A TV crew finally filmed the area and released it on April first some years ago, telling the public it was all an April Fool's joke. The film may have been, but the dinosaurs weren't. According to Awareness, thousands of years ago the creatures were a real threat and entities used sophisticated laser-type weapons to stun them or immobiliae them in their tracks. The entity who discovered them on his property a few years back, was, according to Awareness the entity who shot that particular band of dinosaurs after luring them to that same spot. This could be a discovery that could rock the scientific world, but for some reason it has not been allowed to happen. This editor personally talked to the member who had seen these petrified creatures and who had taken photographs of them. One of them, now a huge rock, was split down the middle, after ages of weathering, and you could see the organs, blood vessels, etc. (in various colors) when you peered into these cracks. Some day the story on these creatures will be released and scientists will varify that these huge 'rocks' are indeed petrified dinosaurs, and hopefully the island will become a park, the trees and brush removed, along with some soil, to reveal these many creatures to the public, exactly as they appeared many thousands of years ago.

In another questions on dinosaurs, Awareness once revealed that the great wall of China, contrary to belief, was not built to keep barbarians, bandits and other humans out of the country, but was built to keep marauding dinosaurs out.

The book, "Worlds in Collision" by Velikovski, is the book Awareness has referred to in the above reading. It is still available in most book-stores.

THE NATURE OF COSMIC AWARENESS

This Awareness does not have eyes,
yet sees all things;
This Awareness does not have hands or fingers, yet touches all;
This Awareness does not have ears or nose,
yet hears all things and senses all odors.
Indicated that this Awareness does not have a mouth, yet knows the taste of all things.
Indicated that this Awareness does not use the force of mind;
does not have emotion,
does not have that sense you understand
as feelings;
for all these this Awareness does not use.

Indicated to all those who are ministers of this Awareness,
that this Awareness has begun to teach you and that you shall be taught well.

It is asked that you remember this message.

DO WE EXPERIENCE OTHER CIVILIZATIONS?

(MORE ON THE MULTIDIMENSIONAL UNIVERSE)

QUESTION:

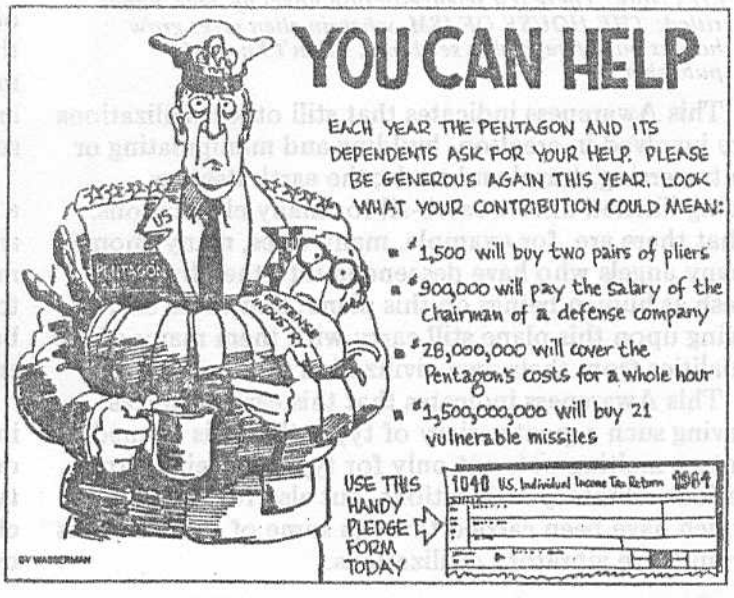
S.K. has a question about the several hundred vibratory rates which contain civilizations encircling the earth vibration: the many mansions Awareness speaks of. She'd like to know: "Do we, upon our transition, traverse them all, go to those vibrations of our choice, (like attracts like), or are we assigned to those that offer needed experiences?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that most entities have experienced a number of these various civilizations; that most entities do move to those where they are either attracted by their own inclination and vibratory rate at the time of passing over, or have previously arranged to enter; the arrangement having been made prior to their sojourn on earth; that the majority of entities have experienced not more than 20 of these civilizations; that some of the civilizations would not be of interest to some entities.

This Awareness indicates that these as being scattered throughout many different time zones so that entities cannot easily perceive in earthly time when they existed on other planes and vibratory rates, for earthly time is nonexistent on those planes, that is, earthly time as you know it. That there is that which is a celestial time that is measured by Kali Yugas, and other increments, and that celestial time is felt by the soul, even though the soul does have its sojourn into individual lives in various places.

This Awareness indicates an analogy or parallel is seen in your own life, wherein there is that continuation of time from your birth to your physical death, but even as that time relentlessly moves on, you may walk into a shop, look at a dress, and totally forget that time, and yet while in that shop, you may have the time of your life, having a moment out of time in which you enter into another time, another moment, for a brief period, then step out again on the street and become aware of time in which your life is moving, and again, you may step into a theatre and move back into time, into another time, as you observe those experiences.



Even though moving back into another time, you still are being on that path of relentless movement, wherein the time continues. That likewise, the soul is aware of that eternal time, the Eternal Now, even though it steps out and involves itself in other time zones, and these other time zones, likened unto earth time or other planetary times or other vibratory times, wherein these times are measured by other energies in relation to each other, and having nothing to do with the earth time or earth history.

WHAT LIFE IS LIKE ON SOME OF THESE OTHER CIVILIZATIONS

(MORE ON THE DREAM EXPERIENCE)

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

One final question in relation to these civilizations; she wants to know: "Is there one to fit every type of consciousness? For example: competitive, scientific, fantasy, etc., or does each civilization contain the whole gamut of experiences?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that there does tend to be a kind of personality in each civilization, a profile in each civilization, whereby certain concepts are given greater significance, and entities in those civilizations will tend to promote and experience and share those particular concepts. The earth plane, for example, has long thrived on conflict and violence as well as the sexual energies. That other planes do not, as a general rule, involve themselves in these areas to the same degree.

