Cosmic Awareness reveals the secret of manifesting...

How to obtain everything you ever desired

THE NATURE OF MANIFESTING

(CAC General Reading, 1/11/91)

OPENING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates that It frequently receives requests from entities in regard to manifesting their fantasies or dreams, and in some cases, the requests are reflective of mentality that does not understand the nature of manifestation. This Awareness indicates that many entities believe they understand through some metaphysical insight how to manifest, but in fact, they are simply dabbling in mental images and wishful thinking.

Why Dreams and Fantasies of Entities Often Fail to Materialize

This Awareness indicates that It wishes at this time to assist in clarifying for entities why their fantasies and dreams often fail to materialize. There are, of course, many who expect manifestations of unbelievable wealth without doing anything other than thinking and requesting from Higher Forces that this unbelievable wealth be dropped in their lap. This Awareness indicates that this often occurs in regard to Lotto tickets or in regard to some other mental argument, that they would do wonders if the Gods would only provide them with the wealth required to do such wonders, and why don't the gods respond to my need for this money, since I would do so much for the gods in return?"

This Awareness indicates that this type of wishful thinking is not in any way related to practical magic of manifesting in terms of reality. This Awareness indicates in many cases entities create their own reality, and many advocate that everyone creates their own reality, but most who advocate this philosophy will not allow for others to have any room in relation to the collective reality for bad luck, or for difficulties, saying to them "Your problem is your own! You create your own reality!"

This Awareness indicates that this is very common with people who are new in metaphysics, who think that simply by the use of thought or mind, they can alter reality to be exactly what they want it to be and be totally free of trouble, and that everyone can do so, for when they see someone who is suffering, they simply assume that the entity wants it that way.

The Concept of Creating Your Own Reality

This Awareness indicates that the concept of creating your own reality is a possibility, so long as your reality either coincides with the reality of the collective consciousness in which you are a part of, or if your own reality is totally devoid of collective consciousness and you totally ignore the reality of the world. This Awareness indicates in such an instance, others would see you as insane and out of touch with reality, with the collective reality that they consider as being the real world, and in fact would be so.

There are many who might, for example, have the personal reality, believing themselves to be the king of some great country or the queen of some land or people, or they might see themselves as some famous movie star or some historical character, to the degree that they actually believe this; but does it make it so? For them it is their reality. For the rest of consciousness it is illusion, and they are classed as insane.

This Awareness indicates that one can create one's own reality that is totally divorced from the reality of others, but does it make their reality a reality? or does it make them simply the type of person who is suffering from delusions? This Awareness indicates that before one begins working on creating his or her own reality, he or she should decide whether they want their reality to parallel the reality of the collective consciousness or to be off in a world of its own, for it is easy to create your own reality if you are in a world of your own, but it is totally a fanciful world, having nothing to do with the real world of others.

This Awareness indicates that if you wish to manifest a reality that is also in touch with the reality of others so that what you dream and what you wish to manifest has a place in the real world, this then becomes a different matter. It is not quite so easy. You may, for example, in creating your own reality, convince yourself that monopoly money is real money and that you live in this real world in which you are wealthy and have all kinds of monopoly money to spend and you may believe that the monopoly money is real wealth for you.

This Awareness indicates that as long as you don't go into the real world or collective world of others to try to spend it, you can sustain your illusion or your personal reality. This Awareness indicates that if you wish to do this kind of manifesting of money in the real world in which others share in the illusion or in the collective consciousness of reality, then you must abide by the rules of that collective world and manifest in accordance with certain principles involved in the collective world.

This Awareness indicates that as you begin your manifestation and imaging you must include, if you wish to be included in the collective consciousness, you must include that collective consciousness as part of your imaging so that you not only create and manifest this creation for yourself, but you must manifest it in the middle of the collective consciousness which you also recognize as reality. This Awareness indicates there are not too many who can easily do this, and it is for this reason that more often than not, metaphysical involvement tends to lead entities into delusions and wishful thinking and into realms that are out of touch with the rest of society, and this can be very dangerous for entities in terms of their welfare and social integration.

Using the Qabalah to Manifest in the Midst of Collective Reality

This Awareness wishes at this time to address a way by which entities can remain in touch with the reality of others and still carry out a reasonable type of manifestation, to allow themselves the luxury and enjoyment of being able to manifest reality in the midst of collective reality rather than in a mere level of personal reality.

This Awareness indicates that long ago the Qabalah was a kind of road map, diagram or blueprint for manifestation used by Hebrew priests and it still has certain values in terms of its usefulness for manifesting. This Awareness does not wish to go into the Qabalah per se, but to touch upon its principles in a way that can be easily understood. You do not need to learn the language associated with the map of the Qabalah so long as you understand the movements.

Get an Ordinary Deck of Playing Cards

This Awareness indicates that the easiest way to understand the manifesting principles in the Qabalah is by taking an ordinary deck of cards and imagine yourself, or, actually do it, placing all of the club cards in a stack at the top of your table, placing all of the diamond cards at the bottom of your table, placing the heart card in a stack next to the clubs, and the spade cards above the diamond cards, breaking the deck into four suits, going from the top down: clubs, hearts, spades and diamonds.

This Awareness indicates in the Qabalah, the top deck of clubs would equate to that which was called Atsiluth. It is the realm of spirit or Cause. The second deck of hearts would equate to the realm known as Briah. It is the realm of Images. The third deck of spades equates to the realm of Tarot known as Yetsirah, the world of mind or thought. The bottom deck of diamonds equates to Assiah and represents that which is earth. Thus the earth representing substance or matter.

This Awareness indicates from the top, the element associated with the clubs is that of Fire. The element associated with hearts is that of Water, and the element associated with spades, and the element associated with diamonds is that of Earth. These are qualities, not quantities, as used in chemistry, in the chemical table of elements.

The Qualities of Earth, Air, Fire, and Water

The quality of Fire is that of radiance. The quality of Water is that of magnetism, The quality of Air is that of vibration, and the quality of Earth is that of stability. This Awareness indicates that thus you have the Fire, Air, Water and Earth and these are represented by the four suits of the ordinary deck of cards.

This Awareness indicates that in the Tarot cards, these would be represented by wands, by cups, by swords, and by pentacles or coins, in that order, from top to bottom.

Arrange the Top Suit Into Numbers

This Awareness indicates that at this point, visualize, or actually do it: Arrange the top suit into numbers by flipping over the cards, starting from the, top down, going from the highest number down. At the top would be the number ten; to the right and lower would be the number nine; to the left and under the top would be the number eight. To the right, under the nine would be seven, and under the eight would be six. Five would be in the center, and slightly below the six and seven, with four being to the right and under the seven, and three being to the left, under the six; two being under the four and one being under the three.

The ten of hearts would be beneath these two, and in the middle, and the pattern of numbering repeats itself, going again from ten to nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one, at which time you have laid out a pattern similar to the one above and the ten of spades appears beneath the one and two and slightly below, in the middle. The ten of spades then being likewise, the top of the third Qabalah in the chain, and the pattern again is repeated with the numbers being placed accordingly, down to the two and one (one being Ace) at the bottom, with the ten of diamonds being at the very bottom of that third Qabalah, and again the pattern being repeated

You Now Have Laid Out 40 Cards (Use No Face Cards)

This Awareness indicates you have laid out forty cards, ignoring all of the face-card. You have laid out forty cards and have four Qabalas in a chain, from the top to the bottom in four different suits, alternating black to red, black to red, and moving from clubs down to hearts, to spades and diamonds. This Awareness indicates that in the activity of manifesting by use of the Qabalah, the power of manifestation follows from the top club, number ten, down through following the numbers, down through to the next Qabalah and again follows the numbers, down through to the next Qabalah, and again through the next, so that you first manifest in the realm of causal energies.

The Atsiluth Level of Causal Energy Deals With Concepts

The Atsiluth level of causal energies deals with concepts. In other words, you develop the concept from the number ten, moving down into a kind of plan or conceptual reality, much as the entity who creates a personal reality that is nothing more than a fantasy. You create it first in that level of consciousness that is only in the mind or only in the conceptual levels.

To Manifest Your Creation, Visualize it in an Abstract Manner

For example, if you wish to create an object, or any concept whatsoever; if you wish to create, (this Awareness suggests let's use the word creation). If you wish to manifest your creation, you must visualize the creation in the most abstract manner, which would be number ten at the top, gradually bringing it down into and through the pattern. The first numbers, from ten through eight, seven and six, would be putting the creation together in the absolute most abstract levels.

Upon reaching five, it would begin to take on a kind of image. It may even absorb a name in your consciousness. From there it comes down to a clear concept, as it moves from five through four, three, two, one, and appears at ten of the Briah, or heart suit, or Qabalah.

When You Reach Number 10 in the Second Qabalah Down

Upon arriving at the number ten in the second Qabalah down, which represents images, you may visualize a very faint or mystical image of what you are manifesting as your creation, and that image then is moved down from ten through nine, eight, seven, six, with each movement becoming, more clear; five being the central point in which its details begin to emerge as a kind of general reality, and from five through four, three, two, and the one, it becomes more specified in its Image, to where all the details are imaged.

Now You Move Into the Mental Level—the Area of Spades

Once this becomes imaged and you see the creation as a kind of blueprint or plan that is clear in your consciousness as to how it can take place, then it is ready to move into the mental level of words, and drawings, and vocalized activities. Thus, it moves then into the area of spades, and from there you may create drawings or begin communicating and talking together, energies of those who might be participants, to work with people, to get your people together who could make this thing happen.

You call experts, you call associates or friends, and of course, you must find some way in which they can benefit if they wish to benefit from your creation. You work out deals or arrangements with them for their energies which are contributed to your creation. In some cases there will not be other people involved, and you can create it singularly without the help of others.

In such a case you may wish to use the mental Qabalah simply for the drawings of the diagrams of your creation, rather than talking about it and working out arrangements with people. In the final Qabalah, these things start manifesting as actual behavior, activities, constructions, and actual manifestations. The parts may be created separately, according to the plan, and brought together, and the final assembly taking place in this lower material Qabalah of the diamonds, or that which is Earth. It is the stability that becomes manifested in terms of your concepts.

This Awareness indicates if all is practically developed on these levels through the conceptual level, the imagery level, and diagram and blueprint level, and the construction level, your manifestation can come true. If it is reasonable in terms of the collective reality shared by others, it can have substance in that reality. If it is simply for your own reality and does not connect with the collective reality, then it is simply a creation for your own enjoyment in your own fantasy and may never have substance in the collective reality; that which is called the real world.

When Others Participate You Must Have Their Agreement

This Awareness indicates It hopes that this can help clarify for some entities what is actually involved in creation and manifestation and to help entities see the difference between wishful thinking, fantasizing and actual manifesting in a collective reality sense. This Awareness indicates that when your visualization and purposes for manifesting have to do with the responsiveness of other entities, there is a need to have their agreement and participation in your dream, and if you do not get this, along the way, you will more than likely keep the dream as a mere fantasy that never manifests in the collective or mutual reality.

