Air and Fire."

1. PHYSICAL PLANE - "EARTH"
2. ASTRAL PLANE - "WATER"
3. MENTAL PLANE - "AIR"
4. ETHERIC PLANE - "FIRE"

Part 2 of this reading will deal with the 4 upper planes, the realms of Spirit, which are truly the Causal planes to all below. The Cosmic Mystery of "death" and sex will be integrated in Part 2, and will demonstrate that even in the Cosmic Dissolution, the so-called "Night of Brahma", there is truly no such thing as death. The 'Yugas' or Cycles of Brahma are only the changing of old creation into new. There is only the transforming of one cycle of life into another, even on the Brahmnic, Cosmic scale. And man has a heritage in infinity that transcends even the cycles of Brahma.

THE UNREALITY OF 'DEATH' (Part 2)

Part 1 of this reading dealt with the 4 lower planes of reality, the so-called "4 quadrants of Matter" which make up the physical and psychic worlds. This is the realm governed by the Law of Karma, and entities living on any of these 4 lower planes are subject to reincarnation.

It was demonstrated that entities of the 4th plane level of consciousness are the giants and overcomers, the true Saints and champions of the karmic world. When these entities' karmic mastery exceeds 51% of their total karma, they are eligible to become Ascended Masters of the planes beyond the 4th. These true Masters of karma, in the Ascension, still must absolve their residual karma through Grace, or conditionless surrender to God. Thus they are freed from the 4 lower planes and go on to the planes of Spirit to take their appointed seats in the Hierarchy or "Great White Brotherhood". Such Masters as St. Francis, the Apostle Paul, and George Washington gained their Ascension from the ranks of the 4th plane giants.

The actual 'home turf' of the 4th plane is a sphere surrounding the planet and reaches out approximately as far as the orbit of the moon.

Entities of the 4th sphere are able to travel to all the other planets of our solar system. Thus it is said that their field of influence encompasses the solar system. It is still centered on the home planet however, and is still karmically bound to the planet. Thus even the 4th-plane entities are bound to reembodiment until they come under the higher law of Grace, which frees them from all karma.

The absolute and profound reality of life on the higher spheres---ie., the Astral, Mental, and Etheric, should be a source of comfort and reassurance to entities of the physical plane. The reality of reincarnation and the continuity of life between embodiments should be recognized and taught by all clergy, scientists, and psychologists. If it were, entities on this plane would have a much clearer grasp of Reality, and they would be free of the dread and superstition connected with "death".

Western Christianity became the perpetrator of the "death" hoax primarily at the Council of Nicea in the 6th Century. The Justinian-Theodora edicts kicked the teachings of reincarnation out of the Bible for the simple reason that reincarnation clashed with the Roman Emperors' claim to deity. So the "Christian" doctrine denying reincarnation became the official teaching of the church, and this teaching has prevailed to this day in all of orthodox Christianity. This belief in no reincarnation became the great superstition that modern 'science' perpetuated all the more. Science itself, purporting to know the nature of reality through observation of effects, became the Great Superstition all dressed up in modern garb. But modern science, which is only a pseudo-science, only an extension of the same reasoning that declared the earth to be flat, only served to perpetuate the medieval ignorance concerning "death". And the Great Superstition continued unabated, and is just beginning to be pierced by the pioneering work of entities such as Elizabeth Kubler-Ross and Dr. Moody. These entities work within the framework of orthodox science itself, which makes their work all the more significant in terms of breaching the superstitions of "science".

Just the knowledge of reincarnation and the 4 lower planes, the knowledge that our loved ones are not "dead" and that we will meet them again should be firmly taught on this plane. This alone would dispel the appalling ignorance and fear surrounding the change called "death".

Now. The Law of Grace, which is pure, conditionless surrender to God, is the "instant Liberty", the freedom from all karma and rebirth forever more. It is available to all entities regardless of their level of karmic mastery. Entities of low karmic mastery (less than 51%) can gain the Ascension purely by Grace, which is the breaking of all karmic ties in pure surrender to God. Grace was the radically-new teaching that Jesus brought to the Jewish people that could have freed them once and for all from the national karma that had hounded them from ancient times. The Apostles of Jesus later expanded Grace to include all of the non-Jewish world. Centuries before the time of Jesus, Krishna brought the same teaching to India under the name of Bhakti-yoga, or Pure Devotion to God.