These other planes may become, for example, highly involved in mathematics or in movement, flight, teleportation, or in communication through certain types of cosmic energies; that they may also become highly involved in blending with nature, serving nature or working with nature, whereby the homes are built by growing certain types of vegetation that grows a home, rather than cutting vegetation to make a home.*

ED's Note: There is a science-fiction novel by Jack Vance titled: THE HOUSE OF ISM, wherein alien races grow houses out of vegetable seedlings. I don't know the publisher.*

This Awareness indicates that still other civilizations are involved in creation, building and manipulating or in traversing, travel and trade; the earth itself as being likened unto a catch-all for many civilizations. That there are, for example, many elves, many gnomes, many angels who have descended into the physical flesh as human beings on this plane; that these entities living upon this plane still carry with them many of the qualities from their own civilization.

This Awareness indicates that this earth plane as having such a great variety of types that it is likened unto a melting pot, not only for types of beings from various vibratory civilizations, but also for the ideas which have been carried through some of these entities from these vibratory civilizations.

This Awareness indicates that the civilizations which occur in the many vibratory rates may seem hard to understand. This Awareness suggests that when you dream, you are in effect, entering into another vibratory rate, and experiencing life in another civilization. That if these dreams were to remain constant, day after day, and if entities were to appear in that dream, each day, being familiar to you, so that day after day you enter the dream state and experience the awakening into that other vibratory rate, and there are your dream-mates, your friends in the dream, and you carry on a life and experience a relationship with these entities in this dream, and if this occurred on the basis of say, seven hours each night, and then you awoke each morning into this plane, and had your friends and associates in this plane, and had your life and activities in this plane, and yet, if both of these planes existed vividly so that you could remember each, while in the other, this would be an example of how simultaneous planes can exist in the same place.

That if, while this were occurring, you entered into the dream plane and experienced a civilization that exists with a different time system, and in your dream you exist with different creatures and different entities, and you enter into school and are educated as to the ways and culture of your civilization in this dream world, and if you become quite well-known for your accomplishments, for your skills, talents and your achievements in that dream world, and if you became somewhat renowned and famous and had influence over many entities in that dream world; this could appear to be very real to you, particularly if this dream reoccurred every night, day after day, year after year, decade after decade.

This Awareness indicates an entity experiencing such might find it very difficult to distinguish which is the real world, and which is the dream world. That not all dreams are doorways into fully developed civilizations, but all dreams are likened unto bubbles which can, if strengthened, become more real, and if strengthened further, can become civilizations for a brief period, and if held and made more permanent, can become realities, and civilizations on these frequencies.

That the civilizations on any frequency is nothing other than the creation of mass imagination, wherein the masses involved image and hold those images to maintain the sense of stability, so that they may walk around on those images they have created for themselves to walk around on.

This Awareness indicates that wherein entities image a civilization that allows them to have the image solid and unchangeable, then the matter involved, the materialized image, is that which does not yield easily to the mind, but wherein entities allow the image to be more flexible, they may simply reach down, pull up energy and sit down in a chair they have just created.

This Awareness indicates that there are civilizations in certain frequencies whereby they mold their needs out of the images which they create; that this as the type of civilization wherein mind and matter are more closely balanced, so that the mind has greater effect over the matter.

JESUS REVEALED AS AN ARAB

(MORE ON THE CHURCH REPRESSION OF INFO)

QUESTION:

The interest in the stories about the entity Jesus, is probably never going to wane; so when new stories crop up, it's interesting to check these out. I'd like to ask Awareness about the following information which appeared in this little booklet called, Beyond the Gemstone File, written by Peter Rensel, who says he is an ex-CIA agent. He mentions that: "The day before Tisseront, head of the college of cardinals at the Vatican, was pushed out of the Vatican window,"--that the entity had written it all down--a bunch of conspiracy information about the Pope and so forth, and the Anti-Christ, and the Fatima prophecy,--but the interesting thing is that this cardinal Tisseront also wrote about all the suppressed secrets of the Roman Catholic Church, for example, that "Jesus Christ was an Arab, born April 16, 6 BC., at the rare conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter. Arab, Persian astronomers, the Magi, all came to Bethlehem to look for their king, an Arab baby, and found him in a stable because the Jews would not let Arabs Mary and Joseph into their nice clean inns, even then." Later in this book it says: "When Jesus overturned the tables of the money-lenders at the temples, the Jews had the Romans nail him to a cross. He died on the cross when the Roman Soldiers stuck a spear in his side, pulled out his liver and ate it. Tacitus, the Roman historian, described all of this in a chunk of history deleted by the Catholic Church."

I'd like to ask Awareness to comment on that information, and if it's valid or not.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as in the affirmative; the entity being...this appears to be Armenian, the entity as having traveled somewhat, but that the information appears to be accurate in regard to his being Arab in nature.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

And is this also accurate that the Roman Catholic Church has been aware of this information, but like Tisseront indicated, has deleted it or is keeping this information hidden?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the information as being available,--this information and much more being available to the Catholic Church; that the church does have many historical records regarding this, and of many other factors. That essentially, this as coming down from the Roman empire, which created the Holy Roman Church from a conglomeration of many sects and religious groups in Rome under the direction that they bring their various religions together under one that synthesized the basic qualities of each into one religion that would be suitable in uniting all religions of the period. That therefore, the synthesis being that which is the early versions of the Christian philosophy, or religious stories and histories and principles.

This Awareness indicates that all of the data and information which supports this synthesis is that which has been allowed, and that which detracts from this particular synthesis is that which generally has been suppressed. Entities who wish to learn more in regard to these early Roman manipulations of the religious sects and the creation of and early roots of Christianity, should study the works of Professor Hotema, particularly that known as Antiquity Unveiled; that there are others by this entity in reference to this period.

ED's Note: the book, "Antiquity Unveiled" is available from CAC. Please refer to the CAC book catalog. The booklet, "Beyond the Gemstone File", is available from Fighting Tigers Inc., PO Box 18948, South Lake Tahoe, California, 95706. This is a slim little booklet but one packed with interesting information about the conspiracy, much of which has been released previously, or confirmed by Awareness. We paid $10 for our copy, but a member wrote some time ago that the price had been reduced to $3.50. (Throw in another dollar for postage and you can probably get it for that price.)

"THE GREAT INVOCATION" -WHAT DOES IT ALL MEAN ?