In other words, if, in your fantasy you seek a cooperation from another, you must also have the other's cooperation to fulfill your fantasy, and make it into a reality. This Awareness indicates this would take place in the same manner wherein you present the other with the concept, with the images, and with communication and blueprints,

At the communication and blueprint level, the spades, you would need to have meetings with the entity to discuss things so that there is a mutual joining of energies to effect the manifestations. Thus, an entity seeking to have a partnership with someone, would develop the partnership using similar principles. It would easily become a pattern of manifestation if entities were to use this repeatedly for three or four different occasions, so that they could then automatically or spontaneously begin to think in terms of manifesting and do so without having to go through deep thought and difficult mental effort and meditation to bring about the manifestation they desire.

The More Difficult the Manifestation, the More Energy Required

This Awareness indicates that once the mind finds a new way of thinking, develops a pattern for manifesting, it becomes second nature to use that pattern repeatedly. This may be thought of as operating like a cookie-cutter. You cut one cookie and you know how to cut more thereafter, and can repeat the operation over and over, manifesting one thing after another. This Awareness indicates, however, that you must understand, the more difficult the manifestation is, the more energy you will need to put into the different levels of your manifesting pattern.

WHERE DID THE ANCIENT RABBIS GET THIS INFORMATION?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

How did those ancient Rabbis originally get that information? Did it come from aliens or something like that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative; that this as associated with the ancient science that aliens brought to this planet. It relates, in part, to creative forces which reflect in molecules; that the molecules themselves follow certain chains, energies that are chained, and the ancient scientists began to recognize that there are triangular patterns in regard to all energies and that these triangular patterns can be arranged in a way that allow for manifestation when an orderly procedure is used.

The Magic Ritual Involves Mind, Emotion, and Feeling

It becomes a kind of blueprint for consciousness to use in bringing concepts into materialized realities. This Awareness indicates it also relates closely to the rituals of magic in which mind, emotion and feeling are brought into manifestation along with physical grounding. The feeling representing Atsiluth or the abstract, the clubs; the emotions representing the hearts or cups and water; feeling representing fire, and the mind represented as the Yetsirah, or spades or swords, and the earth or grounding action, representing that of mind in the mind, emotion, feeling and grounding aspects of magical ritual.

The Importance of a Grounding Action When You Start

This Awareness indicates that it is always important when starting to manifest into final physical reality, to have some form of grounding action that starts off the final work; thus the launching of a ship with a ceremony; the christening of a child, or the groundbreaking ceremony before creating a building; these are social expressions. The striking of a gavel at the beginning and end of a trial, the shot of a pistol at the beginning of a race; these are all things that ground the concept into a manifestation of reality. The race is not a race until it is grounded by the start of the race and there is always a signal to start the race. That signal is the grounding action that manifests the race into a reality.

The same can be said for other expressions. Otherwise the expressions simply remain ungrounded as ideas. Once these ideas are made real, by some signal or some ceremony, or some indicator, then they are no longer mere ideas. They become something of substance. This places them in the world of the Assiah or Diamond Qabalah, the world of materialized reality.

Can This System be Used for Dark Purposes?

(How to Make a Treasure Map for Manifesting)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Can this system, or has this system of manifestation through the Qabalah, been used for dark purposes?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Absolutely. This Awareness indicates it can be used for dark or Light purposes. It is simply a pattern of thought and according to what entities wish to manifest, they may choose. It does not discriminate as a pattern as to whether a motive is proper or not. This Awareness indicates that neither does any other type of thinking in terms of its pattern make such discrimination. It is the substance of thought that can determine what is right from what is wrong, rather than the pattern of thought.

If your patterns are always filled with substances that are wholesome and proper, then your thoughts will be wholesome and proper, regardless of what pattern you use. This Awareness indicates that if you look at the concept of the Treasure Map which is promoted as a way of manifesting something, you will find that the action incorporates the same principles just described, for you have the concept that you first feel, then you image what you wish to put into your Treasure Map. You visualize in your own consciousness or mind what you want, then you write it down.

The conceptual level as being that of the clubs, the imaging level being that of hearts, and the writing down of your treasure map is that of spades, then you put it away, which is a kind of grounding action, and let it grow or let its magic work, and then wait for the manifestation. This Awareness indicates that the manifestation begins to occur in your life and you arrange these realities in such a way so that when the reality begins to come into your life it is allowed to manifest toward that which you envisioned and put into your treasure map.

This Awareness indicates that if you do not work with the realities when they come into the Diamond Qabalah or, or that of Assiah, then these manifestations may become scattered so that they don't fully come into play as you had envisioned. You must be responsive to the manifestation when it arrives in your reality. This Awareness cautions, also, that it is possible for entities to fuse manifestations by having mixed images and mixed concepts and confused blueprints.

Don't Confuse Images in Your Treasure Map

For example, you may wish yourself a new car. If the car is experienced on the conceptual level, it may begin as a fine manifestation. When you move it into the heart Qabalah, or that of Briah, it may begin to be visualized, but if you get confused and say: "I want a Porsche. No, I want a Massarati, or, do I really want a Mercedes?... and you begin confusing your images because you cannot clarify which one you want, and then you move this into the blueprint level and you still haven't made a clear discernment as to what you want, you may be presented with opportunities for any of these, and you may find that because you could not settle on any one, that you will flutter away the opportunities or get something that isn't clearly what you desired.

Best Manifesting Occurs at Briah Level

This Awareness indicates that, of course, the best way of manifesting is that during the Briah level, that of the heart, wherein you create the images in your mind, visualizing clearly what you want, that you visualize in detail the color, the year, and the model, and you see it very clearly and then move into the blueprint level which is represented as the spades in the deck of cards, wherein you draw your plans, write down the colors, the year, and all of the details that you have envisioned, and then what you expect yourself to be able to do in order to afford the car, or how you expect to approach the problem of paying for the car, or if there is perhaps no money, how you might find a way to receive the car without paying for it through the help of someone or some credit or other means.

The Temptation to Take the Negative Path

It is of course possible the entity at this stage will want the manifestation so badly that he or she will consider means of achieving that are not ethical or are not appropriate or honest, and this is where often entities depart from good sense and choose the negative path in their manifestation efforts; thus, the entity may choose to steal such a car rather than find a way to honestly pay for or get the car,

The entity should, however, realize that the theft of the car will most likely make the manifestation unworthy and bring about negative karma, and that if the entity does not know how to get the car or creation in any other way than to steal it, the entity should then simply let the magic work and not worry about how it will arrive, but may put in his blueprint: "I want the car, but I don't want it if it is not ethically right for me."

And then you might wait and see, for there are ways by which things appear that are often out of the realm of one's making. Someone might simply have a vehicle of that type that they want to get rid of because they have another vehicle that they are getting, and you may find that even though some time has passed, you have run into an opportunity to receive such a vehicle and there may be some arrangement by which you can have the vehicle, either through a trade of energies or through some other transaction, some other means of transaction.

Put a Time Limit in Your Treasure Map

This Awareness indicates that there are often manifestation of dreams and images that come late. Therefore, you may wish to put a time limit on your manifestation. It should be something you feel is realistic. or you may, if you don't feel the great pressure to have it immediately, you may leave the time somewhat more open, and it may well be that before your manifestation ever develops, that you will change your mind, and want something different, in which case, you may find yourself presented at some point with an opportunity to acquire that which you sought to manifest, but at such a time, you may find it unappealing to you and have an interest in something different.

A Light Hearted Attitude Enhances Treasure Map

This Awareness indicates that it is best for entities to play around with the manifestation of things without getting too desperate or serious and frustrated, for as long as you do these things light-heartedly, they tend to work better than if you seek to manifest something out of desperation and then become frustrated because it does not happen fast enough or soon enough. This Awareness indicates, of course, the more unlikely your effort to manifest, the more unlikely it will manifest.

The Story of the Interpreter and the Ruffled Car

This Awareness suggests that an example being an entity once approached the Interpreter, offering to give the church a new vehicle which would be coming within a month. The Interpreter inquired as to where it was coming from, who would be paying for it. The entity explained that it was a raffle, that there were tickets sold and it would be raffled off, but that he was sure he would be the winner because he was using visualization and imaging himself as the winner of the ticket, and of the vehicle.

This Awareness indicates that needless to say, the vehicle never arrived. The entity had chosen to offer the vehicle, but had the entity been more in personal need of the vehicle, or of any manifestation, and had the entity had that same attitude or felt personal desperation for the vehicle or felt so confident as to how it would arrive, the entity might have begun counting his chickens before they hatched and might have gotten himself into serious trouble.

Courageous Foolishness in Playing Lotto

For example, suppose an entity is convinced that he can manifest the winning ticket of a lottery, and because he believes he can do so, he begins to spend his money frivolously on the belief that he is going to come into a large amount of money at the next lotto winning. This Awareness indicates that this becomes quite a foolish move, yet there are entities who do such things. They wish to portray their faith in the belief that by showing how courageously they are acting in their faith that it will strengthen the chances of their winning. This Awareness indicates that it is better for entities to play around with manifesting until you have had a few manifestations under your belt, to show yourself and to strengthen your faith in your ability to manifest, to show yourself that it does work for you, and then gradually increase your expectations as to what you can manifest.

Taking a Leap of Faith Doesn't Always Help the Manifestation

As time passes, you may find yourself being able to manifest things more easily and more valuable things may be manifested as you see the results. Faith, then, becomes based on experience rather than on mere hope or desperation. This Awareness indicates that many times an entity thinks that taking the leap, a leap of faith, is going to help the manifestation. Sometimes it can be helpful, but if you haven't properly done the spade-work, it may simply be a leap into wishful thinking, for there is much more than faith involved in manifestation.

Cayce's Statement: "Mind is the Builder"

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

When Edgar Cayce made the statement that "mind is the builder," he was speaking essentially of this type of thing, wasn't he?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This is in the affirmative; that this statement would be appropriate; that the mind does not simply leap to a creation. Creations do not just leap out of the mind. The mind must build those creations, and to build them into your collective reality requires that the rules of collective reality become part of the environment in which the mind is creating. Otherwise, you are simply creating an illusion in your mind which may fool yourself into thinking you have manifested something, but it may not fool the rest of the world.

This Awareness indicates an entity can, for example, wish to become a great singer, and through self-hypnosis, the entity may convince himself that he is a great singer. The question is: Is there anyone else who would agree? If the entity, however, ties his wish into the collective reality of others, saying: "I wish to become a great singer, and I wish that others would recognize me as a great singer," then the entity could begin working toward this, and would begin to use others to reflect upon, to determine how he was progressing, and if the entity persisted long enough, it is possible that he might become recognized by others as a great singer.

Without that need for recognition from the real world, the entity might simply assume he was a great singer, and promote himself as a great singer, and yet not have anyone else in agreement. His personal reality may not be connected to the collective reality. It is important for entities to determine whether this is necessary or whether they simply want to run away from reality, the collective reality, and live in a world of their own with their own personal reality to entertain themselves.

Does the Human Mind Automatically Know About this Magic, or is it Totally Ignorant?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

People who have strong will power or who have a goal, some sort of goal, perhaps in the world of business, or a goal to have a specific type of home, for example; these people, when they think it out in an orderly manner in their mind, and they continually energize it over a period of time; they give it a lot of thought; they research magazines and blueprints and so forth, and sooner or later, for some of these people, what it was they were energizing does manifest.