Grace or Bhakti frees an entity from karma, frees him or her from all ties to the home planet, and permits Ascension into the karmaless realms of Spirit. Entities who ascend in this manner, even though they are not Masters or overcomers in the karmic arena, are freed forever from rebirth. They become the Wanderers or 'Star Children' of the high planes of Celestria. Their plane of Ascension can be of the 5th, 6th, 7th, or even the 8th. It depends solely on the fervency of their love for God. As Jesus said, "He who is forgiven much loveth much". Love, pure toward God, is the key to Ascension even when the entity is not a master of karma. The Star Children do not hold seats in the Hierarchy, even though they may ascend to a higher plane than many levels of the Hierarchy. This is the spirit of the scripture that says, "The first shall be last and the last (or least) shall be first". [ Rhyee ascended to the 8th plane purely by Grace. ]

The vast karmaless realms of Hyperspace or Celestria are explained more fully in the reading called "A Journey Up Through the Planes", and need not be repeated here. The 4 planes of Spirit, culminating in the 8th plane, are the birthright and heritage of all entities. And more than this, all humans are heirs to the vastness of Infinity beyond the 8 planes.

Brahma is the deity of the 8th plane. And Brahma is a subordinate deity to man, as Krishna plainly taught in the Bhagavad-Gita. Brahma is also the "Father" of most religious traditions. But when human entities awaken to their fullest potential as heirs of Infinity, they see Brahma as He really is.

Brahma is OUR UNIVERSE. There is an aspect of Brahma that undergoes creation and dissolution in the so-called life and "death" of Brahma. In communing with Brahma, you can contact that aspect of the Universal Consciousness that actually laments its own dissolution.

All that exists at any point in time, all that makes up the collective Consciousness of Brahma, is transitory and temporal, like waves marching across a pond. And it is that portion, that aspect of the Consciousness of the Universe, that feels itself to be mortal and subject to creation and dissolution.

This channel would like to point out that this is an illusion. Like the "death" of the physical body of man, the so-called 'death' of Brahma is only a metamorphosis from one form of life to another. Man never dies, even though he may pass from one experience to another in different embodiments. And likewise, Brahma never dies, even though the experiences that make up the collective consciousness of Brahma do arise and abide and pass away. And new experience, new realities, arise in place of the old within the allness of Brahma. It's like an entity who passes from the 1st to the 2nd grade. He "dies" as a 1st grader, and he may lament and mourn his "death" as a 1st grader. But he has not "died" at all, but merely moved on to new experience and new frontiers. The illusion of the "death" of Brahma is like this. And the death of man is likewise purely an illusion. Man can actually chide Brahma for this needless lamenting of the illusion of "death".

In the Primal Particle at the core of the Universe is found the secret of life and "death". Old, inbound material is devoured through the poles of the Primal Particle in the thermonuclear-sexual "orgasm" that explodes again as a new creation. This is the continuously-running thermonuclear "Engine" that powers and sustains the whole Universe. It is the simultaneous "death" and reborning of old creation into new. The so-called 'Night of Brahma' or 'death of Brahma' is not "death" at all. It is not the cessation of existence at all, which the word "death" implies. It is only the metamorphosis, the changing of experience, the passing away of old and the reborning of the new in the continuous stream of Life and Consciousness. Brahma does not die at all, even though an aspect of Brahma's consciousness feels that it does. It is only the dying to old experience and the reborning to new experience in the eternal Lifestream that is the Universe.

Creation and Dissolution, the 2 poles of life, run continuously and simultaneously, entering and exiting the Primal Particle in the eternal union of Alpha and Omega, the Father and Mother, the Beginning and the End. Yet there is no beginning or end to life and existence. There is only the continuously-interchanging Poles of life, the reborning of new creation for the experience of life and the dissolving of old creation that has served its purpose as a vehicle of life. But life itself is eternal, and never dies. Only the forms and vehicles arise and abide and pass away. And the physical body of man is a reflection of this. It is only a temporary vehicle for the expression of life. And that life, the living entity that is man, lives forever and inhabits Eternity. Man has a heritage far greater than Brahma. For man is a denizen of Infinity, a native of the realms beyond the 8 planes of Brahma.

