This Awareness indicates that this publication contains a number of discussions of new technologies that are being used and have been developed for use in ways that affect the masses of people or can have an effect on the masses. Some of these technologies are frightful, when it is realized that they are all ready and usable and some being already used .

WILL THIS RAISIN RECIPE RELIEVE OR CURE ARTHRITIS?

We received, over the Internet, what is called "An unusual recipe for relief". I'd like to read this and ask Awareness if there is anything to this. The source is sort of vague. It says:

"(1). Empty one box of golden light raisins into a large shallow container. (2) Pour enough gin, (cheap as you can buy) to completely cover raisins. (3) Let stand uncovered until all liquid disappears. About 7 days. Stirring occasionally helps the evaporation process. (4) Then place raisins in a covered container. I use a Cool-Whip carton and eat just 9 raisins a day. If you don't like raisins, put them on your cereal or in a salad.

"I began eating 9 raisins a day on October 1Oth. By November 1Oth, my calcified knees, which sounded like castanets whenever I bent over, no longer clicked so loudly, and I was able to walk up and down those small steps from the sidewalk to the street outside our building without turning sideways to go one step at a time or hang on to a parked car.

"I could bend my head back to look at the stars without leaning against a tree or fence or holding the back of my neck for support. A couple of weeks later, the swelling and pain was gone from my arthritic toes. By December I could again close my fingers into fists. Before October 1Oth, a silver knife would slide through either hand. I can now hold a nut pick.

"My whole body feels more limber. I can again do floor exercises including hugging my knees to my chest, and rock back and forth without pain and again handle needles and pins with greater ease. A dear friend in Hyannis, Massachusetts, gave me this recipe last September. She learned about it this past summer from her podiatrist who noticed her difficulty in getting up to leave the office.

"He learned of it from one of his patients whose hammer toe and knees were no longer swollen. She then could stretch her crippled hands flat upon a table, all after just a day. Before her retirement she was a school assistant dean of the Medical School at Georgetown University. The podiatrist and his friend have been eating these raisins and have been playing their best golf for more than 30 years. They are in their seventies.

"Why does this recipe bring such fantastic results? As far back as early Biblical times, the people of India and Egypt discovered the healing properties of juniper berries. Gin is made from natural grains and juniper berries. Even if you are on medication that advised against alcohol, you can eat nine raisins a day. Most of the alcohol has evaporated and a small amount would be insignifcant. That comes from my own physician."

Would Awareness comment on that recipe?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the recipe appears to be that which helps to cleanse and heal the liver. The effect of the liver cleansing is that which has an influence on most of the other important organs and also on the purification of the blood.This Awareness indicates that the glucose sugar of the raisins of course give energy and it is of a small enough amount so as not to create high blood sugar for entities who are diabetic, therefore, it appears to be safe for most everyone, when used as directed.

If an entity has excessively high blood sugar and cannot comfortably use 9 raisins at a time, the raisins can be spaced out over the day. This Awareness indicates that it does appear to have certain other properties, such as enzymes that are beneficial in helping the physical body and the hormonal and lymph nodes of the body. This Awareness indicates that it does appear to be of significance for entities, especially for those who have a tendency toward arthritis or stiffness in general or whose liver may be sluggish.

Ed's Note: For a long time I have had one joint on my ring finger painfully swollen, probably arthritis inherited from my mother who had it really bad. Vikki went to the liquor store and bought a pint of cheap gin and at the healthfood store a large packet of golden Light raisins (not the black ones). It took the entire pint of gin for the pack of raisins. I have only been on this recipe for about 10 days, but the pain in the joint appears to have mostly disappeared. The joint, however, is still swollen. (I told Vikki she should have just given me the pint of gin; that would have killed the pain almost instantly). I'll keep you posted if the swelling goes down. In the meantime, anyone using this recipe, please drop a line to Vikki and let her know whether it is working as described in this reading. Thanks.

SHOULD CAC CHARGE CRYSTALS DURING THE TRANCE SESSIONS?

(Will These Help Develop More Interpreters?