My question is: Is there a part of the mind that automatically goes through this process Awareness has laid out through the Qabalah, and is totally ignorant of this particular path?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates the human mind does not need to know anything about the Qabalah or how the playing cards can be used to teach manifestation. It can automatically work to manifest, using the same principles, but if you understand the principles of manifestation it makes it easier to do it more efficiently. This Awareness indicates that much of the population has some degree of manifesting power. Most children learn that if they want something, they need to communicate or work toward acquiring that something.

They automatically visualized it, conceive it and visualize it, and then maybe talk about it to someone, and then perhaps they get it. This is learned from childhood up. It is a simple pattern of the mind, but there are many who do not know how to consciously apply such process to those more difficult efforts of manifesting. They may learn to ask for something, but often they do not; they are taught or trained through experiences or through childhood circumstances, that they cannot have anything that is too expensive or out of the budget, so they don't even consider applying those techniques they use in getting small things to the larger things in life.

In fact, many do not even recognize that they are using a technique in acquiring small things; they simply act out of habit. This Awareness indicates that in looking at the way anything is manifested on this plane other than that which comes from nature itself; the creation of bridges or buildings or highways or structures of any kind, or organizations of any kind, or businesses of any kind, --any kind of activity that is organized or managed,-- all of this came out of somebody's mind.

God Created Nature in a Similar Manner

It was once conceived as a concept, then imaged, then put into some kind of blueprint or words, and then manifested as reality. That's how everything is created, (everything that is man-made.) This Awareness indicates that those things of nature were also created in similar ways from the Universal Consciousness in Its imagery and Its Projection of things and thus, nature itself follows this similar pattern.

Newton's 3rd Law (Action Equals Reaction) Can be Used

This Awareness indicates that another Principle that may need to be mentioned in manifestation is that Third Law of Newton, that for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction; thus, when an entity starts seeking to manifest something, there may be forces that would oppose or block the manifestation, and when this occurs, it is generally a time for payment of some form of energy to remove the block. The payment of an energy needs not necessarily mean payment of money, but there may be a need to put out energy in order for the manifestation to occur and the block may need to be removed.

It is not that the gods are against you and won't let you have your million dollars, but rather that in your motion of movement to acquire your million dollars there is an equal and opposite force working against you, and you may need to put forth energy to work against that, to allow your manifestation space to occur. This Awareness indicates that this is an area that needs to be understood, for many people in the metaphysical arena seem to think that all they need to do is sit on their duff and think and grow rich. There is also the need to get out and shake the bushes if that becomes a requirement.

More Than Meditating and Imaging is Required

There will always be some requirement of energy on your part other than the mere meditating and imaging. This Awareness indicates you may then say: "Well, what's the purpose of trying to manifest if I have to work for my manifestation?" This Awareness indicates that the purpose is that in your manifestation patterns, your effort to manifest using this pattern creates an easier route than would occur otherwise. The shortest distance between having and having not is through this manifesting pattern.

It may require you to put in a considerable amount of time and energy and work, but it will be much less time, energy, and work than would be required without the manifesting pattern being used.

Getting Winning Lottery Numbers in Dreams

(Entities Dream Backwards in Time and It Can Pay Off)

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

There have been a few stories in the newspaper about lottery winners that claim they got their numbers in a dream, and in one story, a lady said she got the winning numbers through meditation. Was this just coincidence, or was there some sort of manifesting law at work there?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it is possible for some entities who are sensitive to tune into these energies and vibrations relating to winning numbers prior to their being released, by looking into the realm of antimatter. This Awareness reminds you that antimatter flows in an opposite direction and that entities in dreams often are dreaming backwards in time, and that the entities who dream backwards in time may go into the future and see things that will come to pass.

If they are seeking a number for a lottery and program themselves by thinking heavily prior to falling asleep that they want to receive that number, there is some increase in odds for them that they will receive the number they seek, that would be good for future winning. This Awareness does not wish to encourage entities to gamble by suggesting that this will help them win. There are very few winners.

It suggest that entities work with the odds, not against the odds, and that lottery tickets, much like gambling in Las Vegas, favors the house, or in the case of the lottery favors those who set up the lottery, therefore, entities gambling in lottery games have the odds stacked against them. Your best chance of winning is to avoid them altogether and save the money for something that is more in your favor.

This Awareness indicates, however, if you do it simply for the enjoyment of the game without counting on or doing it in order to win, or needing to win, then it can be an experience wherein you are simply paying for entertainment and that becomes a different matter. It is not the same as gambling. This Awareness indicates that if it becomes important to you to win the lottery, then you are in trouble.

Tom Mooney's Incredible Treasure Map

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (AVATON):

In reference to the treasure map, there was an experience I witnessed about 20 years ago with an entity from Calgary, Canada, by the name of Tom Mooney, who at the time was doing some channeling for Awareness, and wanted to come to Olympia for a meeting the Organization of Awareness was having on how to set up Development Classes. He wanted to get them started in Canada but he didn't have the transportation and he didn't have the money. This was really an important thing to him, so he wrote me and he asked my advice. So I mailed him a copy of the Ophiel book that told how to make a Treasure Map, and I told him to read that chapter and to make his own Treasure Map, and to be sure to put a time limit on it, and not be too exact in the specifications because of the time limit.

Primarily, he wanted transportation, and so in his treasure map, he told me later, he just indicated he needed transportation to Olympia, and in the form of a car, and the day before he was supposed to leave, his brother, whom he had not seen in years, drove up the driveway with his family and announced that he was on his way to Hawaii to live, and he asked Tom if he would like to have his car because he now had no use for it. He wasn't going to take it over there because of the high transportation cost.

And this, of course, provided the transportation, and a check came in the mail the very next day he was to leave, I believe, from some Aunt that had died, who he hardly ever knew of, and his Treasure Map evidently had worked just perfectly. My question basically is: If you keep it simple, like he did, and not request a Ferrari or some expensive detailed type of auto, but simply refer to good transportation, and you have a critical time limit; this appears, in his case, to be much more effective than an entity who makes a really elaborate and detailed Treasure Map. Is this correct?*

ED's Note: There is much more to this incredible story of Tom Mooney and his Treasure Map (there were several other things he required which manifested just in the nick of time) and this story is related in its entirety by this editor in "Revelations of Awareness" issue 83-12 ($3.00 from CAC), right after the reading on Paul Shockley's Pursuit of a Soul Mate. If you have any doubts about a Treasure Map, you should read this true story of Tom Mooney in that issue. The book I mailed him by Ophiel was called "The Art and Practice of Getting Material Things Through Creative Visualization" and, unfortunately, has been out of print for years and is unavailable.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This as in the affirmative. The more demanding and more expensive in terms of the rarity or likelihood of your request, the longer and more difficult the manifestation. It is in fact possible that there are some things that cannot be provided through manifestation. This Awareness indicates there are some things that are impossible. For example, an entity may say, "I wish to have as a wife, a beautiful 'blonde from the Pleiades and I wish her to appear in my life on a certain date, when I am going up the elevator. I wish her to appear in the elevators suddenly, so that I know she is from the Pleiades, and I wish her to have great power, to be able to manifest anything I desire." Such fantasizing is not within the realm of possibility for entities on earth and therefore, such a treasure map would be absolutely pointless, or such an effort for manifestation would be pointless. The entity could spend much of his life seeking this and might by some fluke create a situation in which he believed this happened because of his separate personal reality and mental aberrations, causing him to hallucinate.

It could be that with such an effort he might believe it to have occurred for him, but it would not fit in the collective reality known as the 'real world.' Thus, there are some people who ask for the impossible, seek to manifest the impossible, and wonder why it doesn't work. They would be much better off to manifest something that is easy for them, until they get the grasp of manifesting and then go to something more difficult.

It is much like learning to ride a bicycle. You don't start off by leaping over cars with a bicycle.

Can One Do a Treasure Map for Another Person Without their Permission?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Is it possible an entity could do a treasure map for another person and that other person, not being aware he was doing it? For example, if an entity knew of a woman that he wanted to marry, and she didn't want anything to do with him or knew about this, and he drew a treasure map, and through the process it would lead her to him. Would this be proper, or would this be black magic, or would it even work?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this could be used. There does need to come at some time a point in which the woman's consent would be part of the formula; that she would have to willingly consent to be with him, if it were to be proper. This Awareness indicates that it would be improper if the entity persisted after the woman had indicated a disinterest or a desire to break the relationship.

This Awareness indicates that generally speaking, it is important for entities not to impose their will on others without their willingness and their consent. This Awareness indicates, however, there are instances in which an entity might express a discontent with someone and yet, as time passes, they might change their mind. For this reason, often entities in their fantasies toward another may become quite persistent, thinking that: "Well, she thinks she doesn't care for me, but if I persist, eventually she's going to find out what a great guy I am."

To Become Obsessed Over Another is Dangerous Territory

This Awareness indicates that such persistence often leads the entity into considerable trouble. Entities can become obsessed with acquiring or possessing someone else to the point of harassing the person and causing them much stress and grief, and if the obsession becomes too strong, can become abusive in the harassment and this has led to many instances of violation to another. It is dangerous territory to persist when being rebuffed by someone. It is better to hold closely with open arms, express affection and accept rejection if that is the response, allowing others freedom.

This Awareness indicates that entities should have great respect for the freedom of others, particularly freedom from themselves, for you cannot always free others from still others that they bond themselves to, but you can free them from yourself so that you are not possessive toward other people. If the bonding is mutual, then there can be the mutual possessiveness that is part of such bonding without violation to either, because both of you choose to possess each other. That can create a close bonding of entities. It also has been described in some cases as codependency, wherein entities depend on each other too much for their own individual good.

Codependency Relationships

This Awareness indicates that those involved in codependency relationships often prevent each other from their full potential development. One will wait and hold back on his or her ambitions or expression so as not to offend the one he or she is dependent on. The other may feel the same way and both depend on each other, and in so doing, keep each other from fulfilling their own potential.

Cabalistic Magic in the Early Organization of Awareness: Why was it Used?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

In the early days of the Organization of Awareness there was a lot of information given and a heavy thrust into cabalistic type of rituals and magic and so on. Was this needed at that time, or was this primarily that the Interpreter Ralph Duby was Jewish?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that much of this was a kind of mentality of the group at the time. The entity Dr. Duby as having some background in the Qabalah, was able to satisfy this need of the group to some degree. The need of the group to be able to manifest was based largely on the misunderstanding that Awareness was providing them with some form of power. This group was largely made up of people who had been involved in occult levels in past lives, and many of them sought power and basically wanted to be able to use magic in their lives rather than to live in the normal world doing normal things.

This Awareness wishes entities to understand that the real use of magic requires that you do normal things to manifest your realities, along with your understanding of the principles, for even in using the Qabalah, you still need to be able to put forth the energy that is required in your manifestation when it comes time to work, and physically ground the plan into reality. It is not something for lazy people. In fact, you may find yourself working harder than you ever worked in your life to manifest your dream into reality.

Has the Qabalah Lost Power?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

I believe some years back Awareness indicated that the Qabalah had lost much of its power that it formerly had, or words to that effect, that It sort of discouraged entities from putting a lot of energy into that type of thing because it no longer held the power that it did.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this was largely because of the deterioration in the understanding of the pattern and the overemphasis that entities placed on the words describing the various points and patterns of the Qabalah. Many entities were focusing on the Hebrew terminology and missing the principle of manifestation that was the true message of the Qabalah.