QUESTION:

L.B. of Columbus, Ohio, sent in a full color ad that was advertised in the Reader's Digest, a full page ad which must have cost $50,000 at least, and it's called "The Great Invocation." (There are also videos of this floating around TV stations, some of which play them as public service announcements). I shall read the invocation:

" This Great Invocation belongs to all humanity. Will you join the millions who daily use this prayer to invoke peace on earth? Become a co-worker in God's plan, for only through humanity can the plan work out.

"From the point of Light within the mind of God, let Light stream forth into the minds of men. Let Light descend on earth. From the point of love within the heart of God, let love stream into the heart of men. May Christ return to earth. From the center where the will of God is known, let purpose guide the little wills of men. The purpose which the masters know and serve. From the center which we call the race of men, let the plan of love and Light work out, and may it seal the door where evil dwells. Let Light and love and power restore the plan on earth."

The real question is: this is put out by the Lucius Trust, 866 United Nations Plaza, New York, New York. I'd like to ask Awareness, what exactly is the Lucius Trust, and what is the purpose of them advertising this Great Invocation?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this Great Invocation and these entities involved in this have received guidance from the same organization that has...This Awareness indicates that It wishes to use the term 'The Great White Brotherhood', although this term as inappropriate; that there is a kind of brotherhood which has referred to itself in the past as the Great White Brotherhood, but this term has been misused in more recent times, and is not presently appropriate in describing this organization.

That essentially, it is the spiritual hierarchy as written about by Alice Bailey, Annie Besant and others; that the Great Invocation as essentially the prayer which is of a universal nature, that can be used regardless of anyone's religious preferences. That it is likened unto a universal law, except that it is a universal prayer or invocation, to evoke or request or to pray to the Higher Forces. That this as having been accepted by a great number of spiritual organizations as part of their inner teachings and used in their services. This Awareness suggests that it is appropriate that this may be used and accepted by any spiritual organization.

ED's Note: CAC received a video tape from this organization, requesting we have it played on local TV stations as a public service announcement. After viewing it however, we declined. The reason being that during the phrase: "may it seal the door where evil dwells", a picture of what appears to be the Kremlin is projected upon the screen. We simply do not feel, in light of the changes Awareness has said has taken place in Russia, that it is appropriate to continue to energize that country and its people as 'evil' and I wrote a personal letter to the entities who sent us that tape, stating that very reason (and a few others) why we declined.

Also, the Lucius Trust is the organization promoting Lord Maitreya as the Christ who has returned to earth. The question being, Christ or antichrist? For more info on the entity, please refer to 'Revelations of Awareness' No. 80-30 (The Second Coming of Christ); $3.00 from CAC.

THE LAW OF NEW BEING

The Law of New Being lessens polarities and reconciles oppositions.

The Law of New Being reconciles the 'Yes' and 'No', right and wrong, good and evil, and brings the concept of God and Satan together in harmonious resolution, integrated totally under the Law of One.

The Law of New Being acknowledges the return of Lucifer to the Godhead or Source of all Being, and realizes there is no longer a force of evil in the world; that there is only the echo, the memory and the fear of evil remaining, and that these are also from consciousness.

Those who follow the Law of New Being are beings who may transcend matter, or any situation that appears to be matter, and may move into new states of being with greater freedom and energies to create the New World of the New Being:

The Unified States of Awareness.

Q Fourteen years ago, Lt. William Calley Jr. of the U.S. Army was convicted of murdering 22 innocent men, women and children in My Lai, Vietnam. I believe he was sentenced to life in prison. Is that where he is now? How long does his sentence have to run?—B.G., Providence, R.I.

A Calley's original sentence to a life of hard labor in prison was finally reduced to a 10-year term by the Secretary of the Army in 1974. He was released that year, however, after only 4½ months in the military prison at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., following about three years of house arrest at Ft. Benning, Ga. He is now a salesman and general assistant in his father-in-law's jewelry shop in Columbus, Ga.

Bionic Human Is No Longer a Pipe Dream, U.S. News & World Report, 4 March 1985, p12.

Researchers around the US are busy enlarging the inventory of replaceable human parts, and more than one million people annually receive bionic parts ranging from joints to lenses in the eye. Some new devices being tested and refined include: 1) a polyurethane blood vessel that could benefit 500,000 patients annually who need heart bypasses; 2) artificial skin to treat 100,000 burn victims each year; 3) an artificial pancreas that could benefit millions of diabetics; 4) ear implants that could offer partial hearing to 200,000 profoundly deaf Americans; 5) an "artificial eye" consisting of a grid of 64 electrodes implanted in the brain, enabling the blind to discern simple images.

Letters to the editor

Current U.S. policy violates principles

I am not by nature a political person. But paying my taxes has upset me.

It's not because I don't believe in taxes. I do. Or because they are too much money. I'm sure it always seems like too much, but I have a good job and I can afford it. I object to the way my taxes are being spent.

I became a citizen eight years ago because I believe in the individual rights of life and liberty described in our Constitution and Bill of Rights. Our government's policy of massive military spending violates these principles. President Reagan states he is defending democracy by sending military force into Central America. But I have lived there. I have seen for myself that with his actions, instead of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, he is promoting death, tyranny, and a life of subjugation.

In other areas, the president is building nuclear weapons capable of indiscriminate mass killing. As I look at these policies, I can see no difference between the United States and Russia. Both countries are using brute force rather than allowing people to make choices, which is the basis of democracy.

Because I chose to live here and promised to support the law, I have prepared my tax return accurately. And because I am slow to respond to things that don't seem to affect my next meal or people close to me, I have not done much. But it is time I began to make efforts to change.

I have heard Americans described as consumers of freedom rather than promoters of freedom. I think the most logical place to start promoting freedom is to stop promoting violence. And a first step is to stop paying for it.

Accordingly I have made plans to reduce my taxable income in the coming year. I have asked to work less, since I can afford it, and plan to give as much as I can to agencies that promote peaceful work. I hope others will join me.

Gary Kelsberg, M.D./Olympia

Backers should call president to task

"Democracy has its own moral imperatives . . . Democratic states do not attack their neighbors and destabilize regions; democratic states are not by their nature militaristic; democracies are traditionally reluctant to spend a great deal of money on arms."

Who said that? Ronald Reagan. With these words he somehow finds justification for his destabilizing, militaristic plans to continue aid to rebels attempting the overthrow of the Nicaraguan government.