QUESTION:

We had a suggestion from one of our members who was into researching crystals, that we charge crystals during the trance sessions to offer to the membership. This would be done by Paul holding one in his hands as he goes into trances or possibly a bowl with some near his head.

Would Awareness comment on the effect that would be achieved, if any, by such charging and what possible ways members could use such charged stones? Also, would there be a particular type of stone most effective for such linking to trance energies in this manner?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the use of quartz crystals being held by the Interpreter as he enters into trance, or being placed close to the Interpreter's head could give the crystal a certain charge or frequency attunement to the trance level the Interpreter enters so that the frequency of this Awareness, the vibratory rate of this Awareness could be transferred into the crystal.

The entity receiving that crystal could then hold the crystal, either in his or her hand during times of meditation, or place the crystal to the forehead during meditation and attune to the crystal, and thus, by letting their own vibration merge with the vibration of this Awareness in the crystal, experience to some degree the frequency of this Awareness.

It will require that entities surrender themselves to the frequency of this Awareness, and holding the crystal to their forehead can he helpful as a tool for this to occur.

This Awareness indicates that this would be a kind of meditative experiment which should be helpful to entities wishing to become more attuned to this Awareness. This Awareness suggests however, that the crystal should be placed immediately into some flannel cloth when taken from the Interpreter and not touched by human hands until the recipient receives it.

This Awareness indicates the recipient should keep it in a spot wherein others do not handle the crystal, so that it is simply charged with the frequency of this Awareness, and available to the recipient only. This Awareness indicates the recipient should also wash his or her hands before handling the crystal without the cloth being around it.

This Awareness indicates that the size of the crystal is not seen as significant, but that the larger sized crystals could be more potent than extremely small crystals. The vibration would be basically the same however, but not as much potency in the smaller sized crystal.

A BOWL OF CRYSTALS WITHIN THE INTERPRETER'S AURA?

QUESTION:

Did Awareness say that a bowl of crystals, placed within the Interpreter's aura, not necessarily handled by the Interpreter; would these be charged essentially the same way?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative This Awareness suggests that the bowl should be within eight to twelve inches of the Interpreter's head in order to be within the aura during this trance session. This Awareness wishes to clarify this. The crystals should be within eight to twelve inches, preferably within eight inches of the Interpreter's head in order to receive the vibrations of this Awareness.

This Awareness indicates in other words, a rather small eight-inch bowl or less, that is relatively deep would be capable of fitting within the aura of the Interpreter, so as to receive the greater amount of frequency and vibration from this Awareness. This Awareness indicates a more flat bowl that is larger would be suitable, but the further crystals may not receive sufficient energy, particularly if the aura is not well-formed at the greater distance of twelve inches.

This Awareness indicates essentially the entity's aura extends approximately twelve inches above the crown of the head but the aura is stronger at points within eight inches. This Awareness indicates in fact, the eighth chakra of an entity is approximately eight inches above the Interpreter's head, and this would lie in the midst of the crystal energy, if placed within that eight-inch aura.

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates that entities using such crystals are encouraged to leave the crystal lying above their heads when they lie on a flat surface, at approximately the same distance, within eight inches of the crown of their head, and move into a state of meditation by raising their right hand to their forehead, and visualizing mind or all ideas, words and concepts going into that right hand, and when this has been completed, bring the hand down to their side, near their hip, below their hip.

This Awareness indicates then raise the left hand to the middle of the forehead, and visualize all emotion, attachments, fears and desires entering into the left hand, and bring this down to their side, and letting go of mind and emotion; then bringing the empty hands back up to the side of the head at the temples, and from there, moving into the center of the forehead and visualizing feeling, the concern for that which is happening around one, that which is going on in the room or in the local area, which one is aware of; visualize all of this concern going into the fingers, and bring both hands down to the sides, by the hips.

This Awareness indicates at that point, the entities may raise their hands to serve as antenna, to draw in this Awareness to themselves, and at such point where the hands are drawing in this Awareness, visualize it going up into the middle of the head and shooting out the top of the head to the crystal that lies above one's head, and visualize the crystal lighting up.Then the entity would be attuned to this Awareness, and the entity can then experience oneness with this Awareness in the meditation, and you may let that meditation continue for several minutes until you are ready to exit.