This Awareness indicates it is likened unto a time in which the periodic table, which may at present hold much power for scientists and chemists and physicists, might be looked at in the future and all of the terminologies and words used to describe or to name these various elements could be without definition or without clarity to the mind reading the periodic table. It would at such time have lost its power because the entities would not understand it.

This Awareness indicates that the understanding of the principle of the Qabalah does not require that entities learn all of the labels defining the Sephiroth and the various levels of the Qabalah.

If the police arrest a mime, do they tell him he has the right to remain silent?

The "Secret" of the House of Rothschild

(More on How a Talisman Works)

QUESTION:

Michael G. sent in a page from the book Enigma Fantastic, by W.G. Allen, which might fit into this discussion, and I'll quote the paragraph. It's on page 95.

He writes: "Many authors have attempted to hint at and even expose the "secret" of the Rothschilds. It is difficult to do so in an ordinary biography. One must assess the secret through the background of occult knowledge at the very least. Now with the development in mind which has brought about the preceding pages, we can reveal the secret of the House of The Red Shield.

The old cabalist secret brotherhood member, and Illuminist of the Frankfurt of the early 1700's--old Amselm--obtained an ancient Jewish-Atlantean talisman from "no one knows where," possibly in the form of a coin or medallion. This psychic link to the occult world of the lower Astral has been the jealously guarded "secret" of the clan since that time."

And Michael's question: "Is this valid, and does he contact low astral entities for guidance?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this is seen as a kind of reliance on a talisman that has been energized over centuries, and wherein the mind projects into the talisman a belief that it will bring them good fortune. This Awareness indicates that the effect from such action is that it forms a kind of self-hypnosis on the one who perceives the talisman as providing good fortune, to keep the entity on course in his pursuit of good fortune. It is a way of establishing a belief pattern that one will be successful because superpowers are on his side.

This Awareness indicates that to this extent it does affect the entity's ability and faith in himself, his confidence to persist in the business at hand, and in so doing, provides the entity with the courage to go on. This Awareness indicates all of these qualities are those that help to build one's good fortune. This Awareness indicates It does not see any particular intrinsic power in the talisman other than that which is projected from the mind of the observer, but the belief that the talisman brings good fortune causes the entity to persist and to subconsciously expect good fortune and these things serve in the acquisition of good fortune.

Persistence is the Main Ingredient of Success

This Awareness indicates it is much like one's belief in God or in subliminal tapes to bring about success, or if one were to be hypnotized into believing that one could be successful, it would help the entity to achieve success. The main factor in achieving success would be the entity's own persistence, for persistence is probably the greater factor in the road toward succeeding. There are many entities who are highly educated who are not successful. There are many entities who are well funded but do not succeed and may even lose their fortunes.

There are many entities who have friends in high places, yet they do not prevail, and succeed. The greater quality that helps entities to succeed in what they seek to do, is the quality of persistence. They keep going when others would stop. They keep going when everything says they should stop. This Awareness indicates that the persistence may be because they hold a dream, because they hold a grudge, or because they hold a talisman or a belief in something greater than themselves that encourages them to go on, or, they may simply be afraid to stop.

This Awareness indicates, of course, intelligence is helpful, friends are helpful, and education is helpful, but the real quality that drives the engine toward success is persistence.

Did Rothschilds Use the Magic Qabalah?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

In reference to Amselm Rothschild, who built a fabulous fortune in his time and which increased by his successors, as we all well know; how instrumental, if any, was his knowledge or use of the Qabalah in getting this fortune?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that it assisted the entity in seeing a path toward the manifesting of his dreams. Essentially, that was it.

The entity saw a path, worked out a way, basically the way being that much likened unto a pawnbroker, and the persistence in keeping it going, and later the entity began taking in gold and jewels and giving out certain receipts that led him to find new ways of gaining power by the use of other people's money, or wealth.

This Awareness indicates that this led to what may be termed the banking business, and eventually led to other endeavors and through certain connivings or trickery, the entity was able to gain knowledge, using carrier pigeons ahead of others in the area so as to know how to invest money and capitalize on the information at hand so as to gain great wealth from that information by knowing ahead of time what to do. This in regard especially to the Waterloo venture of Napoleon. This entity Rothschild understood before others what had happened and thus knew where to put his money for the greatest return.

This Awareness indicates the entity also understood the politics and use of money to gain power and influence.

One Person's Manifestation can Become Another Person's Violation

CLOSING MESSAGE:

This Awareness indicates that entities in considering the patterns or formula for manifesting in their world that which is important to them, need also to recognize that one person's manifestation can become another's violation. If you wish to manifest without violating others, be aware of the needs of others, and do not impose your manifestation on them recklessly. If they are to be affected by your manifestation, it is best to have them on your side while you are manifesting your reality.

This Awareness suggests, however, that in some cases, others may attempt to block your manifestation either out of jealousy or out of fear, or for some personal selfish reason, and may try to discourage you from your manifestation. In such cases you must weigh and balance to determine whether your manifestation is proper or whether their objections are proper, and try to be objective about your evaluation.

This Awareness indicates it goes back to that statement of Krishnamurti: "One man's expression is another's violation." This does not have to be. One can express in a way that violates no one, but too often, one entity's expression violates another and it is part of what creates problems in the world. It is good to be able to express oneself, but it is better to express oneself in a way that is not offensive to others, that does not agitate or violate others.

Likewise, with your manifestations. You may manifest excitement for yourself by causing two people to quarrel over you, or to manifest entertainment at the expense of others, but what are you gaining from such actions? This Awareness indicates that it is best to use the principles of manifestation to make a better world, to improve your life and the lives of those around you, rather than to stir up problems.

WHAT IS COSMIC AWARENESS?

COSMIC AWARENESS is the Force that expressed Itself through Jesus of Nazareth, the Buddha, Krishna, Mohammed, Edgar Cayce and other great avatars who served as 'Channels' for the 'Heavenly Father' and who speaks again today as the world begins to enter the 'New Age' of spiritual consciousness and awareness. Since 1963 Cosmic Awareness has been communicating through carefully trained channels. This information is for those who desire to help in bringing in the New Age. Throughout the thousands of 'Readings' given through these various channels, Cosmic Awareness tells us not to believe anything, but to question, explore, doubt, and discover for yourself, through your own channel what is the truth. Cosmic Awareness will only 'indicate' and 'suggest'. Neither C.A.C. or any of the Interpreters is responsible for anything Cosmic Awareness states in any of these readings, nor does C.A.C. or the Interpreters necessarily agree with the statements of Cosmic Awareness. The Interpreters interpret the energies as they see them in trance levels and are not personally responsible for what is said. THE GRAND GAME IS ABOUT TO BEGIN

(Awareness Clarifies Why the Sudden Shift in Focus)

Opening Message: (CAC General Reading September 18, 1997)

This Awareness suggests that clarification is in order regarding the nature, the focus, which has shifted from emphasizing certain conditions and understandings utilizing existing belief systems, to the foundational concepts which underlie human experience and can ultimately restore humanity to the position and empowerment rightfully deserved.

This Awareness suggests that there may have been, and may still exist, some confusion regarding various approaches to obtaining information from this Awareness as well as various diverse packages of information obtained through this Awareness, through various channels, not limited to those of this organization, but in a more universal sense.

This Awareness indicates that it has been a valuable practice for this Awareness to communicate to entities utilizing existing belief systems, mythologies, perceptions, historical and political images, so that certain information, not otherwise obtainable, can be placed into existing frameworks of understanding. This Awareness suggests this is why specific detail and attention has been paid previously to information regarding specific scenarios and probabilities of current events and past historical, even reincarnational, events.

Specific health issues, specific mythologies have been addressed in great detail through many sources with varying degrees of receptiveness to this Awareness. This Awareness indicates that the practice of such has been useful, but has created complications, misunderstandings and conflict regarding the nature of this Awareness, the validity of the information, the application of the information, and that this clarification is now offered.

The Shift in Focus Relates to the Shift in Consciousness

This Awareness suggests that the shift in focus relates to the shift in consciousness of entities, and that this Awareness is cognizant of the fact that entities are now ready to move beyond the trappings and illusions, the beliefs, the mythologies, and address the very nature of human existence. This Awareness suggests that this change represents a hearty optimism and appreciation that human consciousness is now receptive to less filtered and ultimately more useful information.

This Awareness suggests that the predominant focus shall now be upon understanding human nature at its very core, and moving from the inside out in understandings, such that when we return to the realm of belief, entities will be prepared to unmask those beliefs which parade about as something that they are not, and to embrace those beliefs that facilitate spiritual development and expression.

This Awareness indicates that now entities are ready for certain truths and certain understandings that have before fallen upon virtually deaf ears, but that now, through a tremendous amount of progress, courageous entities have readied themselves and the Grand Game shall begin. There is no further opening message.

PRINCESS DIANA AND MOTHER TERESA

(The Spirit World Says the Two are Up to Something)

QUESTION:

A question from DK Nihoa, Fallon NV. He sent a question over the Internet. He writes: "I was talking to my friend the other day who can converse with the "spirit world" and I asked her if she had tried to contact

Princess Diana. "She said that she was told that she would be unavailable for several weeks; that there was something she had to do, and that it also involved Mother Teresa. That is the reason that mother Teresa died so soon after Princess Diana. There is something that they are to accomplish together." And he asks: "Can Awareness comment on this?"

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that indeed these two entities have been, and remain in cahoots, in that a central message has been carried through both of these vehicles, appealing for different, yet similar reasons, to different, yet similar peoples.

This Awareness suggests that it was no accident nor coincidence for these two entities to pass within such a short time period of one another, in that it served to provoke discussion, reflection, and ultimately resolution of certain conflicts that exist within mass consciousness.

This Awareness suggests that the central message of love and compassion was one and the same between these two entities, yet their vast differences are intended to cast light upon themselves at this time. This Awareness suggests that a tremendous amount of love and respect was afforded both of these entities; to Mother Teresa for her selfless efforts and tireless compassion and good deeds.

This Awareness suggests, however, that most entities, although tremendously respecting of Mother Teresa, could not identify with her as a human being the same way that they could with Princess Diana. This Awareness suggests that there is talk of sainthood for one, and the rejection of canonization of the other.

This Awareness suggests that the selfless nature of Mother Teresa's actions were based in the purest most faithful belief of her religious tradition. She was the personification of selflessness, as well as a vocal advocate for the restrictions and limitations of the Catholic Church.

A Promoter of Catholicism: The Irony of Mother Teresa

Mother Teresa was the personification of certain conflicts that exist within this religious tradition, such that she spent her life tending to those impoverished, those starving, those rejected individuals, and yet, she staunchly spoke out against birth control, in full and complete committed support to the doctrine to which she wholly gave herself.

This Awareness suggests that the entity Mother Teresa experienced a tremendous amount of spiritual fulfillment throughout her lifetime during these actions, yet she also experienced a significant amount of spiritual frustration due to the conflicts within the doctrine by which she so staunchly lived her life.