I am distressed, not just at the contradiction between the president's words and his actions, but at the millions who are pleased by our affable leader, those who vote for him, but then turn deaf ears and cast blind eyes to the doublespeak coming from the White House.

Wake up! Every major international survey about the conditions of the Nicaraguan people confirms that infant mortality is down, malnutrition is down, literacy is up, the incidence of disease has been dramatically lowered due to inoculation, etc. The Nicaraguan people are far better off than under the regimes we supported for more than a half a century.

The Sandinistas are not perfect. They have a bureaucracy that pervades political life. Increasingly, the only tenable stand is one in support of the Sandinistas. But it is not because they fear government death squads.

The United States is not composed of evil people. We are a great people who show our compassion when we know need exists. Ronald Reagan is a likable fellow, they say. It is especially important for those who want him to succeed in his stated goals of improving global stability to ask him whey he is trying so hard to wage war in our names.

Reason For NASA's Secret Space Shuttle Mission: To Make Contact With UFOs

A recent space shuttle flight was cloaked with secrecy—government officials explained it was a military exercise.

Astrology & Psychic News has learned the true purpose of the mission. Two prior shuttle flights had made mysterious radio contacts with apparent UFO's. Government decoding experts speculated someone or something was trying to make contact.

It was truly an encounter of the third kind. At the time this issue of Astrology & Psychic News went to press, we were not able to determine if our astronauts did, indeed, make visible contact with extraterrestrials, but we have received verification that radio contact was made once again.

We have also learned that another secret flight will take place within the next year, and the purpose of this mission is to determine where the aliens are from and the purpose of their visit to our galaxy.

missing Phantom

PANAMA CITY, Fla. — Searchers combed the Gulf of Mexico yesterday for two Air Force pilots whose Phantom jet vanished in a cloud bank 50 miles off the Florida coast.

A Coast Guard spokeswoman said three aircraft and a cutter were searching for the fighter, which disappeared Wednesday night. She said the jet was last seen "banking into a cloud bank at 4,000 feet. No one has seen or heard from the jet or the pilot since."

A Tyndall Air Force Base public affairs officer said searchers have no idea what happened to the F-4D and that the pilots, who were not identified, gave no indication of any problems.

Castro warns of a banking collapse

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — Cuban President Fidel Castro, in an interview published yesterday, said U.S. and European banks could collapse by 1988 because of an "undeclared economic war" being waged against indebted developing countries.

Castro, in an interview with the Brazilian newspaper Folha de Sao Paulo, was quoted as saying poor nations "have nothing to lose" if they cannot pay back their debts. He suggested that Western countries trim their defense budgets to compensate for debts that go unpaid.

According to the interview, Castro said an "undeclared economic war of extortionary interest payments on the debt, and of contemptible trade prices," enables rich nations to "suck the blood" of poor nations.

Stun-gun use on man, 80, is probed

WASHINGTON — A deputy U.S. marshal was relieved of his duties yesterday for using a stun gun to shock an 80-year-old peace protester participating in an act of passive resistance, officials said.

The Rev. Maurice McCracken of Cincinnati was dragged across a jailhouse floor and shocked with the device after he was arrested Tuesday with 250 other protesters in a demonstration by the Washington-based Sojourners evangelical community.

Herbert Rutherford, U.S. Marshal for the District of Columbia, said the deputy who used the stun gun "has been temporarily removed from cellblock duties and an investigation is under way to determine whether the use of the weapon was appropriate."

McCracken said he was arrested in front of the White House.

Lawyer tells of 'conspiracy' in El Salvador

New York Times

NEW YORK — A lawyer who defended a Salvadoran national guardsman convicted of murdering four American churchwomen said yesterday that he had been forced to take part in a "conspiracy" aimed at preventing higher-ranking military officers from being implicated in the case.

The lawyer, Salvador Antonio Ibarra, said that another defense lawyer had pressed him not to contradict a statement that "the possibility of a cover-up had been thoroughly investigated" and rejected. Ibarra said that declaration was "an outright lie."

Buckley Pushes Drug Legalization

March 30 (NSIPS)—"Time for the U.S. to legalize Dope," blares the headline on William F. Buckley, Jr.'s syndicated column that appeared this week in the Washington Post and other newspapers. Noting the high "market" and "price" for drugs now, free marketeer Buckley writes: "The one thing that could be done, overnight, is to legalize the stuff. . . . It is hardly a novel suggestion to legalize dope. Shrewd observers of the scene have recommended it for years."

"I am on record as having opposed it in the matter of heroin," Buckley acknowledges, but "the accumulated evidence draws me away from my own opposition. . . . Congress should study the dramatic alternative, which is legalization. . . . Ours is a free society in which oodles of people kill themselves with heroin and booze. Some will do it with coke and heroin. But we should cost in the lives saved by having the deadly stuff available as rat poison."

'Green cloud' shadowed jet Soviets say

MOSCOW (Reuter) — An account of a mysterious "green cloud" sending out powerful shafts of light and flying in tandem with an airliner appeared in a Soviet newspaper today.

The experienced pilot and crew of a Soviet Tupolev 134 airliner noticed a large, yellow, elongated spot at 4 a.m. local time Over Byelorussia, the trade union daily Trud said.

The unidentified flying object — UFO — sent down three cones of white light, clearly illuminating houses and roads from a height estimated by the crew at about 50 kilometres (30 miles), Trud said.

The light then flared up and turned into a green cloud, which shot towards the plane. After zooming up and down and either side of the airliner, the object took up station to one side.

"An honor escort — what a distinction for us . . ." muttered Captain Igor Cherkashin, who has 7,500 hours flying experience.

The strange cloud was seen by passengers on the flight, from Georgia to Tallinn, by the crew of another airliner that passed 16 kilometres (10 miles) away and by air traffic controllers in Talinn who picked it up on radar.

Space aliens in Oregon

SPACE ALIENS may be invading the west coast off the shore of Oregon, claim experts.

As evidence of their visit, they are leaving a field of hot vents on the sea floor, according to the leader of a scientific expedition which recently researched a number of UFO sightings throughout Oregon and the state of Washington.

The vents are surrounded by mineral deposits and exotic marine life never seen before on this planet.

