itself, a fusion of consciousness that expanded the consciousness of the sun, and this of course has even more increased the solar activities that have occurred since then and are having again a tremendous affect on the planet, literally shaking the planet up at its foundation levels, and preparing it to break free of the chains of oppression that the planet has endured for many eons now.

The oppression this Awareness is talking of is an oppression at the level of consciousness of the planet that has restricted her, that has restrained her from moving forward previously to the degree that she, Planet Earth/ Gaia is now ready to do. It is as if the old cobwebs are being cleared out and the adjustments are being made so that the planet can leap forward in that most amazing event of Ascension that is quickly coming this way, and that is quickly manifesting itself in the events and circumstances of the planet and of those who inhabit the planet, including flora and fauna, and mankind itself. This is all because an extraordinary shift is occurring that is universal in nature, expressed in a solar system that has the sun as its primary focus of light energy consciousness that radiates to all other planets in the solar system, and that is helping Gaia to move forward herself in her own shifting of consciousness, her own shifting of awareness.

A SOLAR TSUNAMI: FIRE IN THE SKIES

Questioner: (Thank you). A like question or commentary came from Vikki at CAC. It concerns Great Ball of Fire. "On August 1, 2010, almost the entire earth-facing side of the sun erupted in a tumult of activity. An image from the Solar Dynamics Observatory of the news-making solar event on August 1 shows the C3-class solar flare, a solar tsunami, multiple filaments of magnetism lifting off the stellar surface, large-scale shaking of the solar corona, radio bursts, a coronal mass ejection, and more. A multi-wavelength extreme ultraviolet snapshot from the Solar Dynamics Observatory shows the sun's northern hemisphere in mid-eruption. The Earth's magnetic field is still reverberating from the solar flare impact on August 3, 2010, which sparked aurorae as far south as Wisconsin and Iowa in the United States. Analysts believe a second solar flare is following behind the first solar flare and could re-energize the fading geomagnetic storm and spark a new round of Northern Lights." Your comment please?

Cosmic Awareness: This activity is that which was initiated earlier, as this Awareness spoke, of the increase in the levels of energetic expression on the surface of the sun, being a reflection of the shakeup that is occurring within the sun or within the consciousness of the sun. The external events are merely the physical manifestation of the inner shifting and the inner changes that are occurring. This Awareness spoke earlier of that activity of the increase in consciousness as affecting other planets, including Mother Earth/Gaia. It also brought the comet crashing into it as part of the process to accelerate the shifting of consciousness within the fabric of the sun. The storms that the entity Vikki has highlighted are simply further evidence of this activity that is occurring at the inner state of consciousness that is held by the sun.

The Aurora Borealis Activity

The Aurora Borealis activity that is occurring is indicative of the symbiotic relationship that also exists between the sun and the earth. As the magnetic energies come across the gulf of space between the sun and the planet Earth, it affects the magnetic stratosphere of the planet, causing the spectacular light-works that are seen in the Aurora Borealis' activities of late. The energies are not only affecting the Aurora Borealis but are causing deep internal shifts in the Earth's crust and mantle and are even affecting the inner core of Planet Earth and the inner sun that resides, for it too is responding to the energies that are being created on the sun.

The symbiotic relationship this Awareness is speaking of has much to do with the connection of the internal sun that lies at the core of Planet Earth with her sister/brother Sun that is the sun Sol in the center of the solar system. There is a form of communication that is occurring between these two bodies, the solar sun Sol and the inner sun of Gaia. This sun also affects Gaia herself, for it is as if the sun that is within her, which links her to Sol is a part of the universal consciousness as well, and is signaling her that the time for her own rebirthing, the shifting in her being and in her consciousness is coming more and more quickly every day.

Destruction and Mayhem is in the works as Ascension nears

The acceleration that is occurring on the planet again is evidence of the acceleration happening at the core level of the planet, and the internal sun that exists there, as well as Sol, the sun of the solar system. Everything is moving forward quickly now, and as Awareness said in Its opening statement and comments, this will start to bring more and more evidence that things are indeed afoot. The energies will not be totally destructive to the point that they will cause the earth to have a total collapse or a total extinction event that will destroy the planet, but the shaking up of both the sun itself, as well as the inner sun and the planet, will cause much destruction and mayhem if one does not understand that what truly is happening is that these bodies are waking up in preparation to movement into a higher strata of consciousness.

The movement on the planet itself, while destructive to some, need not be totally destructive to all, especially if there is that understanding and awareness of what is occurring and an alignment to Mother Earth, as well as to Father Sun, and when one becomes part of the equation, one will be guided to the actions necessary to ensure safety and well-being. This corresponds to that which this Awareness has often spoken of, that being how one's beliefs can indeed manufacture and manifest in such a way that they will lead individuals into calamity or into safety.