This Awareness suggests that in many ways, Mother Teresa and those who choose such a life are anomalies, in that they appear to manage as much spiritual fulfillment without regard and focus or nurturance upon the self. This Awareness suggests, however, that many self-needs of the spirit were very much fulfilled through her selfless behaviors and empowered her through feelings of pleasure and achievement and love, to continue as she did.

People Could Recognize Humanity in Princess Diana

This Awareness suggests in contrast, the tremendous outpouring of grief afforded to Princess Diana evidences a chord struck within each entity in that it was easier to recognize humanity, and indeed, themselves, within the entity Princess Diana. She was not self-less. She would not subordinate her needs for love to the protocols and denials that her royal life demanded. After adaptive attempts to fit that mold, her spirit cried out in frustration, and Princess Diana answered that call. As she did, the world watched and cheered for the human being. This Awareness suggests that the contrast in age of these two entities calls attention to the youthful rebirth of humanity as well as the carrying on of those aspects of enduring transitions which embody love and compassion, and offers of light to fellow human beings.

If we have completion, we can continue.

If Mother Teresa Becomes a Saint?

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

What happens to a spirit like this Mother Teresa, if they should make her a saint. Does this have any effect at all on her soul, or is this simply a thing of the Catholic Church down here that uses the saints to sort of keep the flock together, more or less?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

Is the question asking this Awareness that the Catholic Church may exist elsewhere?

QUESTIONER:

No. But that would make an interesting question. The question was: Does on the physical plane, the Catholic Church making a saint out of a deceased entity, have any effect on this deceased entity's soul as it sojourns around other dimensions and other lifetimes?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness is curious what type of effect one might expect within this question?

QUESTIONER:

Well, I don't know. They make such a big to-do of saints for example, on this plane, of entities who have done a good job evidently and have passed over, or who were martyred, but does all that accolade and praying... (I guess they pray to these saints), affect the actual entity who has departed? That's basically the question, or will she just go on through her lifetimes and be totally unaffected by this?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that the entity has a conscious awareness of such activity, but enjoys a blissful detachment from the limits of the earthly realm. This Awareness suggests that the institution of the Catholic Church essentially afforded this distinction as offers of models of behavior.

This Awareness suggests that although there is a rigid hierarchy of power and communicability distributed through the network of the Catholic Church, that there is no inherent spiritual basis to many of the planes and dictates which specifically dictate that only those few, those chosen, those ordained can receive the "Word of God," and it is only through certain rituals and lines of communication within the church that the lowly church-goer can grasp toward the heavens at scraps of enlightenment.

This Awareness suggests that although there are many positive spiritually fulfilling tenets in this particular religious institution, that it has spread far and wide and has endured, it has also perpetuated the acceptance of grossly conflicting beliefs within the minds of entities, for if the tenets are analyzed through the fine lens of a logical mind, these conflicts, even hypocrisies, become abundantly apparent.

This Awareness suggests that many such conflicts specifically were designed to create confusion and befuddlement in the ordinary mind, such that control could be maintained and centralized. This Awareness suggests, however, the time has passed when entities need accept such contaminants within the mind that give them conflicting directives through which they attempt to achieve their goals, proceeding one step forward, two steps backward.

This Awareness suggests that the energy given a 'saint' by entities in the physical realm serves to perpetuate the role models, the behaviors, the martyrdom once deemed and judged respectable by the church, and that many will attempt to live by such inhuman dictates, and they will experience frustration, and they will seek out advice from their religious leaders to relinquish them and absolve them from their sins and conflicts, yet it is the very activity of attempting to be non-human when one is in human form which is contradictory to spiritual intention.

This Awareness suggests that spirit IS, and that spirit embodied in physical form can express to the degree that the mind has developed, and that any doctrine advocating that spirit itself can be altered by any ideology, or specific experiences, is inaccurate. Spirit, upon passing, returns to a far broader fluidity of consciousness and freedom, and through its earthly experiences, has broadened the self-experience of All That Is, but to say that spirit itself is changed for better or particularly for worse, is inaccurate.

This Awareness suggests that entities can gain tremendous benefit from examining the concept of 'sainthood,' and ask themselves if true happiness could be obtained with such total and complete martyrdom, for happiness is the unabated flow of spiritual energy and Divine Love. It is not parceled out through bribes and threats. It is yours for the asking and yours for the taking.

This Awareness suggests that when entities become fully aware of their nature and of the spiritual voice within, there will be no more necessity for such intermediaries. For instead, each entity can be directed by their individual spirit, to fully develop the mind and express the spirit in physical form. To the degree that each entity is successful is the degree of so-called 'sainthood' in a much more real sense.

If we have completion we can continue.

DOES THE CATHOLIC CHURCH EXIST ANYWHERE ELSE?

QUESTION:

I'd like to ask that question Awareness suggested: "Does the Catholic Church exist anywhere else other than the earth plane?" I certainly hope not, unless it would be Hades, for I've never felt anything but dark energies connected with the Catholic Church. Does it indeed exist somewhere other than earth?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that any enduring concepts, frameworks and structures that have been devised by human beings within individual minds and expressing them outwards upon mass-consciousness; that such thought does indeed have energy, and that certain energy networks exist throughout the physical plane, but that they, by their very nature, are contained therein.

The editor can rest assured that no Catholic Church, nor Hades exists beyond the bounds of the energy networks.

If we have completion, we can continue.

TRYING TO DEAL WITH BREAST CANCER AND CHEMOTHERAPY

QUESTION:

Deb F. sent us a letter, a rather sad letter. She's been with us since the inception, and has been almost like one of the family. I'll read this letter in its entirety, which contains a number of questions, and then I'll go back, at Awareness' request, and ask any specific questions. She writes:

"Vicki, Avaton and Cosmic Awareness: This is a letter I've wanted to write for quite some time. I find myself experiencing something I would never ever thought I'd have to do, and swore I never would.

"I'm taking my 4th round of chemotherapy. In May I had a lump removed from my right breast, and the lymph node under that arm. One lymph node was cancerous, along with the lump from my breast. I was shocked. The doctor insisted I do chemotherapy and radiation. (I have yet to begin that!) I said "Absolutely not!" but a gifted psychic I've known for several years said that I'd have to do the chemo or the cancer would come back. So here I am!

"I've had a rough time with the chemo, getting sick and feeling awful, but in between treatments, once every three weeks, I do very good. I take a lot of supplements and protein along with a few other things to help my body heal: Co-Enzyme Q10, Milk Thistle, etc. The one thing I've found is I'm definitely not alone! It truly amazes me how many people are in and out of this hospital, getting treated for various types of cancers. Why, is what I want to know, do so many people get cancer, myself included?

"A whole lot of people don't smoke or drink alcohol. They watch their diets, they exercise, and still wind up with cancer! I asked my doctor what he thinks causes it, and he says he doesn't know. He says it's just bizarre. I'd like Awareness to comment on the use of chemotherapy to "cure" cancer and on the effects it has on the body.

"Is there some damage to the auric field? How can that be healed? What can a person actually do to prevent getting cancer in the first place? I was doing all the right things. I had cancer of the cervix in 1982 and had my uterus removed. That 'cured' that! Why are there so many cancers of the sex organs? Does getting cancer serve an 'emotional' need?, i.e., to release repressed emotions?

"For me it has been caught quite early, so I don't at all feel I'm going to die of cancer. Not this round anyway! At this point I have appreciated life more and the people in my life. They are so loving and so support-ive of me! In a way, this time has allowed me to be Me, and to be unconditionally loved for me. I'm completely bald. I had my husband cut my 30 inch braid off when my hair started to fall out, so that's been a radical change. I've dealt pretty good with it. I've grown my hair since I was 11 and I'm 45 now.

"I'm still amazed I've had to go through this experience! I haven't been depressed. I have had an inner faith. I was in shock and quite angry at the beginning, but when I saw so many people in really dire circumstances, I couldn't really feel sorry for me, because outside of the cancer luck, I'm incredibly healthy. So maybe I had to step into this world to be humbled, to develop more compassion, and to realize I can't judge anyone for their decisions, because a person never really knows what they will be faced with and what decision they'll have to make.

"Any comments Awareness can make to give any insights to this situation would be greatly appreciated." And she signs it with "Love, Light & Faith. There are reasons beyond our understanding."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that this entity is quite enlightened and has already accomplished a tremendous amount of inner reflection, has identified some existing belief systems which may have not been to her benefit. This Awareness suggests that this entity has been successful to a wider degree than she may be aware, and that this Awareness indicates an excellent prognosis, should she continue in this manner.

This Awareness suggests she poses some excellent questions regarding the nature of the human being and the phenomenon of cancer. This Awareness suggests that a major contributor to the predominance of this disease is exactly as she suggests, regarding the emotional system.

Immune System and Emotional System are One and the Same

This Awareness suggests that the physical immune system and the physical emotional system are one and the same. This Awareness suggests that without accurate understanding, acceptance and utilization of the emotional system, that the physical defense system can go awry. This Awareness suggests that when the entity does not know the difference between 'self' and 'not self' neither does the immune system.

This Awareness suggests that the realm of human mind is considered 'self' by the body, but the realm of mind contains ideas virtually of external origin, of 'not-self.' The emotional system is intended to empower entities to accept only those contents into their mind which facilitate development and expression of spirit; these are the tools of 'self' that the mind is intended to create and utilize towards spiritual expression.

How the Mind Creates Cancer in a Body

Unfortunately, many ideas which have become entrenched within the mind of man were impressed upon entities from the outside, the realm of 'not self'. Any such ideas which limit self-development and expression are cancerous to the mind, and if the emotional system is not allowed to point out their existence so that the entity can actively remove the source, the system remains off balance and can become cancerous, also, to the body.

Emotion is the language of the body. The very receptor cells that communicate between fighter, helper and killer cells of the immune system are emotional receptors. Cancer is simply a cell that reproduces and does not know when to stop. The extra cells should be marked 'not self' and destroyed by the immune system as it is intended to function.

When the mind is not clear and contains many conflicting dictates,-- those that reject or defile self, those that frustrate self; --there is a reflection within the physical system of same. The defense system no longer can distinguish the 'self' from the 'not self' and cancer is facilitated.

This Awareness suggests that allergies are also related to this system, in that the 'self' / 'not self' distinction is muddled and that the immune system attacks 'itself' thinking that it is 'not self' in a reverse scenario. This Awareness suggests that many individual and social ills are exactly the same due to the cancers of mind that exist in the form of limiting beliefs.

Why Cancer Appears In the Sex Organs

This Awareness suggests that the entity is quite astute in her assessment that cancer appears in sex organs in a predominance of cases. This Awareness suggests that this is a direct reflection of the confusion that exists within the mind of man, that has been impressed upon the individual minds of women, in particular, regarding the nature of themselves, how their breasts relate to their sexuality, to their very worth as a human being; how the reproductive system validates their success or failure as a human being.

How to Become Immune to Cancer

There is an extreme amount of debilitating belief which entities entertain, take into the mind, which become cancerous, and if not removed, will physically manifest in maladies, including cancer, throughout the body. This Awareness suggests that immunity, resistance to cancer, and other such maladies, can be strengthened substantially through understanding and utilizing the intended function of the emotional system.