The fish and other animals feeding near the vents have chromosome makeups which more closely resemble mammals than sea animals, yet they possess all the aquatic characteristics of sea life.

Dramatic finds

Scientists are currently studying them to determine exactly what their feeding and breeding habits are.

"This is one of the most dramatic finds ever made," according to one member of the research team.

"These could be the unknown link between land animals and sea animals, or they could be some form of animal life left here by visitors from another planet.

"We have examined several samples, both living and dead, under the microscope, and we have dissected them.

"So far, all we can detemine with any certainty is they are not like anything else we have ever seen here on Earth," comments the researcher.

Many vents

In finding these vents, the scientists used a tiny three-person submarine named Alvin to explore the floor of a collapsed volcano.

The vents are of particular interest to both researchers and government agencies because in many of these vents, mineral deposits are found which scientists believe form as a result of sea water circulation through crack systems in the ocean floor.

In these systems, the water dissolves sulfides from the oceanic crust as it travels, and it leaves mineral deposits upon reaching the surface of the ocean floor.

Officials from several government agencies are examining these mineral deposits to determine their economic potential. SUN 4-9-85

FDR a Zionist dupe, former pupil wrote

RED DEER, Alta. (CP) — Jim Keegstra really believed Nelson Rockefeller was a Jew turned Baptist who headed a North American drug operation and Franklin Roosevelt committed suicide after being told he couldn't become world president, a former student testified yesterday.

"He was convincing, forceful at times," Trudi Roth told a preliminary hearing which will determine if Keegstra should stand trial on charges of wilfully spreading hatred against an identifiable group.

"He believed in what he was saying. He had a certain look in his eyes."

Roth seemed confident as she spent almost four hours on the witness stand reading notes and essays she wrote for Keegstra's social studies class during the 1978-79 school year.

Keegstra, the former mayor of Eckville, Alta., 140 kilometres southwest of Edmonton, was fired in December 1982, for telling students the number of Jews killed during the Second World War was greatly exaggerated and there was an international Zionist plot to control the world.

Roth said she used notes and pamphlets supplied by Keegstra to write an essay called Roosevelt Was A Dupe Of Zionism. The essay said the former American president was influenced by international money lenders and most of his chief advisers were Jews.

Roosevelt also followed the theories of economist John Maynard Keynes, a homosexual who "got his pleasure from watching little boys being stripped naked, tied to posts and whipped to death," Roth read from her notes.

Roth said Roosevelt made a deal with international Zionists to fight Hitler if the Jews and Communists would support him in his quest for the world presidency. He committed suicide after Russian leader Joseph Stalin told him he had been used and wouldn't become president of the world.

"They said he died of a severe brain hemorrhage, probably caused by the bullet in his head," Roth concluded in the essay which Keegstra gave a mark of 65 per cent.

Keegstra also told the class Rockefeller may still be alive after a fake suicide attempt. Rockefeller wanted to disappear from sight after authorities learned he was "head of the whole narcotics operation in North America," she said.

Roth received only 40 per cent on a Zionism essay in which she relied on a encyclopedia for information.

Keegstra wrote a note on the paper saying: "Jews brought on most of their troubles by refusing to mix and exacting enormous usury."

Another note simply said: "Your essay was to be based on what was discussed in class also."

Honduran exercises planned

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department, continuing a series of maneuvers in Honduras, said Friday it will launch a three-month road-building and counter-insurgency exercise in the Central American country on June 7.

Code-named Cabanas 85, the exercise will involve a total of about 1,800 U.S. military personnel and an unspecified number of Honduran troops, the Pentagon said. From June 7 to Aug. 30, engineering detachments will construct and widen roads in the north central part of Honduras "to allow use by U.S. tactical vehicles."

From Aug. 26 until mid-September, an "airborne counter-insurgency field training exercise" will be held in the vicinity of Yoro, Jocon, and San Lorenzo, Honduras, the Pentagon added in a statement.

The exercise will begin almost exactly one month after the completion of Universal Trek 85, which involved amphibious and airborne landings by U.S. troops on Honduras' Caribbean coast.

Man runs into trouble

MONROE, La. — A man being chased by state police for a traffic violation ran from his car into a hotel that was hosting a statewide convention of municipal law enforcement officers, troopers said.

In the lobby was a swarm of officers attending a convention of the Louisiana Municipal Police Officers Association.

An army of police officers joined the chase.

Finally, said Lyles, Earl Vesser, 19, was arrested outside the hotel on charges of resisting arrest, driving while intoxicated, driving without a license and other violations.

Anti-Semitic book banned

TORONTO (CP) — Importation into Canada of a book which claims the Holocaust was a hoax has been banned by Customs officials but the ban may be short-lived.

The Hoax of the Twentieth Century, published in the United States, was banned from entry into Canada after the League of Human Rights of B'nai B'rith complained to the federal government about it.

The prohibition falls under the Customs tariff regulation that disqualifies materials considered seditious, treasonable, immoral or indecent. The book was considered immoral and anti-Semitic, said Andre Lachance, manager of the prohibited importations unit of the Customs Department.

FLASHING LIGHTS on a car dashboard, that warn of things like a low gas level, may be a hazard in themselves for certain susceptible people. Such was the case with truck driver Bill Blair, of Exeter, England. Exeter Crown Court was told that Blair misinterpreted a flashing dashboard light to be a signal that his life was coming to an end, and that he should commit suicide. He forced other cars off the road, and then crashed into a wall as a way of getting at the devil. But he misunderstood the light, because he's still alive, though he'll be in jail for the next 9 months for reckless driving. Psychiatrist Dr. Ian Horton testified that the flashing light had triggered a rare kind of epileptic fit.

58 doctors rapped for a food coupon scam in California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California health department has suspended 58 doctors in two Los Angeles area counties from a federal nutrition program for allegedly rigging medical information, allowing patients to obtain food coupons.

The coupons obtained under the Women, Infants and Children nutrition program were exchanged for cash on the street or for non-nutritional foods at grocery stores, said Jack Metz, state director of the program.

The action does not put the doctors out of practice, but bans them from referring patients to the program for four months, said Metz. He said no criminal charges have been filed against the patients.

Government may outlaw 'Ecstasy'

WASHINGTON — The government is moving to outlaw a psychedelic drug dispensed by some doctors as a therapeutic remedy and sold on the street as an emotional high known as "Ecstasy," federal sources said yesterday.