At this time, you may then bring the hands down, pick up the feeling, place it back into your forehead, pick up the emotion with your left hand, place it back into your forehead, pick up the mind with your right hand, place it back into your forehead and open your eyes and be whole again.

This Awareness indicates that this will be a very pleasant meditation. You may also find yourself able to answer questions that you may ask in meditation. This Awareness suggests that this may come to you in pictures. It may come to you in images. Be careful to avoid the word "I", because it will break the union with this Awareness, for there is no "I" or personal self when you are attuned to this Awareness. This Awareness indicates that the "I" is placed aside, the self is placed aside when you place aside mind, emotion and feeling. Therefore, what is left is this Awareness.

Thus, rather than answering a question with the word "I", you may find yourself muttering or uttering the words "This Awareness Indicates", and the indication will be followed by certain information. You do not need to speak aloud. It can be done silently.

This Awareness indicates that some may find it not easy to think when in trance. You may find instead that the words disrupt your state of consciousness, and you may find it necessary to avoid thinking or allowing words to interfere with your state of consciousness. In such action, you may find it easier to simply observe, looking at pictures, images, or energies, and recalling later those things that you see.

This Awareness indicates that in order to speak while in trance, in order to think while in trance, the thoughts need to be generated not from within your own mind, because your mind has been placed aside, but as a response to the urging or prodding of this Awareness. You may speak in reflection to that which this Awareness indicates, but you cannot initiate thought and stay in the state of consciousness necessary for this Awareness to remain.

This Awareness indicates in other words, something else has to initiate the thought or the words that you speak in behalf of this Awareness. Perhaps an assistant or perhaps you can float to the surface long enough to ask a question, then move deeper into contact with this Awareness and find a response at that time, but the initiation, while in attunement to this Awareness must come from somewhere other than your own mind, for initiating something from your mind would bring the mind back into your consciousness and would cause you to leave your state of attunement with this Awareness.

This Awareness indicates you could put a question on a tape recorder and allow the tape recorder to play the question after you have entered into the trance and attunement with this Awareness. It is seen as possible to push the button on the tape recorder without it interfering with your attunement and a question asked via a tape recorder, then turning the tape recorder off, or to record, would allow you an opportunity to respond in accordance with the energies from this Awareness to record your message or to speak your message in response to the promptings of this Awareness.

It is simply that you cannot initiate a thought or spoken words while attuned to this Awareness because technically, there is no "you" there to do so, unless you bring your mind back into yourself, and in so doing, you displace this Awareness so that you are no longer attuned to this Awareness.

This Awareness indicates however, you can perhaps attune yourself to this Awareness and look for some message from this Awareness, then displace this Awareness and become your personal self and recall and speak of what you have seen from this Awareness while attuned. Thus, without a recorder, you could search by attunement to this Awareness for information, then separate from this Awareness and recall what you saw.

This Awareness indicates it is simply a meditation that you can play around with that can be beneficial in helping you to become more attuned to the energies of this Awareness. This can be rejuvenating to you if you do it properly, if you do not over-indulge for too long, and if you enjoy the experience, it can help to bring a greater vitality to your system.

This Awareness suggests you start out with not more than 15 minutes. You may later expand to long periods of time, according to your energy levels and according to that which is pleasant for your meditation. The key points are to place aside mind, emotion and feeling, and have your focus to where you can turn your attention up through the pituitary to the top of the head and to the eighth chakra, where the crystal lies, and attune yourself to the frequency or vibration.

Ed's Note: This reading was given in March, 1995, and beginning in the September session, Vikki began placing a few experimental crystals within the aura of the Interpreter during the sessions. She plans to give these to certain entities she knows who are trying very hard to become channels for Cosmic Awareness and possibly future Interpreters for CAC.