So in considering the matter of "death", we can truthfully say that no such thing exists, nor can exist. There is only Life. And though that life may pass from one experience to another and move through many planes and dimensions of Reality, Life can never die. No human entity can ever die (except by self-willed exile in the astral planes of Limbo. And even that is not a permanent condition).

This channel would like to be facetious for a moment and say this: If you want to believe in "death", then there is only one condition that can possibly fit the definition of the word. And that is maya, the belief in an existence apart from God. The descent into the consciousness of "this world", cut off from conscious contact with the Cosmos, is the only possible "death" that there is. The condition of loving the things of "this world" in place of loving God, is the only "death" that there can be.

A society predicated on an existence apart from God is a society rooted in "death". The mesmerized, zombie-like consciousness of 'this world' of the walking dead is the only thing that can fit the description.

But the New Age, the return to God under the Law of Grace, is the Resurrection of man foretold in the Bible. The return to Cosmic Consciousness in Pure Surrender to the Great Self, is the only true life of man. It is what the Bible calls the passage from 'death' into life, the raising up of the Christ, the True Self, in every human entity.

So "death" is only a metaphor for maya. That is the only "death" that there is in this Universe of Life.

"THIS WORLD" IS ALIEN TO THIS PLANET

To the people of earth, the term 'alien' has come to mean extra-terrestrial, or non-indigenous to the planet earth. But the truth is, the ENTIRE SOCIETY AND CIVILIZATION UPON THIS PLANET IS ALIEN TO THIS PLANET.

Think on that for a moment.

In the original Pure state of man, when he walked in Oneness with God, the earth upon which he walked was also pure and natural. The earth was unspoiled and unraped and unravaged, because she was regarded by man as sacred and holy. Man knew the earth as the Womb of Life, the very Mother-Side of God, just as the Aborigines and "primitive" people still do today. Think of how the earth was when God walked fully conscious here as Adam and Eve--the very Sons and Daughters of Infinity--how they tended and kept the land and lived in harmony with nature. In the dim-past annals of Akasha, it is recorded that the earth itself glowed softly in Cosmic Light, a light energized by the consciousness of human entities dwelling here.

And then came the "fall"---when the Alien Force entered the consciousness of man.

The Alien Force is the separative ego. It is the idea of man-apart-from-God. It is the Luciferian Experiment, which pulled man ever-downward into the bizarre and unnatural dream-state in which he finds himself now. And so man, not God, is the creator of this society and civilization--'this world' of the 20th Century A.D. "This world" is alien and foreign to this planet. It is alien and foreign to the normal and natural Consciousness of man. That is why True Consciousness does not recognize "this world" as the Real world. True Consciousness says, "No, 'this world' must end and shall end."

Not even the greatest Saints and the mightiest Overcomers of 'this world' are entirely free of 'this world's' karma. And as long as there is karma, 'this world', the world of man separate from God, goes on. So karma must end. The separative ego must end. The idea of God and man must end. That is the ending of the Dark Force and the banishing of the alien consciousness from the earth. It is the transcending Grace of the Law of the One---man's Pure Surrender back into God.

Cosmic Awareness has said that entities need to become balanced at all levels of development--the physical, the mental, and the spiritual. And that is precisely why 'this world', this alien, artificial, unnatural, ego-centered consciousness has to be banished from this planet. Only then can there be balanced, natural development of the body, mind, and soul. Such development is impossible in 'this world'.

Entities who are truly God-Realized walk as freaks and outcasts in 'this world'. But now is the time for the rising of this world, this alien perverted world into God-Realization. This is the destruction of the antichrist--the death of the separative ego on this planet and the restoration of man to his native state as God incarnate. For even as the earth glowed in Light in the beginning, she will shine again, only brighter now by far---as she illuminates the heavens as the glorious Freedom Star.

INTERCESSION AND HYPERTIME

The 'Eternal Now' of Akasha has been referred to as the 'spiritual airplane' from which you can look down and see past and future extending in both directions. And you look at the "present" and see it as just a single point running along the 'railroad track' of time. The 'spiritual airplane' of Higher Consciousness is Hypertime, the Eternal Now.