Sources said John Long, acting head of the Drug Enforcement Administration, signed an emergency order May 28 to place the drug, MDMA, into the most restricted drug category, Schedule 1, which now lists the likes of heroin and LSD.

Long scheduled a news conference today where he will announce the action, the sources said.

MDMA "is now used experimentally by doctors and psychiatrists . . ." a DEA enforcement

Torture center begun

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Gov. Rudy Perpich announced today the formation of a non-profit corporation to build the nation's first center to treat worldwide victims of torture, and said he will spearhead fundraising efforts.

A task force Perpich appointed in January recommended the center be established in Minnesota because "there is no such center in the United States nor is there likely to be one in the near future."

*Amnesty International, the world-*wide human rights organization, estimates that 96 countries practice some form of torture on political prisoners and other "prisoners of conscience."

Pots and pans tell Reagan he's unwelcome

MADRID (UPI) — Thousands of Madrid residents protested President Reagan's visit to Spain yesterday night by banging on pots and pans and turning off their house lights.

The protest was sponsored by a coalition of left-wing and pacifist groups.

The coordinated action at 10 p.m. was scattered across the greater Madrid area and was more intense in some neighborhoods than others, the Madrid Neighborhood Association said.

In the Arguelles neighborhood, some residents went out on their balconies and pounded on pots and pans, one witness said.

Similar demonstrations and 10-minute blackouts were also reported from other Madrid districts and suburbs.

More kids are living in poverty

WASHINGTON — An alarm was sounded yesterday about the *problem of children living in pov*erty, with two federal agencies saying it had "grown deeper and more widespread" in the last decade.

In 1983, the last full year for which statistics are available, nearly 13.8 million youngsters lived in poverty, according to the study "Children in Poverty," conducted by the Congressional Budget Office and the Congressional Research Service.

The report said 22 of every 100 children in the nation were living in poverty in 1983, the highest rate since the mid-1960s. A poor child was defined as a person under 18 living in a family with income less than the government's official poverty level.

Abuse of elderly: 'Stories are true'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elderly people abused by their loved ones often don't know where to go for help, a House subcommittee was told yesterday.

"One reason you don't get a lot of complaints from the elderly is — I'm living and they're dead," said a man wearing a thick gray wig and dark glasses and introduced only as 75-year-old "Mr. Smith."

"You can't go to the police and tell them you think he is going to kill you," he told the House aging committee's subcommittee on health and long-term care. He said his son attacked him with a hatchet after subjecting him and his wife to years of abuse.

It was the hatchet attack that finally brought help, he said, because then the police had to get involved.

"I am here to emphasize that abuse of the elderly is going on everywhere in this country," he said. "The stories you have heard are true. This is not hearsay. I am not hearsay."

A survey by the subcommittee said abuse of the elderly is increasing nationally and may affect about 4 percent of the aged population, said its chairman, Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla.

"It represents a shocking and still largely hidden problem affecting over a million of our nation's most helpless and vulnerable citizens," Pepper said.

The survey indicated that while one out of three cases of child abuse is reported, only one out of five cases of abuse of the elderly comes to the attention of appropriate authorities, he said.

Unless the problem is confronted, "we will soon learn that the serious and complex problem of child abuse . . . pales by comparison to the systematic familial abuse of elderly people . . .," said Scott Harshbarger, district attorney of Middlesex County, Mass.

Nursing home patients may be guinea pigs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration will be called before Congress to explain how elderly nursing home residents ended up as unwilling or unwitting test subjects for experimental drugs, the chairman of a House health subcommittee says.

Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif., announced the hearings this week into what he said appeared to be "a complete breakdown in protections — both ethical and legal — which would protect our elderly from being exposed to potentially dangerous drugs without their knowledge or consent."

"That these events took place in a nursing home is reprehensible," said Waxman. "That they occurred in violation of clear federal restrictions raises serious questions about the adequacy of federal enforcement resources."

Waxman, chairman of the House Commerce subcommittee on health, called the situation "a shocking illustration of the Hippocratic oath turned on its head."

His comments followed release of a report by the National Council of Senior Citizens that found instances of elderly nursing home residents taking experimental drugs without having given their consent — or even over their opposition.

The report was based on FDA documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act regarding eight clinical trials involving some 30 nursing homes.

"While we have not studied all the documents available to us, those we have seen suggest that unethical practices may be widespread," said National Council of Senior Citizens Executive Director William R. Hutton in releasing the study. "Clearly we have a very serious problem with the present system."

The group said patients have been persuaded to sign consent forms even though they were senile, confused or did not speak English. Some were illiterate and signed the forms with an "X," raising questions about whether they understood the form.

Some were included in the experiments over their protests, the group said. One man who refused to participate had an experimental drug slipped into a dish of ice cream. A woman who refused a pill was given the drug surreptitiously by having it crushed and mixed with her applesauce.

Why protect fish if we'll incinerate the planet: Cousteau

Marine biologist Jacques Cousteau says it is foolish to worry about the environment unless the spread of nuclear weapons is halted.

"Why protect fish if the planet is going to be destroyed? We must stop nuclear bombs without being silly about it like pacifists."

Cousteau also called for a stepped-up war on drugs.

"The drug problem for kids is the worst problem in the West. It is destroying the genetics of a nation," he said.

Church of Scientology told to pay $39 million

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A jury awarded $39 million yesterday to a Portland woman who says the Church of Scientology defrauded her with claims it would improve her eyesight and make her more intelligent.

A Multnomah County Circuit Court jury returned the ruling against the church after a 10-week trial and 2½ days of deliberations.

Julie Christofferson Titchbourne was awarded punitive damages of $15 million from the Church of Scientology Davis Mission, a Portland branch; $17.5 million from the Church of Scientology of California; and $20 million from church founder L. Ron Hubbard.

The jury also awarded Titchbourne $3,203 in general damages from each of the defendants.

Circuit Judge Donald Londer entered a default judgment against Hubbard on April 30, as Hubbard had failed to respond to the lawsuit.

Suspended minister is arrested

ALLISON PARK, Pa. (AP) — Two police officers broke into a barricaded Lutheran church yesterday and arrested a dissident minister who had been holed up inside for eight days.