This too is all part of the shifting in consciousness that is occurring at multiple levels of consciousness, and to be part of the universal event and part of that which is the solar event of the shifting of consciousness in the sun, as well as the shifting of awareness of Mother Earth, will help those who are seeking to ascend to the highest levels, to proceed along this path of Ascension. It is a harmony that would be created between all movements and all shifts of consciousness that will allow an individual to become more cosmic in nature, more understanding and aware that that which is occurring is not an act of vehemence against human beings, but rather is the ordered sequence of events and unfoldings that have always been the life purpose of the sun and of the earth, as well as all other planets in the solar system.

When one comes into unity with such an understanding, one is part of the process and one will move forward into the higher states of consciousness in a way that is conducive to an orderly transit. When one is objecting to this, and rejecting of it, then one will experience the chaos and upheaval as the planet undergoes certain profound changes as it moves forward in her Ascension process. This will always be a matter of choice for those who see and understand and feel the shifting of energies. Those who are asleep to this, who are unaware, and who are still under the control and manipulation of those certain Powers That Be, will not be able to experience the Ascension in the same way, for their energies are not in alignment with the shifting energies, and are disharmonic to them. Those who stay ignorant, and those who will not awake will unfortunately feel the chaos and upheaval, as spoken.

Options available for those who do and those who don't

Even though this may be the case, and even though many may choose to cross over at this time of chaos and upheaval, there is still that promise that is the original promise of the Divine, and that is the original promise of the soul and Spirit: that all will be returned back into their spiritual essence, where they will be able to awaken again to the truth of their being, and from that point on make choices as to how they would like to proceed, whether or not to come back onto the planet after Ascension has been achieved, and carrying on in a more highly refined manner, or whether they would choose to come back into an historic period of time that precedes the Ascension process that is being experienced at this time; or even whether or not they would wish to come back into the more segregated experience of separation from Spirit that will be keynote on that which is planet B.

These will be options for each and every soul, no matter what the consequences are of their decision of whether to awaken and align themselves to the shifting energies or to stay asleep and to experience them in a more negative way. ALL will still be saved in the sense that there will not be a loss at all of any individual consciousness, whether they choose Ascension or not. This completes this Awareness' answer.

THE ATMOSPHERE COLLAPSING?

(Thank you) .There's a related matter concerning solar activity offered by Larry Kell. He writes: "With the atmosphere temporarily collapsing much more than the drop in solar activity can account for, is there additional information on this please?"

http://www.msnbc.msn.com/id/38270609/ns/technology_and_science-space/?ocid=msntoolbar280

Cosmic Awareness: What is being seen by this Awareness is that this is like the in-breath of Mother Earth as she takes in a breath, preparing herself for a tremendous leap. This will not collapse the atmosphere to the point that it is destructive to humanity, but it creates a thinner shield for certain cosmic rays, stellar rays, solar rays, and bionic rays of those energies that are projected from the sun and the stars. This can be taken by those who are unaware and asleep to be negative in nature and there may be a subsequent experiencing of harm because of this, or it can be seen and understood to be part of the unfolding that is occurring and that the belief is held and the understanding maintained that this is simply a part of the process, and that one will come through this experience without undue harm or disturbance.

This also has much to do with the shifting in consciousness that is occurring, both on Mother Earth and in Father Sun.

WHY EARTHQUAKES ARE ALL 6.2 MILES DEEP

Questioner: Fascinating. Ok, we go now to the HAARP project Blue Beam China earthquake connection)

It comes from Ted Helinski. "It is written there is a very interesting video on YouTube that makes the claim that many of the earthquakes around the world are being caused by the HAARP-like technology. Nothing new there, but what is shown in this video might be some proof of that fact. It turns out that most of the quakes are at a depth of 6.21 miles. In fact it is shown that the last month over 200 of these quakes were all at 6.21 miles. It seems hard to believe that such a thing would be a natural occurrence." Are there comments on this please? (search: HAARP PROJECT BLUEBEAM CHINA EARTHQUAKE CONNECTION PART 3/3)

Cosmic Awareness: The interesting thing in this is that it shows that there are many who are simply unaware of the actions that are occurring already from that which is the level of consciousness that is held by the planet and by the sun. Those who have power on the planet have for so long isolated themselves from a harmonic relationship with the planet and with the solar consciousness and the higher levels of consciousness, and have closed themselves to the Divine for so long that they are still trying to manipulate events to their liking. Those who are the Elite know that the events are now unfolding rapidly that will bring the planet to that departure point that is known as Ascension. Because of their own choices along the way, and because of their continual manipulation of human events and circumstances, the Elite themselves, although they do indeed receive the advantage at this time from their control of the planet, will not be able to ascend, for there is needed a level of harmonic convergence with the energies that are of the planet itself and of the universal consciousness and even solar consciousness.