The procedure outlined by Awareness in this reading is precisely what the Interpreter Paul Shockley does each time he enters the trance state; he places aside mind, emotion, and feeling by touching his forehead and then carefully placing the hands aside. You may be interested to know that Ralph Duby, the first Interpreter for Cosmic Awareness would sometimes use the tape recorder when no energizers were present. He would tape questions on one recorder that he wanted Awareness to answer, leaving five minute or so blank tape between the questions, then start a second recorder to begin recording the Awareness response to his questions. He would start both recorders, lay down and place aside mind, emotion and feeling and enter the trance state. When the first recorder plays the first question Ralph had recorded on tape, Awareness then responds and the second recorder records the answer to the questions. In this manner Ralph was able to contact Awareness for important information whenever he wished. One of the most eloquent of such messages was given only a few weeks before Ralph passed over. This concerned "The New Creation" and the coming of the New Being and was published by CAC in issue number 85-1 ($1.50 from CAC).

WHEN ONE SPOUSE DENIES THE OTHER A SPIRITUAL PATH

QUESTION;

A question from R.H., of Lake Zurich, Illinois

"Twice before, I turned back from my spiritual path because my husband demanded that I stop, or he would divorce me and leave me with two small children to care for. Now the children are older. I have a small amount of money that I earned for myself, and I chose to be about the process of being responsible to myself and Source. Forcing anyone to accept responsibility for themselves is impossible; yet one person in the marriage is trying to control for fear of change, and one wants change for self and the entire planet. One attacks, one avoids and retreats. We are polite to one another, and a sense of duty to the children holds the 16-year marriage together so far. I feel his pain as well as my own. My own inner sense tells me, "Let it be. Let it go." It is very painful to watch. This seems to be a thoroughly common problem between "awake" persons and those they love that hang on to the past. Would Awareness care to shed some light on this rather general problem?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that many times, one entity will experience certain types of impulse to move along a spiritual path, developing these aspects of consciousness for a period of time. Much of this is associated with astrological influences or with psychological influences from childhood, or with psychological influences based upon interest that has developed from the past, or based upon insecurities, or based upon an inner calling of the soul. That this may be in terms of an entire lifetime, or for a major portion of that lifetime, or it may simply be a small cycle of development, such as three or four years, or a decade.

This Awareness indicates that another entity may be experiencing a great need to be more involved in the material realm, or in the social realm, or in the economics of the society, or in the areas of personal prestige, reputation or accomplishment; or in the area of rational and scientific exploration, and this entity may have very little interest in the spiritual areas; that this also may be of a long duration, existing through an entire lifetime, or it may be for a short duration, for a cycle of four or ten years, for example.

This Awareness indicates that when entities come together with some common interest, they often have expectations of each other, thinking that since they have this area in common and are attracted to each other because of this or that particular common interest and compatibility, that therefore they are mated or suited for one another in other respects also. Usually such entities soon discover that there are areas where they are not compatible at all, or wherein the other areas are to be avoided and not discussed for fear of conflict.

This Awareness indicates that often such entities move along the path together relating in those areas where they are compatible, and avoiding those incompatible areas, until one or the other becomes bored with the simplicity of the relationship and the lack of totality or fullness in the relationship, and therefore, attempts to expand and enter into those areas that are taboo in the relationship; and wherein this occurs, conflict may follow.

This Awareness indicates that wherein one entity is involved in a cycle of spiritual development and the other entity has little or no interest at a particular time; this conflict may be of a temporary duration, and therefore, the conflict may be that which needs not be considered as of great urgency and of needing resolution, for the entities involved may eventually switch roles; the one on the spiritual path may find a kind of inclination to move into some rational study, or into some physical security pursuit which also may be of a cycle or of short duration.

That wherein these cycles are kept in a level of balance and not made to be of extreme purpose; whereby the entity pursuing the spiritual path also is able to exist on the physical level, attending to the needs of the economic, social and the rational pursuits of family and domestic needs, in the mundane sense; such an entity is basically well-rounded and is not neglecting the lower vibratory needs and escaping from reality into spiritual concepts; and therefore, this entity can be flexible enough that it is not a problem.

This Awareness indicates wherein an entity pursues the spiritual path to such a degree as to become negligent of all mundane needs and responsibilities to those who are dependent, or somehow tied with that entity; this can often create some difficulties in the entity's life. That likewise, when an entity is in such pursuit of material interests and social interests as to not have any interest at all, and in fact perhaps being afraid of anything of a spiritual nature; that entity may be so immersed in the concept of physical reality as to not be in touch with spiritual realities.