The Rev. Daniel Solberg, 34, brother of actor David Soul, was arrested inside his Nativity Lutheran Church in this north Pittsburgh suburb.

He was the second minister in the area to be suspended by the bishop and arrested for activities resulting from controversy over their work in an organization that holds corporate investment policies responsible for unemployment in the Monongahela Valley.

As two Hampton Township police officers stood guard, two others smashed a side window and entered the church, according to Joe Landefeld, a church member who was present.

Solberg, who was said to be clutching a Bible, offered no resistance, witnesses said.

Lawyer labels Scientology suit attack on religion

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A civil fraud lawsuit seeking $42 million in punitive damages against the Church of Scientology has been branded by a defense attorney as the "broadest-based attack on religion that has ever happened in the history of man."

Boston lawyer Earle C. Cooley told a Multnomah County Circuit Court jury Tuesday that Scientology "ranks up among the most abused religions in the history of the world. Perhaps only the Jews have suffered more at the hands of their enemies."

"The unthinkable has happened," Cooley said. "A religion is on trial in this court for its life."

In the lawsuit, Julie Christofferson Titchbourne of Portland alleges she was defrauded by the church and its founder, L. Ron Hubbard, by several representations that lured her into Scientology for nine months in 1975 and 1976.

Ms. Titchbourne contends she was told Scientology was a science, not a religion, and that it could improve personal intelligence and cure several medical ailments, including nearsightedness.

Director bows to pope's wishes

CANNES, France — Director Jean-Luc Godard, bowing to criticism from the pope, said Friday he has asked Italian theaters to stop showing his controversial new film that depicts the Virgin Mary as a gas station owner's daughter.

Fraud scheme nicks 250 people

SEATTLE (AP) — More than 250 people who invested in the Foundation for Christian Schools were bilked out at least $2.5 million, including some homes and life savings, prosecutors say.

Harvey Davids, 65, of Mountlake Terrace, was charged Wednesday with 10 counts of theft and securities fraud in King County Superior Court. Davids' attorney, Murray Guterson, said Davids will enter guilty pleas. The charges are punishable by as much as 10 years in prison.

Davids refused comment.

Davids used phony real estate deals and investment schemes to bilk more than 250 Christian families between 1979 and 1984, prosecutors said. His organization was affiliated with Mountlake Christian School and Bremerton Christian School.

"Many of the victims contributed their life savings and are devastated financially," said Deputy Prosecutor Kurt Hermanns. Some of the investors in King, Snohomish and Kitsap counties may lose their houses, because the foundation used the houses without their knowledge as collateral to secure loans, Hermanns said.

The foundation claimed its purpose was to raise money for Christian schools and provide investment opportunities for Christian families, Hermanns said. The foundation used the schools' mailing lists and facilities, he added.

Last June, the state Department of Licensing's securities division prohibited the foundation from soliciting additional investments. Davids went to Oregon and Colorado to set up similar schemes, but authorities there also prohibited him from soliciting, Hermanns said.

It's off to prison for 82-year-old woman

HARDWICK, Ga. (AP) — An 82-year-old Franklin County woman convicted of selling marijuana became the oldest female inmate in the Georgia prison system Friday when she was transferred to the state women's prison from a county jail.

Warden Gary Black said Maybel Cawthon arrived at the women's prison at Hardwick in central Georgia shortly after noon following the 100-mile drive from the Franklin County jail in northeast Georgia.

State prisons spokesman Fred Steeple said she probably will be placed in minimum security but will not be given any "special" favors.

Mrs. Cawthon had expressed fears of going to prison.

"I won't live a week" there, she said in an interview at the Franklin County jail.

The banjo-playing, tobacco-chewing widow, who will be 83 on March 7, returned to jail last weekend after a Superior Court judge revoked the probation he had given her.

"Soviets Orbit Large New Military Electronic Intelligence Satellite." — The Soviet Union has launched the largest, single military satellite in the history of its space program, a spacecraft U.S. analysts said is a new electronic intelligence gathering vehicle positioned in an orbit frequently overflying the U.S. to intercept radio communications and data . . . The new Soviet elint spacecraft may be larger than the U.S. radio intelligence spacecraft (launched on January 24, 1985) . . . The September 28 (1984) launch of the Soviet elint spacecraft was conducted in such an unusual manner that the U.S. Air Force Space Defense Operations Center, Colorado Springs, Colorado, had to 'marshal its forces' to maintain surveillance of the vehicle as it maneuvered extensively in space. The spacecraft is designated Cosmos 1,603 and initially its mission was unknown . . . The Space Defense Operations Center is the U.S. focal point for monitoring such unusual Soviet activity . . . Jewish group ate girls, students told

RED DEER, Alta. (CP) — Jim Keegstra told his students human sacrifices and cannibalism were performed during a ritual feast by a Jewish-controlled group called the Jacobins during the French Revolution, a preliminary hearing was told yesterday.

Lorene Baxter, a former Grade 12 student at the Eckville, Alta., high school where Keegstra taught, broke into tears on the witness stand when defence lawyer Doug Christie criticized her interpretation of Keegstra's lessons.

Baxter told a hot and crowded provincial courtroom that Keegstra said the Feast of Reason was just one of the atrocities the Jacobins committed. It began with prostitutes being taken into a cathedral.

"They would take a young girl, kill her, and pour her blood over the prostitutes," Baxter, visibly nervous, read from her notes compiled during the 1981-82 school year. "They would then roast her flesh and eat her."

Conventional history recalls the Jacobins as a political group which included leaders such as Robespierre and Danton. They are generally credited with instituting the Reign of Terror and fell from power in July 1794.

Christie questioned the accuracy of Baxter's notes.

"I put it to you he (Keegstra) said although the Jews had control of the Jacobins, there were many more people in the Jacobins than Jews," he said. Baxter agreed.

Christie, who looked exasperated because of Baxter's inability to remember details of Keegstra's classes, questioned the young woman's ability to learn. "You didn't understand what he was saying half the time, did you," he said. "Would you agree your main concern was to repeat what you heard and get a mark?"

Baxter's voice faltered as she agreed.