Because of their choices, because of their use of the fourth dimension to escape the normal cycling of the soul back into Spirit, and because they have been continuous in their effort of domination for so long, their energies are such that they will not be able to pass through the vortexes or the rifts or even to be carried on the planet itself to the higher levels of consciousness. It is as if through their own choice they have decided that they must continue their physical experience, for it is deemed as more important to them than returning back to the Godhead, back into Prime Consciousness, back into the merging with the soul.

Knowing this, they are still trying to maintain this control and manipulate events themselves, such as the triggering of earthquakes that have been experienced of late, not seeing or fully understanding that there are other forces now that will take those energies they released through such technology as HAARP technology, and create more natural consequences of those manipulated and staged events. As to the fact that much of this activity happens at that distance in the Earth 6.2 miles down, it is seen that there is a layer at this time that extends evenly around the planet, in streams around the planet.

If one can hit an intersection point of these streaming energy layers, it can be carried along the stream and trigger the seismologic events that have been occurring. What is not fully understood though is that these events are about to truly become out of the control of those who have used the HAARP technology. Already other events are occurring, and when the HAARP technology is used there are deflections of that energy released by HAARP that are expressing themselves in other regions as events not necessarily designed or planned, but an expression nonetheless of the released, rebounding energy of HAARP along these streams at that level, that then are released randomly in other areas of the planet.

Because those who have power and dominion at this time refuse to cease their activities, there is the likelihood that combining their activities with the unfolding events and the moving energies that are occurring naturally on the planet because of the Ascension process, that there will be many catastrophic events occurring more and more on the planet, affecting more and more of the populace. This is only part of the understanding of what is occurring, for one must always understand that everything that is seen on the surface is also occurring below the surface, and is also occurring above the surface. It even can be understood that those atmospheric events that are occurring are part and parcel of the surface events, and are part and parcel of the seismic underground events.

Even this is only on the surface level, for one must also understand that there is a shifting in consciousness that is not only planetary, but also solar as well as universal. This is a grand event indeed and is one of the reasons why so much attention is being focused on the Planet Earth herself, for this is a central point in all that is unfolding. This Ascension process that the planet is going through is part of the greater events that are triggering events on planet Earth. It is indeed a very symbiotic relationship. This completes this answer at this time, but this Awareness will always be available to fill in more details later on.

HAARP TECHNOLOGY ENERGIES IN CANADA

Questioner: Is it possible that the massive slide of mud and ice from the Capricorn glacier near Meager Creek and the Lillooet River in British Columbia -- is this possibly also a side event to the HAARP energies, which the basic facilities I believe are in Alaska which is north of British Columbia and also is the flooding in Pakistan, is that also affected in some way?

Cosmic Awareness: Indeed, these two events are related to the HAARP technology and the release of the HAARP energies. It is not that they were planned events, but rather more of the nature of what this Awareness was speaking to when It said that the HAARP energies go down to their crossing point streams, the streams that are flowing energetically at that level of the planet at 6.2 miles. The energetic flow also is a flow of magma and lava and there are energies here that are not yet understood, even by those who use that which is the HAARP technology.

The current flooding in Pakistan

The events in British Columbia as well as Pakistan are indeed directly the result of the release of the HAARP technology to initiate events elsewhere in the planet, and the energies released bounced back and took alternate streams and emerged upwards, creating events such as the mass-melting of the glacier in British Columbia, which then released a tremendous flow of water that directly caused the massive landslide that occurred. Equally, the stream energies also emerged above the skies in Pakistan, for the energies released can affect the atmosphere. As it is the typical rainy season, the monsoon season in Pakistan and in Asia, when you add more energy it creates an even bigger event, a greater release of moisture and rain that directly created the flooding in Pakistan.

High Heat and What "Global Warming" really Is

The random release of these energies are also seriously affecting the climate of the planet and that which is talked about so often in the media as global warming is actually more the result of the manipulation by HAARP technology of the substrata and of the streams of energy that are moving in the crust of the planet, in the mantle, and their release into the atmosphere is creating the events of high heat and abundant rainfall in other areas; high heat, drought-like conditions in some regions, such as the eastern seaboard of the United States into the Midwest and the northern climates of Russia. Other areas, such as Pakistan, for example, are experiencing moisture and heavier than normal rainfall, as are the central regions of Canada and down into the United States.