This Awareness indicates that wherein this is extremely polarized between two entities and is not on the level of a brief cycle, then it creates much difficulty and stress in the relationship; and even though there are some areas wherein entities have qualities and interests that are compatible, there may be an outweighing of those compatible interests and qualities with incompatible interests and incompatible qualities.

That when this becomes overbalanced in a negative sense, and the incompatibility between entities becomes too strong, then it is appropriate that the entities either seek out outside assistance in finding some form of counseling to help bring about a greater compatibility, expanding the area of compatibility and diminishing the area of incompatibility; or, if entities do not wish the outside, third-party counseling effect, and can communicate with each other and discuss these areas, or to meet in confrontive energies, regarding the incompatibilities and the compatibility areas; wherein entities can either work this out alone, or with outside assistance; this becomes the key question as to whether these entities can remain together, or whether they will move in separate paths.

This Awareness indicates that in order for entities to remain together, the area of compatibility must be expanded. Compromise or recognition of each other's rights and interests to be involved in certain areas of interest and certain activities; this recognition and respect for each other's rights must be allowed in order to enhance the compatibility area: for if one entity dictates and refuses to allow the other to have certain rights and freedoms, this area of compatibility will diminish in the manner and proportion that the entity's expression is stifled.

That wherein the interests are similar and compatible; this is the area which glues the relationship together. Wherein the interests are separate and incompatible, this area is a potential for trouble. But wherein even the incompatible areas are respected and acknowledged by both parties, wherein the parties allow each other to have the space for their own being, even though they are not in agreement on the activities, qualities or expressions of each other; that mutual respect which allows each to be the individual which he or she wishes to be; this mutual respect of each other's rights is that which can allow for incompatibility areas to exist in the relationship without destruction of that relationship.

The Master/Slave Relationship

This Awareness indicates however, when one entity is intolerant of another's expression or right to be, and the incompatibility areas are not allowed, and the entity insists that the relationship must center around the compatible areas, and no incompatible concepts or activities or interests can be allowed from the other partner, then this becomes a slave/master relationship, a dictatorship, wherein one is the possessor not only of the relationship, but also of the partner's life and soul.

This Awareness indicates that this possession of another entity is that which is, in a spiritual sense, grounds for separation from that one who would possess. This Awareness suggests that no entity should be in bondage to another. Entities may willingly be loyal to each other; but to be in bondage, in particular in bondage to think and act in such a manner, as is opposed to spiritual development and growth; this form of soul bondage is that which is inappropriate. For each entity's personal life, personal soul-growth and spiritual development is that which not only is guaranteed by the Divine Forces as a Divine Right; this is also exemplified in the Constitution of your country, wherein entities have the right to believe and worship according to their dictates.

This Awareness indicates that for an individual to deny another the right to think or to pursue a spiritual growth; this is a gross violation to that entity's soul. This Awareness indicates that it is the responsibility of each entity to pursue the path of spiritual development according to one's own understanding, inclination, and ability. That in order to minimize the conflict involved in such a relationship, the entity seeking to escape from such bondage can express the affection, love and loyalty that the entity feels toward the other person, but also can express the urgent need, and how it feels, and why it is necessary for that entity to pursue the spiritual path.

This Awareness indicates that you do not need to totally reject your husband; you may simply reject that one demand of his, and simply inform him that you love him, you care for him, you wish to stay with him, but you must have that freedom to pursue your spiritual growth and development.

This Awareness indicates that you have as much right to lay down ultimatums as does he; and it is a matter of how these are stated, whether they are diplomatic, whether they are stated in ways which do not appear as threats, or whether they must be stated as threats. That depending on how you relate to this entity, and how threatened he feels, will determine whether the impact of your statement allows you to be free with his good graces to develop and grow, or whether you must move on your path in spite of what he states.