Time, just like space, has 8 planes, or 'dimensions'. Time and space are the 2 polarities, the 2 reciprocals of all Creation. As you ascend the planes of consciousness, you tap into more and more expansive domains of space and more and more expansive domains of time as well. As you go up in your 'spiritual airplane', you can see farther and farther into the past and future; it's just like going up in a physical airplane--you can see farther and farther over the horizons. The higher you go in Hyperspace and Hypertime, the more irrelevant "the present" becomes. Finally, in the 8th plane of Consciousness, you see the beginning and the end of time itself--the "Birth and Death of Brahma" in the thermonuclear fireball of the Primal Particle.

From your vantage point in Hypertime, you can look down and assess all the switches and alternative routes that can be selected for time to follow. And by taking physical birth, you actually gain access to the "switch handles" for re-routing the 'train' of time. This is essentially the way Intercession works. The first phase of Intercession may be "computer controlled" by pre-programming. But then your Awakening must come while you're still in embodiment, or else there's no way you can return to the realm you came from. Your Awakening also puts you consciously back in Hypertime (as well as Hyperspace), and you consciously understand what you're doing in the earth. Your intuition, your Inner Voice tells you, drawing directly from Akasha.

The Avatars who came in to do the Great Intercession truly volunteered for the rottenest, stinkingest, dirtiest job of cesspool-cleaning in all the Cosmos. Many are the angels and Cosmic Beings who wouldn't touch this place with a 20-foot pole. They prefer to do what they can from their nice, safe vantage point, untouched by the muck and the slime and the offal of this cosmic cesspool. But the Avatars came down from that comfort and safety of Home, and DID something---something that could only be done by putting on the "diving suit", and diving down here where they could actually "throw the switches" and re-route this world upward into the Resurrection. The Avatars bore the incredible karmic backlash that this world should've bore itself. And because the Avatars bore the karma of this world's liberalism, its greed, its crime, and its hate, this world still exists here in the year of our Lord 1981. And that is why this channel shall violently oppose those philosophies which almost destroyed the world and cost the Avatars so much in pain and suffering.

In the conscious Awakening now of the Avatars, the significance of Hypertime or the Eternal Now comes into play as never before. When you awake in Consciousness, when the chakra is open, WHAT YOU DECREE IS ESTABLISHED AS FACT. In the Awakened state, you dwell in the Eternal Now, and by your decree, you have thrown the switch re-routing events to that fulfillment. Because you are also in flesh, the energy of your decree connects directly into the energy-patterns of this plane, rather than filtering down from rarified stations of the Hierarchy. That is why the embodied Avatar, when he is Awake, wields the most powerful magic on this plane. And that is why the entire Avataric Company MUST now awaken---to begin Phase 2 of the mission we came here for.

"The earth is ascended and free"---present tense---it is established as fact. It matters not one whit that it hasn't manifested on the visible level yet---it is still established as fact. When you mail a letter, you "address" it. It doesn't matter that the letter may take 2 days to get to the addressee. Your letter to him is still established as fact. The letter IS. In the same way, whatever is "addressed" or decreed in Hypertime or the Eternal Now, IS established as fact. On the mundane level, it may take X number of days or weeks or years to manifest visibly. But that is irrelevant. It still IS. It is established as fact. It is decreed in Hypertime by God---by the Avatar---by man awake in Consciousness.

Sometimes even without a conscious Awakening the Avatars energize events in Hypertime. This happened in Dr. Beter's "Skoptsi" symbolism. The motive and intent of the heart, if it is pure, is decreed as fact using allegory and symbol of the outer mind. Thus Dr. Beter's statement, "The Skoptsis have taken over Russia" meant at the level of Reality: "Christ has taken over the world". And that is the event that was energized in Hypertime by Dr. Beter.

Decreeing in Hypertime is the so-called "time-warp" or time-jump referred to in previous readings.

But in the conscious Awakening, the outer mind knows what is going on at the Superconscious level, and there is no confusion and misunderstanding like there was in Dr. Beter's channelings.* (Actually, Providence allowed that confusion, as a lesson in perceiving the nature of allegory. The lessons in unravelling the 'Skoptsis' mystery should stand as an example in all future cases of allegory).