This Awareness suggests that this information is contained in the Lessons of Enlightenment. This Awareness suggests that as the Lessons unfold, entities in extreme situations, or even those less extreme, as described, the entities can immediately begin strengthening and fortifying the body by strengthening and fortifying the mind through the rejection of conflicting beliefs, or any such beliefs that give the entity the idea that anything they do, have done, or intend to do, which they feel motivated by an inward impetus, is anything less than absolutely right.

This Awareness indicates that if they have been told by their religion, or by their politics or by their social community that they are rejected for any reason, that they know this to be counter to their spirit, and that any such beliefs counter to the spirit should be immediately rejected.

This Awareness suggests that entities be true to their feelings, express their feelings, communicate their concerns in respectful and compassionate ways and expect compassionate respect for their needs at all times. This Awareness suggests the impulses that the feelings bring will lead in directions that will remove the limits that have been placed upon the spirit.

This Awareness suggests that these entities, and any entity's particular concerns regarding vulnerability to cancer, pay specific attention to the Lessons of Enlightenment, and develop strategies to eliminate self-preservationary reactions to emotion, and facilitate those that develop and express, rather than fight or take flight.

This Awareness indicates that as humans, as a group, embrace understandings and take back the communicative 'sense' of human emotion, the impact will be felt in every realm, from the energy networks that surround the earth with dense congested thought-forms to the nucleus of every cell.

Does Chemotherapy Damage the Auric Field?

QUESTION:

One question Awareness, didn't cover. She asked if taking chemotherapy can cause any damage to her auric field, and if so, how could she heal that?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests this need not be a concern. The chemotherapy does in fact kill certain cells in the body, some not necessarily desirous by the individual that they be killed--those non-cancerous cells such as those of hair follicles. This Awareness suggests it is a rather brutal and archaic treatment to flood the system with chemicals that virtually, and indiscriminately, kill living cells along with the cancerous ones, and that it is a testimony to the heartiness of individuals that undergo this process successfully. Their innate healing capacity is marshaled to its fullest.

This Awareness suggests, however, that disruptions in the energy patterns or auric field exist due to the disruption and the misuse of the emotional energy far before the cancer occurs and is unaffected by treatment, for its source is the emotional dissonance that is allowed to continue within the entity due to conflicting beliefs and conflicting directives that exist within the mind and should be removed.

If we have completion, we can continue.

Woman who Have Breasts Removed Even Though Not Cancerous

QUESTION:

Awareness has discussed fear-based concepts in the Lessons of Enlightenment, which brings to mind several newspaper articles I've read in the past, of perfectly healthy young women, who have gone and had their breasts removed, lobbed off, simply because breast cancer was in the family.

Their mother had it, their grandmother had it and so forth, and they figure it's inevitable and the only way they'll never get it is to have the breasts removed before they get it. What does Awareness think about that type of thing?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that given the belief systems in place within these individuals, that they saw no other course of action, but to surgically remove the very organ concerned to be potentially afflicted. This Awareness suggests this reflects the sorry state of misunderstanding that does exist within humans, for entities who have chosen to do such have been successful in that the beliefs were so empowered that they would have brought about cancer within themselves had they not removed the vessel that it would embody. (If the belief in genetic predilection is severe enough, cancer could actually manifest itself in another body part after such an act).

This Awareness suggests that although they achieved success through this strategy, certainly more enlightened alternatives are available. However, the situation highlights the power of beliefs themselves and how entities need to operate within the existing framework of belief or they will be plagued by doubt should they try to operate with the new beliefs, with existing conflicts which have much more investment of power.

Errors in the Concept of Genetic Predetermination

For example, it is a fact within the consciousness, the mind of man, that genetics determine certain characteristics, even behaviors of individuals. This Awareness suggests that it is true that entities choose certain physical situations, accouterments, challenges with which to accomplish specific Destiny Paths upon a specific incarnation, and that certain information within the genes themselves will bring about that pattern.

This Awareness indicates, however, that the idea of genetic predestination in a clockwork universe, with virtually no room for free will, is grossly exaggerated. This Awareness suggests that any genetic engineer or scientist can immediately admit that there are many exceptions, many carriers of certain situations that are never present physically.

Although none can explain why one would be present and another would not, it should be pause for thought. This Awareness suggests that if the belief is invested in genetic pre-determination to such a high degree that it is absolutely known that an entity will be a victim of a particular malady, then that belief alone can create that condition.

This Awareness suggests entities who have been apprised of information regarding their specific genetic makeup and potential outcomes, good and bad, should be apprised of the fact that they can tremendously influence whether or not that gene shall present what was indicated, for the truth is, the body is being constantly created in the moment, and that it is the beliefs that can make alterations or create cancers.

Much Creative Work Occurs While you Sleep

This Awareness suggests that this latter statement may appear confusing and it is intended as a juicy tid-bit to lead the consciousness in another direction, but not intended to confuse or rattle the foundation of beliefs that are necessary to operate the human body on a day to day basis. This Awareness suggests that entities can rest assured that they shall awaken tomorrow morning with virtually the same body within which they went to sleep.

However, This Awareness suggests that as entities are dreaming, that much creative work is occurring, and that if they choose to participate in this creative work, they might be profoundly surprised at what they can accomplish, if they believe that they can.

If we have completion, we can continue.

What Lowered the Editor's Blood-Sugar?

((The Truth is: He has Never Believed in Pills))

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION (VIKKI):

Speaking of beliefs and health, during this period of time that we had "bronchitis," actually pre-dating that, Avaton has maintained that taking his pills was counter-productive for him, and during the time that the bronchitis had him down, he totally stopped taking all of his pills, in particular, the one that is supposed to reduce his blood-sugar count.

Now, before the illness, the count was at about 150. After three weeks of no pills, I had him check his blood-sugar and the blood sugar was down to 96. Tests that have followed have it at 104 and 105. I talked to Dr. George about this, and Dr. George said this is impossible. If you're not taking your pills, your blood-sugar can't go down.

I wanted to know whether this change in the blood-sugar count was from his belief system, or the realignment that was going on during the illness, or any comments?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that there is several factors involved here. First, the assumption that belief systems are involved is correct. This particular entity emanates an intense power which can be directed in self-perpetuating directions or less productive ones. This Awareness suggests that his recalcitrance at taking the drug can virtually reduce the absorption of the drug when he is taking it, and increase the conditions for optimal health when he is not.

This Awareness suggests that the entity should experiment further with this innate capacity, empowering that recalcitrance back to within his own abilities, for the strength of spirit is that which defies the necessity for external manipulation of his own system.

This Awareness suggests, however, there was also another source of the reduction in the blood-sugar, in that the entity did not consume a diet similar to that which had been consumed during times that the blood-sugar was problematic. This Awareness suggests that the entity examine the diet patterns and the specific comestibles, and realign in a more ordinary basis to a diet quantity and quality more like that consumed during this illness.

This Awareness suggests that this entity, in particular, is innately in tune with the wisdom of his body, and that there may be penchant for certain items considered unhealthy, yet the chemical balances remain in harmony largely due to his attunement to the requests and his response to the urgings of his body.

This Awareness suggests certain visualization techniques and specific suggestions for certain accomplishments upon the physical form during the dream realm, that this entity can be quite successful in aligning certain systems even moreso with direct projection of consciousness during the dream-realm.

That Sense of Fear and Apprehension (The Monster Can Appear When You Energize the Art Bell Material)

QUESTION:

We got a E-mail yesterday from Boyd Martin, over in Oregon, which is sort of interesting. He put this out. I'd like to read this to Awareness to ask It if It has any comments. He writes: "I'm listening to Art Bell's Area 51 radio show, Monday night, the 15th of September, 1997.

"As far as the "Quickening," many people over the Internet are expressing a sense of apprehension of something about to happen of epic proportions. Others are dreaming dreams of death and destruction on a global scale. I believe that whatever is about to come upon the earth is so catastrophic and has such negative energy vibrations, it is resonating across time/space from the near future, into the psyches of people all over the planet who are sensing fear and apprehension.

"I too listened to Art Bell's show last night, but ended up with an entirely different 'take' on it. What most unnerved me was Art's replaying of the phone conversation with the freaked out ex-Area 51 employee that seemed to lead to a satellite uplink interruption of the Art Bell broadcast.

"The ex-employee was literally crying, in begging tones, that the US government knows of some coming wholesale destruction due to conflicts with humans from another dimension, who are attempting to flee to this dimension for whatever reason, and yet, is doing nothing about it because of some population control scenario.

"This is a scenario I am familiar with, as covered back in the Eighties by Cosmic Awareness channel Paul Shockley. I went to bed kind of freaked out myself because the pure fear the poor Area 51 fellow was putting out was contagious and ultimately pathetic. I woke up this morning having processed through it and realized that the fear was the age-old human fear of losing control, or losing reality, or more basically, fear of falling as a result of letting go.

"We create our world, and this is a consensus reality that is shifting off its historical foundations. As humanity wakes up from history, there is that fear of what we may wake up to. My 'take' on it is that we are in a consciousness loop with our dear conscious planet earth. Earth uses humanity to evolve, and the planet is about to make a leap. It used humans to develop interdimensional technologies, to "punch a hole" through to the dimension where she is going.

"The military experiments that lead to these punch-through's, beginning in 1961, were considered "breaches of security" by the military and treated like errors or catastrophes. Once there is a crack, there is an opening, and as one crack happened, others followed. What I believe Art Bell's "event" may be is a chain reaction of dimensional breaches that ultimately lead to a breaking up of our current 3-D reality.

"I believe humans, depending on their choice, will break up with the reality or punch on through to the 4th dimensional existence. The choice is between love and fear. The fear is the glue that sticks us to 3-D reality. Love releases fear, as love and fear cannot co-exist. Therefore, rather than being freaked out about "the event," it would seem a matter of life and death to let go and "love" the catastrophic changes happening in our lives."

Does Awareness have any comments on Boyd's observations?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness has several comments. First, the entity is to be congratulated for awakening with the insight of how the scenario's described relates to an innate human fear of loss, of control and freedom, for he has heard the voice of the spirit. This Awareness suggests that the entity reveals some conception within the questions of creative reality, and describes certain catastrophic events occurring within his life.

Step Back and See Whether the Monster Really Exists

This Awareness suggests from the information given in the question, the most catastrophic event described was the tuning to this particular radio station. This Awareness suggests that entities who perceive the wolf at the door, the monster down the street, a conspiracy around the corner, should take a step back and see whether or not this monster exists within the realm of mind, or within physical reality.

This Awareness suggests that if such a scenario exists within the realm of mind, and not yet within physical reality, then the entity should carefully examine which thoughts are being entertained, and which emotions are empowering them, for they will create the events concentrated upon. This Awareness suggests that if an alternate scenario is to occur, that the entity has chosen a positive and productive interpretation and reaction.

Fear has Become a Cottage Industry

If there is to be a choice between love and fear, then love is the choice. However, this Awareness indicates that love is the unabated experience, flow of spiritual energy, and fear is an impedance to that flow. Fear is designed to call attention to the obstruction such that the flow can be restored to its natural state.