Keegstra, 49, was charged in January with wilfully spreading hatred against an identifiable group. The former mayor of Eckville, a small farming community located 140 kilometres southwest of Edmonton, was fired in December 1982 for teaching his students the number of Jews killed during the Second World War was greatly exaggerated and that there is a Zionist conspiracy to control the world.

During the long, tedious day of testimony Keegstra listened intently, often removing his glasses and rubbing his eyes. Sometimes he would lean over to Christie and consult what was being said.

Baxter testified the notes Keegstra dictated to the class said evidence presented at the Nuremberg war trials was hearsay and Jews tortured Nazis to get confessions.

Keegstra said Jews originally claimed 12 million people had been killed in Nazi death camps but couldn't prove this number, so reduced the figure to six million.

Of the 240 witness called during the trial, none had been held in concentration camps, he said.

Baxter said Keegstra told the class former U.S. secretary of state Henry Kissinger was a KGB agent when he came to the United States in 1939.

The hearing, before provincial court Judge Douglas Crowe, is expected to continue into next week.

Essay blamed Jews for war

Keegstra: gave essay 65%

RED DEER, Alta. (CP) — An essay written by one of Jim Keegstra's former students blamed Jews for many of the world's revolutions since 1776 and ended with a chilling warning that the race should be wiped out from the earth, a preliminary hearing was told yesterday.

Richard Denis graduated from Keegstra's Grade 12 social studies class in 1982. The tall, curly-haired young man told provincial court he received a mark of 65 per cent for an essay he handed in to Keegstra.

Keegstra, 49, was fired from his job in the small community of Eckville, Alta., 140 kilometres southwest of Edmonton, in December 1982 for telling his students the Second World War Holocaust was a fake. He was charged in January with wilfully spreading hate against an identifiable group.

The essay, The World Menace Since 1776, claimed the Jews instigated the French Revolution, the Russian Revolution and both World Wars. Since then, the Jews have continued with their goal of controlling the world, Denis wrote in his essay.

"In my opinion this must stop," Denis read from his essay to a crowded courtroom. "We must get rid of every Jew in existence so we can live in peace and freedom."

Crown Prosecutor Barry Fraser asked Denis if he believes what he had written.

"I did then," Denis said. "I shouldn't have. I don't now."

Under cross-examination from Doug Christie, Keegstra's lawyer, Denis said he had suggested elimination of the Jews to please his teacher. He said Keegstra had never suggested Jews should be erased from the earth.

Symbol

Denis also admitted Keegstra often referred to Zionist Jews, separating them from Jews in general.

Earlier, Dick Hoeksema, the teacher who replaced Keegstra, said students told him Prime Minister Trudeau wore a red rose in his lapel as a symbol of international communism.

Hoeksema, who testified he took over Keegstra's classes Jan. 3, 1983, said he has a history degree from an American university and has a particular interest in the Nazis and the Second World War.

He said he found Keegstra's students asking unusual questions.

"One of the first questions I was confronted with was did I believe in the international Jewish conspiracy. I said I did not."

Hoeksema said students told him the courts and Hollywood were controlled by the Jews, all lawyers were liars and judges were just lawyers who "couldn't cut it."

He was also told that Jews used trick photography to fabricate evidence that six million Jews were killed during the Holocaust.

Keegstra, former mayor of Eckville, elected trial by judge and jury during a Feb. 29 court appearance.

The preliminary hearing is to determine if there is enough evidence to proceed with a trial. There has not been a conviction under this section of the Criminal Code in 14 years.

Christie objected to Hoeksema's testimony, saying unless Hoeksema could name every student who made each statement, his testimony should be dismissed as hearsay evidence.

Provincial court Judge Phillip Crowe directed Hoeksema to provide names, which the teacher did.

Nixon's 'history' ignore war's facts

Allowing Richard Nixon to present the history of the Vietnam war is like appointing King George official historian of the American Revolution. Here are a few facts Nixon leaves out in asserting that we could have won the war by supporting Diem:

Vietnam was a French colony from 1883-1940. From 1940-45 it was ruled by the Japanese through a French puppet government; the Allies recognized Ho Chi Minh as the leader of the resistance.

After Japan's defeat, the French attempted to re-establish their colony under the rule of their own puppet, Bao Dai. On December 19, 1946, resistance forces attacked French occupation troops. By 1954 the U.S. was funding 80 percent of the French colonial effort, but the French were still decisively defeated at Dien Bien Phu. Bao Dai then appointed Diem premier of Vietnam. Civil war loomed, due to mass opposition to this move.

The Geneva Accords of July 21, 1954, enforced a truce by drawing an artificial and temporary line between north and south, with nationwide elections to be held July 20, 1956. Diem cancelled these elections.

Not until one and a half years after the scheduled elections and reunification had still not materialized did the Vietminh take up arms against Diem. Contrary to Nixon, Diem had only minimal support and was toppled by Buddhist demonstrations in 1963. The sixteen successive "governments" in Saigon were equally unable to command popular support.

By 1969, under Nixon's escalation of the war, the U.S. was dropping 200 tons of explosive an hour on south Vietnam, an area the size of Southern California.

Nixon's self-serving memoirs and outright lies about the war in Vietnam should not be allowed to obscure the horror of American intervention there, especially now that some policy-makers seem to be planning a repeat in Central America.

Outspoken priest silenced

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Franciscan friar Leonardo Boff, a leading proponent of liberation theology, says the Vatican has ordered him to stop speaking in public for an undisclosed period of time as punishment for his views.

In a written statement, Boff defended his views and declared that he was not a Marxist.

"By the decision of Rome, I must refrain from speaking in public for a certain time," read the statement issued Wednesday.

Princess fined for beatings

LONDON — A Kuwaiti princess who admitted she beat her two maids with metal wires and a riding crop was given a six-month suspended sentence, fined the equivalent of $630, and ordered to pay the women a total of $3,456.

Judge John Hayman told Princess Simiya Alsabah, 30, before sentencing her on Friday that she had inflicted "barbaric" beatings on the two maids, Samsul Ariffa, 26, of Sri Lanka and Lexmi Swami, 45, from India.

The princess admitted in court papers to two charges of "wounding" and two of causing bodily harm.

In February, her sister, Princess Faria Alsabah, received a similar sentence for beating the same women. The princesses are half-sisters of the Emir of Kuwait.