So the motive of the heart must be pure. And the outer mind must be fully yielded to the intent of the heart. Then mind and Spirit function in harmony. The natural craving of the human spirit is to return to God, to the Source. And the only legitimate use of the mind is to serve as the channel of God here in the matter-plane. There is no other valid use of the mind or senses.

When the mind and Spirit are fully in harmony, then God can use the mind for decreeing His will in the affairs of the world. God may use the mind to decree such events as these:

"The earth is ascended and free".

"The Rothschilds are repenting and being forgiven."

"The Avatars are awakening".

"The Light Workers and Saints and anointed ones are awakening".

"Light is infusing the earth, at all levels of consciousness".

"The Robotoids and all puppet leaders are under the Light Force".

"Christ is risen in the consciousness of man".

"Christ is born in the manger of earth".

As these decrees are anchored in the highest plane of Mind (4th, or Etheric), they are simultaneously anchored in the Etheric plane of the planet. There, they irradiate and bathe the planet with healing and Light, purifying and uplifting the mass minds and karmic elementals of all the earth's cultures and societies. All the divergent factions and camps are then raised out of their warring and fighting and karma, into the Clear Light.

This is all done by decreeing PRESENT TENSE in the Eternal Now of Hypertime. And then IT IS.

The decrees must be continuously renewed and strengthened and nourished by daily rites of meditation and magic. And like any seedling or young plant, they must not be neglected. The negative momentums still operating in the world are the "tares" and the "weeds" that must not be allowed to encroach on the decrees of Light. Most importantly, we do not "attack" the tares and the weeds. Rather, we add more Light, more acceleration, more Love to the rites of magic every day. This is the Power of Innocence, "The Force" of Conditionless Love, which overcomes and heals the darkest of all things. That is the Law of the One.

' THIS WORLD ' IS NOT THE TRUE EARTH

Some entities who have been reading these channelings may have been confused by the term "this world".

"This world" refers to the society, the civilization that man has set up apart from God. This channel refers to it as the artificial world or the 'plastic world'. Eastern mystics refer to it as maya, or illusion. More accurately, it is ROOTED in maya or illusion-rooted in separateness from God, and is therefore artificial.

When human consciousness returns to God, returns to its native Christ-state, then 'this world' will be abolished. But the plane the physical orb we call earth will be healed and cleansed of all the ravages and outrages that man has committed against it. The planet, the earth, is our Divine Mother, as the Indians and the Aborigines well know. And in the New Age, She will be revered and held sacred by all who walk in flesh. Nature, the Mother-side of Deify, will be cherished as 'Our Lady', our Mother, from whose fertile womb all life springs in the plane of matter.

April 5, 1981

Any entities who have been successful in opening the Crown Chakra may wish to join in doing Magic for the healing of the earth.

This channel has found a very simple procedure involving the use of a small specially-made globe as a "grounding" device. This is a six inch vinyl globe available from:

Hammond Globes, Inc.
515 Valley St
Maplewood, N.J. 07040

The globe is model No. 5402-8. Retail price is $8.50 plus about $3.00 shipping. This globe is also sold in map stores, (also some stationary and office supply stores).

The reason that this particular globe is well-suited to healing rites is this: It has no obstructing frame over its northern hemisphere, which permits perfectly free hand motion on the globe for developing an ether vortex. Also, the vinyl composition of the globe generates a high-voltage electric field which works in conjunction with the ether vortex.

With the Crown Chakra open, and with a deep feeling of reverence for God and the earth, hold the little globe against the heart chakra, using the left hand. This can be done either sitting or in the lotus posture, or lying down. If you lie down, your head should face north. And with the right hand, begin making CLOCKWISE rotary motions 'round and 'round on the little globe's northern hemisphere. Think of the globe as a living, breathing little creature that's been badly hurt and you're soothing it and loving it and healing it.

Let go of the 'rational mind' and all its arguments that try to say this is silly and superstitious. This is not superstition at all but is pure science, if you're doing it with the Crown Chakra open. You're using Sympathetic Transference, which operates through the subtle, finer planes of the universe, and is just as natural as puppy dogs and sunshine. It is not really 'magic' in the ultimate sense, because all you're doing is tapping the higher laws of Nature and Nature's God, which have been there all along. 'Magic' is only a relative term. To those conditioned to a finite, 3-dimensional way of thinking, anything beyond the 5 senses is 'magic'.