Instead, fear itself has become a cottage industry, a source of entertainment, of manipulation and control, a source of avoidance and defensive responses which prevent entities from the very adaptation and learning that the spirit cries out for. This Awareness suggests this entity, in particular, has experienced fear and has come to some positive conclusions regarding its nature.

He is accurate in the assessment that human beings have a need for control and freedom, for it is spiritual intention as evidenced by free will that humans are intended to control their own destiny. This Awareness suggests that much of this control has given way to prepackaged fabrications offered as fact, knowledge, truth, which limit the perspective, which limit the power, which limit the freedom and expression of spirit, and this frustration is signaled by negative emotions of fear and anger.

This Awareness suggests that the spiritually desirous response to fear is to look within the realm of mind and examine the contents, the specific ideas, attitudes and beliefs which have come to the fore in a given situation wherein the fear arises. The mind is empowered with specific capacities such as ratiom, such that ideas can be sifted, sorted, categorized and examined.

This is not a mysterious process. It is one that humans utilize on a continuous basis. But it has become commonplace and acceptable to allow the conscious mind a life of their own, become unwieldy and devoid of ratiom. Emotion is to call attention to the problem areas, ratiom to identify them, and energetic emotion motivates specific responses. Instead of the intended responses, humans fall back upon the safety net of basic hardwired self-preservationary responses, which do not remove the problem at its source, and often even perpetuate the problem.

Energizing the Scenario Invites the Monster to your Door

This Awareness suggests that it is not escapism, nor denial to simply turn the dial on the radio, go about one's life with the trust and optimism that the spirit suggests, and should the wolf appear at the door, or the monster down the street, allow the spirit to respond, as it naturally will. But to every night attune to a particular radio station and be fed scenarios and concepts which rob the freedom and energize the very scenario, is to invite the monster to the street and the wolf to the door, and once having done so, the entity will be less likely to go about his life's business with trust or optimism, but it will be this entity that is choosing to do such.

If we have completion we can continue.

Not All of Art Bell's Listeners are Energizing

FOLLOW-UP QUESTION:

Art Bell has over a million listeners, and his web-site is hit at least a million times a month, so what Awareness is saying, basically, is that if everybody who tunes into that information is energizing it, then indeed, this very catastrophic event that he is predicting, will indeed occur. Is that correct?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness suggests that not every entity attuned to this information is energizing it in the way mentioned. This Awareness suggests that there are entities that ascertain and absorb such information, yet which do not fear it, which instead reinforce the spiritually supportive belief in personal invulnerability, and can offer a hearty belly laugh at such scenarios.

This particular type of energetic reaction can deflate the momentum. Likewise, entities such as those within the membership of Cosmic Awareness Communications, who have been apprised of certain scenarios and who have become angered, and who have taken active responses to assert and demand their own freedoms be protected, also serve to deflate the energy resources for such scenarios.

The emotion 'anger,' specifically when utilized to its proper function, can be a dramatic successful tool against such manipulation. This Awareness suggests that if the emotion fear is a prominent response to this information, then it is the belief in the validity of the outcome, rather than a rejection of the outcome which is energized.

This Awareness insists that this distinction be made clear.

What Makes an Intellectual Genius?

QUESTION:

(12/4/80)

We have two questions from E. S., of Mingo Junction, Ohio: He writes: "What produces spiritual and intellectual genius? How can we unlock the Einsteins, the Buckminster Fullers, and Khrisnas locked within each and every one of us? What is the nature and origin of genius and the inspired mind and heart? Surely this is the key to the ideal ever-refreshing and progressing relationship of man to man, society, nature and God."

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this quality of consciousness and thinking as that which comes about in a healthy and receptive mind when both sides of the brain are working in harmony. This Awareness indicates that wherein there has been brain damage, or wherein there has been emotional or psychological shocks which have created traumatic experiences within an entity so that certain information or input or received data is blocked by the entity because of these shocks or traumatic effects in the thinking mechanism, or when there is some type of misinformation which filters out, closes out the input data of a mind, or refuses to acknowledge certain information or is incapable of properly filtering information to discover what is accurate information and what is inaccurate information,--when the brain is programmed improperly, damaged, or traumatized, this hinders the natural capacity of the brain to assimilate information properly.

The Three Main Causes of Improper Thinking Processes

This Awareness indicates that the brain damage as being a physical effect, the traumatic experience being psychological, and the programming of improper filtering processes, such as certain belief systems which allow entities to think only along rigid lines; this being a mental blockage to proper thinking. This Awareness indicates these being the main three causes of improper thinking processes.

Karmic and Spiritual Blockages

This Awareness indicates there also is that which is karmic, or that which may be termed spiritual blockage, whereby a brain cannot think properly because of polarized attitudes which are inherent in the being from experiences which have not worked through properly, either from early in present life, or to previous lifetime experiences.

Ways to Help Correct These Problems

This Awareness indicates that this often can be effectively helped through other types of healing processes, such as spiritual healing, or religious experiences; that this can also be helped through psychological programs or systems or methods to help the entity to release certain charges of energy from the traumatized areas which often allow the entity to glimpse back into previous lifetime experiences and also release those traumatic memories; that this also may be helped through certain medical actions such as acupuncture, or acupressure, or the polarity type treatments. This Awareness indicates that therefore, these areas which block proper thinking can often be assisted by physical, mental, emotional, or spiritual healing therapies.

The Effect of Diet on the Thinking Processes: (Eat Potatoes!)

This Awareness indicates that in some instances, diet also may have an effect on the thinking mechanism, and improper diet being that which causes some difficulties; that the diet intake of proper vitamins and minerals and starchy foods or carbohydrates, particularly of the starchy types such as found in potatoes or flour products, but particularly in terms of potatoes; this can be beneficial in enhancing the intellect. This Awareness indicates there are also certain herbs which can be beneficial; that choline for the enhancement of memory is also beneficial; that gota kola as an herb, and ginseng, also are beneficial to the brain and its functioning. This Awareness suggests that generally a good, well-balanced metabolism, having proper vitamins and minerals is essential to having optimum mental capacities.

Good Vision and Hearing is Important Factor

This Awareness indicates also that good vision is important, for this allows the entity to assimilate material which can be added to and helpful in the development of basic concepts and information from which to draw conclusions, through reading, or through the visual absorption of data. This Awareness indicates that being able to hear is also an important factor in having proper intellect; that these various senses are information gathering devices and are important in developing one's intellect.

Discernment a Most Valuable Asset

This Awareness indicates that also, the discernment as to what information is truly valuable and what information is but trivia is that which can make a big distinction in whether an entity develops an intellect which is filled with trivia or one which is filled with valuable information which can be applied in general ways to all things. The entity whose head is stuffed with massive facts of little real value in terms of general application, may be a genius of the unimportant, a genius of trivia.

Alternatives to Being a Genius of Trivia

Therefore, unless one seeks to be a genius of trivia information, a walking encyclopedia, but having no way to apply the information other than simply being available as someone's walking encyclopedia, the entity may prefer, rather than being this type of genius, to be one who specializes in general concepts which have broad application. This Awareness indicates that in this approach, the entity may become aware of the most broad and general concepts which can be then applied to any particular situation, with such application as will make the situation very clear.

This Awareness indicates, for example, two entities may be having a problem. One of the entities approaches you and states: "I am having difficulty with my associate. I would like your advice on how to deal with this and need to sit down and talk with you for approximately one hour to discuss this situation." You look at your watch and discover that you have only ten minutes to get to your next appointment and can only spare a moment with this entity.

This Awareness indicates you have a choice of setting up an appointment at a later time, or of answering this entity very briefly in such a way as to offer some help at the moment. This Awareness indicates that the entity who prefers to deal in specialized information would perhaps make an appointment for later on, hoping to get all the details of the problem so as to answer these details with specific information which the entity can apply. This Awareness indicates, however, you are more concerned about general principles which can be applied to any situation; therefore, this entity states that he or she is having difficulty with an associate and wishes your advice on how to deal with this associate.

This Awareness suggests that in this instance you reply, "Well, I am in a hurry at the moment, but it appears you and your associate have different desires and need to simply sit down and talk about these different desires until you can reach an agreement and communicate your feelings to one another, so that you can then understand each other's position and perhaps reach some kind of compromise action to allow both of you to fulfill your desires or to modify your desires for your own mutual interests and satisfaction. This Awareness indicates that in this instance, you have given the entity something to work with which can be applied to their particular situation.

This Answer Could Apply to Any Situation Whatsoever

The entity may be amazed that you have been able to give so much information with so little detail or so little information being given, because you appear to understand the problem. This Awareness indicates that in actuality, the answer you gave has been that which was applicable to any situation wherein any problem occurs between any entities. For in any situation wherein an entity is having problems with another, there is always a conflict of desires; and though the entity may think you know what those desires were, you may not know anything of the kind, and they themselves recognize the desires in conflict when you have pointed out this particular word to them.

Why Awareness Gave Us the Cosmic Laws

This Awareness indicates therefore, these entities hearing your advice, recognize the information, apply it, and see the solution for themselves, and therefore can deal with the situation from the limited advice which you have given. This Awareness indicates that this is the value of having at your disposal general rules, general applications. This Awareness indicates that this is why this Awareness has given Cosmic Laws which have wide application to all areas of human life. For an entity in any situation can take any of these Laws and apply it and find a solution to the situation, or can at least find some help in how to deal with the situation.

This Awareness indicates that therefore, there are two ways of being a genius: one being a genius in a general sense with the ability to apply broad general rules in application to specific situations; another being one who has specific information which can only be used on the occasion that such specific information is needed. This Awareness indicates that obviously, the entity who is seeking to become a genius by stuffing his or her head full of millions of facts is going to work much harder at the operation than the one who seeks out the 100 or 200 general rules of life and living which can be applied to the millions of situations which occur.

This Awareness indicates that therefore, the genius who seeks the simple rules of a general sense which can be applied in a multitude of situations is showing a little more intelligence than the genius who is stuffing his head full of millions of facts, but whose head is so stuffed with facts that he cannot have room to think in a general sense, and can only bring forth these facts when specific information is needed; for the entity is caught up in a spaghetti factory of facts and numbers and figures, but cannot see the overall forest because of the pine needles and bushes and tangles of information stuffed within his or her head.

This Awareness indicates also, this entity has worked endlessly to assimilate so much information and has little room for enjoyment of the simple life; while the entity whose head is stuffed with a few general rules of information which can be applied on all levels to any situation; these entities become wise and appear to be genius in their lifestyles and their ability to make decisions and cope with any situation.

The Genius Must Look at Life in the Broadest Concept

This Awareness indicates that to look at life in a general sense, the entity must begin at the top, at the broadest concept available; that this broadest concept may be simply the recognition that one exists, or the recognition that all exists. This Awareness indicates that this, having little application unless needed, becomes a nearly meaningless generality; but from such, an entity may make an extrapolation to a more applicable assumption which cannot be in error, that "all things exist in some particular way, and each thing is different from others."

Contrast and Relationship are the Two Most Important Factors

This Awareness indicates that the entity may also recognize that not only is everything in some way contrasted from every other thing, but also everything in some way is related to every other thing; and that these two--contrast and relationship,--are the two important factors in every general rule or application, in every thing in the universe, that there is some form of contrast or difference, and some form of relationship. Therefore, in examining anything in the universe, the entity looks at the contrasts or differences and also at the relationship between that and not-that. This Awareness indicates that therefore, this becomes one of the more basic principles on which to build your thinking capacities, and from which to examine anything which you come across.