This Awareness indicates it does not appear to this Awareness that this entity would be so rigid as to curtail your interest and ability to move toward spiritual pursuits. It appears the entity has some fear of what might develop if he does not control your thinking; the entity appears to have some insecurities in regard to your loyalty toward him, and also in regard to his own self-image and desire to be all-important to you. This Awareness indicates that the entity needs to be informed through words or actions of any magnitude necessary, that you are first dedicated to your own soul-growth and development, and also to your loyalties to him and to your children.

This Awareness indicates that once this has been clearly stated, the chips may fall where they will; the pieces will arrange themselves. Even if the entity somehow refuses to allow you to move in your spiritual pursuits, he will see his dictations as being futile in controlling your soul.

This Awareness indicates that you cannot sell your soul, even to your mate. Your soul must be dedicated to that which is the universal creative forces which give you your life and soul. This Awareness indicates that entities who put the Divine first shall have little difficulty in reorganizing and setting priorities; this in spite of various demands of petty demagogues and entities who wish to pursue power over others.

This Awareness reminds you of the song by Leonard Cohen, wherein he speaks of "those who must lose everything that you cannot control; it begins with your family, but soon it comes round to your soul." *

In relation to the message just given by Awareness, CAC recently received a letter from a lady, who has been a member of CAC for many years, that her husband is not only divorcing her for reading the Awareness material and other things of a similar nature, but is taking her copies of Revelations of Awareness into court in an attempt to show she belongs to a "cult" etc. Evidently he believes this action will sway the judge into granting the divorce and the property settlement in his favor. Over the years we have had several letters like this one, each time making Vicki T. cry as she reads them, for it is such a frustrating feeling of helplessness as to what to do about it. (We usually put such letters into the Healing Wednesday energy field, where it is turned over to Awareness to deal with.)

When the Interpreter, Paul Shockley, underwent his four-year lawsuit ordeal to drive him and his church off their rightfully-held property in Oregon, a similar tactic was dreamed up by the opposing lawyer; he too, came into the courtroom waving a batch of our Revelations of Awareness newsletters, and crying out to the court: "And here, your honor, is proof that this man is involved in a cult!"

(I have a feeling there is a special place in the afterlife for people like that). Avaton

Get Centered Every Day to Handle the Energies

COSMIC AWARENESS: (OPENING MESSAGE): 6/8/95

This Awareness suggests that entities not forgot occasionally to spend time in silence, to spend time meditating, just getting centered and feeling a quietness, a solitude, attuning to Divine Energies. It is easy in a hectic world to feel the need to be constantly busy, trying to keep up, trying to deal with things that seem urgent, but this Awareness indicates you will find yourself better able to handle the various types of energies and the crises in your life if you spend time in solitude, in getting centered, in being attuned to the Divine energies.

THOSE WHO ALMOST MAKE SUPERSTARDOM--AND THEN DIE

(CHECKS AND BALANCES OF THE SOUL)

A question from John Y., in Oklahoma. I'll read it as he's written it here. It's sort of informal.

"What is the karma, if any, to guys and girls, like Freddy Prince and John Erik Hecston (sp) and countless rock singers (remember the Big Bopper?) who climb all the way up and finally reach that last rung to stardom; I mean these people have the world almost at their feet, and then they die? This is weird, and it bothers me, as an out-of-work extra for the movies.

"And the list is endless: Patsy Kline, Buddy Holly, who was ten times better than Elvis. George Reeves, TV's Superman, Gene Roddenberry; and I'm sure you people can add to the list. I don't mean people like Hank Williams or Steve McQueen or Bruce Lee: these people were already stars. I mean the "Almost-There's."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the entity appears to be focused on the entities who didn't quite reach Superstar status, but were so close, and the question being: "What kind of karma brings on this type of situation wherein they die prior to reaching their goals?" This Awareness asks if this is the correct interpretation as the questioner sees it?

QUESTIONER:

That is correct.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates entities have deep within their psyche certain expectations of themselves as well as certain feelings of limitation. Often an entity will set a goal that he or she feels is really beyond their ability, beyond their capacity, but the ambition and the desire is so strong that they pursue that goal, and in some cases, it comes easier to them than they would expect.