As you build up a vortex on the little globe using clockwise hand motion, what is happening is this: you are producing an identical vortex in the etheric space of this planet. Symbol and object are One when you do this with the Chakra open, in pure love for God and the earth.

While doing the rotary hand motions (this can be at any speed and manner that's comfortable, as long as the motion is clockwise), energize concepts like these:

- "The Earth is Ascended and free."
- "The Earth is risen in the Light".
- "Earth is coming Home."
- "The Earth is the Lord's and fulness thereof."
- "All Earth's dwellers are of one mind and spirit."

The idea is to energize the concept of Oneness and non-duality. THERE MUST BE NO THOUGHTS OF ATTACKING OR BEING "AGAINST" ANYTHING. This is very important. You are using 8th-plane Magic, which recognizes only pure Oneness; it recognizes no enemy, and is not "against" anything except maya, or separation from God. From the 8th plane, even Rothschild and the Luciferians are our fallen brothers and can be restored to the Light.

You will also feel an electric charge build up on the globe (provided you're using the model specified). This electric charge produces "mini-lightning bolts" which shoot continuously from your fingers while doing the hand motions. This is likened to the Kirlian effect, but you can see and feel this energy directly. While this energy appears first in the physical as ordinary static electricity, it also appears in the etheric. If your Crown Chakra is open, it will also register in Hyperspace, effectively "putting" your action out in cosmic space. Your primary attunement is in the 8th plane or 888, and appears also at half-octave, or 444. 444 is also the 4th plane, or Etheric sphere of the planet. The "bolts" shooting from your fingers appear in the Etheric body of the planet EXACTLY as they do on the little globe. What's more, these "bolts" are concentrated energy-links of Etheric light, and act as conductors for the thought-forms that you are energizing for the earth.

These initial exercises are for anchoring the energies primarily in the Etheric. The agents of 888 particularly should become adept at doing rites of this type. Then as the earth's consciousness rises to where it can accept greater Light, rituals will be developed for greater acceleration on the other intermediate planes as well. But right now, we're energizing primarily at the physical, the 888, and the 444.

Also, "selective Light treatments" can be given to any spot on the globe, just by focusing the rotary motion into a spiral down into that spot. Keep the motion clockwise in the northern hemisphere, or if you're working a spot in the southern hemisphere, be sure to make the motion counter-clockwise. The idea in these selective treatments is to channel greater energies of Light and love into any spot that needs extra attention. Again, there must be no concept of attacking or destroying anything, or this will neutralize the entire ritual. The only concept can be that of healing and loving and restoring all things to Christ-Consciousness—even the Luciferians.

The little globe doesn't have to be held continuously to the heart chakra if that is uncomfortable, but should be held there at frequent intervals during the rite. Also, the globe can be used either in or out of its holder. The rotary motions are not critical, but should generally work from the pole down toward the equator and back up, going up and down in somewhat of a spiral manner.

The rituals can be long or short in duration, depending on your inclination and feeling for it, and on how steadily the Crown Chakra can be held open. The deep-breathing exercises mentioned in previous readings help you draw very deeply and powerfully into the Crown Chakra.

ED's Note: Most C.A.C. members are participating in meditations and healing rituals of one kind or another. How about including this earth healing ritual of Bill's? Check your local map and office supply stores and pick up one of the Hammond globes Bill recommends. Bill has indicated previously he needs all the help he can get in this global healing project. He would also like to hear from others who are doing this particular ritual, so if enough of you out there are serious about this, please send in your name. Certain letters from Bill with additional helpful hints etc. can then be sent to you. This is a project that could grow very quickly and help bring the world into a peaceful balance and harmony in a short time.

THE NATURE OF THE 'BEAST'

The octopus is not the Jews, not the Zionists, and not even the Rothschilds. What is it then?

It is maya—the illusion of man separate from God. The antichrist is duality—the karmic system of man separated from his Creator. 666 is the number of man. Not a man, but man, period. The word a does not appear in the original text. The concept of separation from God—that is the meaning of 666—man's only enemy.