You Develop Ways of Recognizing Relationships and Elements

This Awareness indicates that you then begin to develop different ways of recognizing relationships and contrasting elements between things: How is a snowflake different from a bridge, and how is a snowflake like a bridge? You may first think there is no similarity whatsoever, but if you say this, then you must say there is a difference; but your first thought may be such that you cannot describe the difference.

This Awareness indicates that from further looking, you may recognize that a snowflake has a particular structure and a bridge has a particular structure, therefore a snowflake is like a bridge in that it has a structure. The structures are different, each being peculiar to its own self, but both are a structure. This Awareness indicates therefore, there is at least one area of relationship between these. You may also recognize that both are solid; (this Awareness suggests that these being solid or material objects). You may then ask, "How are they different?" and recognize that one is solid, but changes into that which is liquid, while the other remains solid.

This Awareness indicates that this kind of observation allows you to begin looking at everything in the universe with a comparative eye to make distinctions and clarifications as to the basic qualities of each thing in comparison to others, and this creates a development of creative thinking which enhances the right side of the brain, while the left side of the brain is developed through rational thinking such as the logical process, the mathematical training, and the linear thinking

This Awareness indicates that for example, if the sun is told to you to be a symbol for the father; once this has been accepted, when the right side of the brain comes across a father or a sun, it can make an intuitive leap to a certain type of symbolic realization and interpret this properly from that symbolism, so that it reaches a particular conclusion which may appear to be an insight; and depending on the accuracy of the symbols and their interpretation, the right side of the brain, then becoming intuitive, receiving that particular insight, may be able to discern a particular bit of reality and translate this into rational words to apply to a situation

This Awareness indicates that obviously, for the right side and left side of the brain to function properly, correct symbolism and correct abstract thinking must be accomplished,--this through both the rational order of symbols and their relationship, along with the contrasts and differences and the areas of disagreement or non application which can also be distinguished.

This Awareness indicates that this action of becoming a genius requires that an entity train his or her mind to think in a particular way, and it has very little to do with accidental or hereditary factors, except when these accidental factors incline the entity to think in that particular way.

Certain cultures and certain environments do incline entities to become acquainted with symbolic and rational thinking in a way whereby these work together, do incline entities to discover general rules or applications of thought, so that the mind learns about the tools of learning; and once learning to learn with these tools, the mind then begins to think differently and does not fall into the trap of simply being stuffed full of facts so that it can regurgitate those facts upon command.

Our Culture More Interested in Creating Robots Than Geniuses

This Awareness indicates that it is not so much the problem of an individual being intelligent or not intelligent as it is a concern in regards to the way teaching has been accomplished through the schools and cultural environments and training programs. This Awareness indicates that generally speaking, your culture is more concerned with creating robot-like entities to fulfill menial jobs properly with just enough skill to keep them in their slot in the society, and is not really interested in creating geniuses or highly intelligent people who are of a creative intellect. This Awareness indicates that therefore, even though most entities have the capacity for being genius, few have the opportunity for the information that will allow them to become genius.

This Awareness indicates that It will give more information regarding the methods of thinking for genius in the future, either through this particular channel while conscious or while in this interpretive state; that essentially, the channel understands these methods and rules, these principles of becoming a genius in one's thinking, and therefore may present this information through programs in the Aquarian Church, or may choose to do this through readings over a period of time, such as a project reading, or perhaps this will be through one of the Correspondence Lessons*. This Awareness indicates that more questions on this may be asked at this time, according to your inclination.

*ED's Note: This information eventually came through in the Spiritual Development Correspondent Lessons, "Virgo" in particular. If you do not have the entire 144 lessons of this course, which consists of the spiritual heart of the Cosmic Awareness philosophy, please write Vikki T. for full details. These are still available.

ARE CONSCIOUS MEDIUMS OR CHANNELS CONSIDERED GENIUS LEVELS?

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

Through previous Interpreters, Awareness gave considerable information about entities becoming conscious mediums or conscious channels in the coming times. My question is: Since it was implied that these entities can be in and out of this state in their working routines, --for example, an entity asks them a question which they don't really know anything about rationally, and the entity looks the questioner in the eye and an answer comes forth. Now, to many people, this type of channeling would appear to be on the genius level. My question is: How does this type of channeling fit in with this description of the genius that Awareness just gave? Is this also compatible with those who have developed their rational mind to the type of genius just described?

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates that this as being very similar; that this actually may be the same thing, depending on whether the entity receives the information from facts which have been stuffed into his or her head from previous learning experiences, or whether the entity receives the information from applying general principles to the situation and therefore produces the answer from these principles. This Awareness indicates that an entity looking into the eyes of another and answering a question is essentially capable of being in such a state of mind as to channel from this Awareness these general principles just as accurately as when one lies in trance level, if that entity is capable of shutting off all other interference, so that total attention can go on the question and answer situation.

The Only Real Purpose in Using an Interpreter

This Awareness indicates the only real purpose of the Interpreter entering a kind of trance-like level is to shut out any outside or personal opinions or interferences, so that the total attention can go on the questions and answers and so that the consciousness can be used properly in an even flow from this Awareness to the question and to the proper focus of energies for that. This as a kind of simplified way of attuning and focusing and shutting out interferences.

This Awareness indicates that many entities can do this while lecturing, and while speaking to another entity, being totally attentive to that which is happening at the moment, rather than answering while being preoccupied with some other distractions.

Most Everybody is a Channel of Some Kind

This Awareness indicates that It wishes entities to understand that there are many entities who can enter into the kind of concentration, or meditative levels, or trance-like state, as can a proper channel for this Awareness, but many of these entities do not have the training for the proper interpretation of the various energies involved in discerning and interpreting the messages. This Awareness indicates that still others open themselves in such a way as to essentially take over their being as a spirit takes over an entity; that this also is a way of channeling.

This Awareness indicates that the more productive way is whereby either of these tools can be used, whereby an entity can allow the spirit to move through and to surrender oneself to the higher spirit, the Light within, and serve this Light as a channel, while also having the ability to take the general rules of the universe and apply these consciously, objectively and knowingly in creative ways.

Great Architecture and Artworks are Channeled Energies

This Awareness indicates that for example, the Taj Mahal was built not only from inspiration, but from a conscious and objective creative energy, wherein the entities involved knew exactly what they were doing in order to get the perfect echoes of sound, the perfect shapes, textures and shadows. That likewise, many of the classic artwork pieces which may appear to have been inspired are actually objective results from the deep understanding of general rules which most artists do not comprehend.

This Awareness indicates that if this did not properly answer the question, that the question be re-asked.

CONSCIOUS CHANNELING A QUICKER AND SUPERIOR METHOD

(But Awareness Shows Other Ways to Become Genius)

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

Well, it just seemed to me that this conscious medium-ship that Awareness talked about and would be coming to entities in the future, would be a rather convenient means of bypassing the other areas, like spending your life filling your mind with facts and rules and so forth.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this is in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates that wherein an entity is given the opportunity to start at the top, at the most general principles and learn how to apply these to specifics, and learn how to divide these general principles into more specific applications, into more specific terms, the entity then is growing in a kind of wisdom whereby the entity's specialization develops from the top and can be applied generally, with more and more details, as the entity becomes specialized.

This Awareness indicates that for those who begin at the bottom and are trained to think first of naming each and every little part of a specific thing, and then are eventually led to assemble these many little parts of information into a general category, and then discover that this general category is only one little thing in a mass of other things; and then must, in order to understand any of these other things, go back to the bottom and start learning of another topic from the ground up; and then, learning of all of this particular information, must again go back to the bottom and start learning from the ground up.

This Awareness indicates that obviously, time would run out for the individual, so that even though the individual may eventually become one who knows many different facts in terms of say, biology and anthropology, and knows something about the growing of food, and knows something else about the household activities such as canning and preserving food, and knows something about nutrition, the entity becomes a kind of specialized person in various fields, but never fully understands much about life in general.

This Awareness indicates, however, that wherein the entity begins at the top and breaks down the whole of life into divisions and begins to learn general things about these many divisions, and then from learning about these divisions, becomes more specific in defining the different aspects of those divisions, the entity gradually begins to learn more and more in a general sense of information which can be applied to all areas of life.

Why Awareness Recommends You Learn Some Astrology

This Awareness indicates that this is why It recommends that entities discover more about astrology. If nothing more, at least learn of the 12 divisions of human affairs which are contained in the astrological houses of astrology, for this becomes a new level of symbolism to allow entities to think in general terms. Even though you may never wish to discover anything about casting horoscopes, if you can at least discover the twelve general areas of human affairs which are categorized by the astrological houses, you then have a tool for thinking in general and symbolic ways.

This is likened unto having a higher alphabet. A child begins to learn ABC's; after some time, the child learns to hook these ABC's and letters into words, and the child begins to learn words, and writing of words. After some time, the child begins to link these words together and begins to write sentences. After some time, the child begins to link these sentences together and become aware of concepts and ideas, or plots and stories.

This Awareness indicates that astrology is a step above this, in that these 12 houses contain symbols of 12 different divisions of human affairs which are in relationship to each other in such a way as can be applied to many aspects of one's life. This Awareness indicates that this allows entities to begin to understand things in a general sense; that this creates a different type of thinking, so that one begins to think in terms of symbols which can then be applied to particular or specific applications.

The Conspiracy Against Astrology by the Dark Force

This Awareness indicates that the conspiracy against astrology is that which is motivated by those forces which do not wish entities to have generalized thinking as a tool in their consciousness, and prefer that entities remain stuck in specialized thinking process.

This Awareness indicates that besides astrology, there are also other tools for generalized thinking; that the Tarot as also one of these tools. That these tools were taught by the ancients; and that many of the geniuses of today are geniuses simply because they have, in this lifetime or previous lifetimes, been deeply trained to use these generalized tools for thinking, and therefore can apply these tools, these thinking tools to different situation and problems which need to be solved or answered.

This Awareness indicates that essentially, this is a conspiracy against the mind, against the consciousness of entities, to keep them ignorant, so that they do not become too intelligent, so that they can be manipulated by leaders of religion and by political and national leaders.

(FOLLOW-UP QUESTION):

This conspiracy then, is probably part of the 'Beast' conspiracy Awareness has been revealing in the past several years.

COSMIC AWARENESS:

This Awareness indicates this in the affirmative. This Awareness indicates also, that many entities who are deeply hostile to astrology and the type of symbolism involved in these various ancient books, such as the Tarot, the I Ching, The Tibetan Book of the Dead, the Egyptian Book of the Dead, and the Greek mythologies,-- that these books of symbology which allow entities the ability to think properly are often targets for deep hostility of religious bigots who proclaim them to be of the devil.

This Awareness indicates that essentially, this as the result of many of these entities being simply close-minded and fanatical, but parroting the writings of others who, in fact, knew that these tools and symbols would make entities too aware, and could hinder the ability to manipulate the masses; and whereby some of these entities wished to keep this information for their own secret schools and training of their own people, so that the masses would not have the advantage of being able to use these broad, general principles in their thinking mechanisms.