This Awareness indicates that there may still be within the psyche a kind of self-destructive quality or tendency so that on a subconscious level, they do not want the total success they consciously strive for. This Awareness indicates that often it is set up on a subconscious level to have them reach, but at the last moment, to lose that which they reach for.

In some cases, the entity may have a feeling deep within the subconscious that he or she would misuse the power and prestige that would go with the total success and therefore, they have a subconscious check to stop them from reaching that ultimate goal. This Awareness indicates in other words, the subconscious of an entity may stop them from achieving their ultimate dream for fear that they might misuse the prestige, power and influence that goes with such success.

This Awareness indicates that in other situations described, there are other forces that destroy the entity which are not of his or her own making. A dark inimical force, for example, might take the life of someone in order to prevent them from doing good things for humanity, might cause the entity to have a fatal accident or to bring about some kind of incident that stops them from further pursuit of their career, simply because such a powerful force for good would hinder the efforts of the negative force.

Dark Force can Still Get the Spiritually Enlightened Entity

This Awareness indicates that this is generally quite rare, but it does occasionally happen, that the Christ Light of entities would be crucified by a Dark Force is not something new. This Awareness indicates that most of the time the spiritually enlightened being is able to overcome the darkness that may pursue or seek to destroy the Christ Light, but there are times when the Dark Force destroys the innocence of an entity, and when entities are spiritually enlightened, but somewhat naive, they become especially vulnerable to the Dark Force energies that would prevent them from carrying out their full potential as a Light Worker.

The Murder of Jimi Hendrix

This Awareness indicates that on other occasions, great talent is often the target of evil entities or entities who have diabolical intentions. This Awareness indicates the case of Jimi Hendrix, for example, wherein this entity was forced to drink battery acid, and was thus killed by entities who did not like the influence this entity had over young people in his music.

This Awareness indicates that it was neither suicide, nor was it a drug overdose as it was purported to be, nor was it a karmic event, nor anything the entity consciously brought upon himself. It was outright murder. This Awareness indicates there are many different areas covered in this question, different ways by which entities have been terminated. It is not always a karmic problem.

This Awareness indicates probably the closest aspect to karma would be the subconscious attempting to block the success of an entity. In that case, the karma would be carried out by the entity's own subconscious which could bring on an accident or some incident stopping the entity's further success.

WILL THESE ENTITIES HAVE TO TRY AGAIN?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Awareness has indicated that in the case of the suicide, the entity invariably must come back and reincarnate and work himself back to the same point approximately in that new lifetime where he took his life in the former, and to be challenged once again by whatever it is he came to overcome during that lifetime.

There isn't, in the case of entities like in the question here whose lives were taken in a non-suicidal way, a similar thing, wherein after their departure, they are compelled to come back and try it over, and this time become the Superstar and this sort of thing. Is there a law like that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is negative. This Awareness indicates that it is not a situation in which entities are compelled to come back and pursue Superstardom because they had fallen short in a previous lifetime. This Awareness indicates that it is possible, however, that an entity may choose to come back and pursue that course he was denied in a previous lifetime.

Thus, the entity may seek to achieve that which fell short in a previous lifetime so that he may still seek the fruit of success in a subsequent lifetime. This Awareness indicates that this is not something of a principle or common law among entities. It would be a matter of personal choice.

This Awareness indicates an entity who is pursuing a certain dream and is cut short, may come back in a subsequent life and have a great desire to finish that which was not finish in the previous lifetime and thus, the entity may then pursue something of significance, perhaps not the same thing, perhaps something totally different.

For example, an entity in one life may pursue a political career, seeking to become president or something, and fall short and perhaps die before reaching the success he or she pursued, but in a future lifetime, the entity still pursuing a goal, might have a totally different focus.

The entity might seek some kind of Superstardom in drama or in sports or in business, but the pursuit might not have anything to do with the politics of his previous lifetime, but he may still have as much ambition and drive, and the entity might in fact become successful in his new venture, in his subsequent lifetime.

This Awareness indicates that normally, It speaks of "this" or "her"; and in this reading It was negligent in using the old English format of using the word "his" in a way that implied "his" or "her" but did not speak of "her." This Awareness indicates that It did not mean to exclude "her" from the references of the entity being discussed.