These are all results of the manipulation of the energies of HAARP that are being now released inadvertently, although this Awareness would say that those who have dominion on this matter, and who are in charge understand that it is their own technology that is starting to have these results, but because this seems to still be suiting the needs and desires of those in charge, there is no shutting off of the HAARP technology. Also, what is occurring is that in some ways the use of the different technologies has gotten away somewhat from those who are in charge, and now events are starting to occur because they are being fueled not by the power sources that release HAARP technology, but by the powers and energies of Mother Earth and Father Sun that are now starting to become activated to a higher degree, and the acceleration is occurring that will create the conditions erupting as they are now starting to do, out of the hands of those who have for so long manipulated these events.

Those in charge simply do not yet "get it;" there are other forces now, other levels of consciousness that are working on this matter, including those of the Galactic Federation, who are still working behind the scenes. This completes the answer of this Awareness at this time.

Questioner: (Thank you) Everything does seem to boomerang, doesn't it?

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness would agree, but it must be always remembered that each sentient being, be it a human being, a planetary being, or a solar being, has a life purpose, and a life destiny. While the life of a human being may be much limited by comparison to that of the planet Earth or of the sun or stars -- still the life purpose chosen by each and every individual will suit the needs of that individual as they seek to expand their consciousness and bring back the experience to the soul itself.

This also occurs at the planetary level, for the planetary consciousness of Gaia is also seeking to advance itself as she seeks to increase her awareness, and increase her own consciousness. This too can be said of the sun itself, which is also a gateway to the higher levels of consciousness on this planet and within the consciousness of the sun. It is all interrelated, but also very individual at the same time. Thus, an individual may wish to have a full Ascension experience, and is opening up their level of consciousness to engage this and to have this; while their neighbor, their brother, their sister and their friend may choose not to have such an experience, and may choose to shut it down, for their soul purpose is to have a different experience.

Planet "B" Will act as a home base for many

Mother Earth/Gaia has her own prerequisite that she is seeking to fulfill and accomplish as she starts to shift into those higher levels. Yet another part of that which is Gaia is choosing not to move forward, and is choosing to stay asleep, thus creating this splitting of the two earths that this Awareness has so often spoken of as planet A and planet B. This will provide for the many who do not seek to have a personal experience of Ascension at this time, a home base from which they can continue their own personal experiences and fulfill themselves and their spiritual needs at the same time. Does this address your comment?

THAT MAJORITY OF ENTITIES STILL ASLEEP

(More on Manifesting the New Reality)

Questioner: Yes it does, I always wondered. Thank you. It's most appreciated) We have something from Tim Gray concerning manifesting a new reality. He writes, "Awareness asked for some questions about manifesting this new reality so I will offer three questions. Awareness has acknowledged the many layers of the complex Machiavellian control mechanisms placed on society at all levels, including the inducement to infighting within the "resistance groups" and the proliferation of mind control. This can be plainly observed on any of the popular "conspiracy" discussion forums, where there is constant argument and name-calling with almost no substance or constructive relationship building.

In the last newsletter Awareness acknowledged that 30% of humanity is awake to the point that they recognize things are not right and must change. This still leaves well over 4 1/2 billion human beings who are asleep and are just as likely to contribute to keeping the rest enslaved, as they are simply consenting to the "Blue Beam deception, false Messiah scenario", etc. In view of the foregoing, how will the mass populace awaken to the Orion deception enough to put up a rebellion or resistance?" Your comment please?

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness would start by saying, "Why should they? Why should those who are still asleep, those who are still under the control of those Machiavellian forces wake up if it suits their life purpose, their soul purpose to have this experience? What must be understood here is there are no unwilling hostages in this matter. The assumption that those who are asleep are somehow victims to the machinations of those who have power and control is not entirely correct. It is only correct if viewed from a certain limited perspective that is very dualistic in nature, a perspective that says that those who are controlled and manipulated and used are the victims of those who have power, those who are in charge, and those who are in charge and who do this are the evil ones, are the corrupt ones, are the ones who are wrong, while those who are asleep are indeed victims to those machinations, and those who are asleep have no choice in the matter, and have no way of changing their fate.

What if the fate of these 'victims' is to have this experience

What if their fate is to have this experience? What if the soul chose in advance, knowing what was coming, that it would choose to have such an experience, to keep that container that is the human body entrapped in a physical reality and the mind, that is the middle self, would not awaken to the truth of its multidimensionality in physical form? Then it would be understood that even though it appears that the individual is a victim to those in charge and in control, the truth would really be that they are choosing at the deepest level of their being to have this experience.

What is necessary for Ascension and what is happening now is that more and more of those who are experiencing human life are starting to ask questions, are starting to awaken, and those whose life purpose, whose soul purpose is to awaken to the con that they have lived all of their lives and have been part of and party to for eons, are now in a position where they are choosing to have an experience of awakening that will lead them to be available for Ascension. It is seen that by the time Ascension occurs, at least 40% of human consciousness will have reached a stage where they can ascend to a degree that suits their soul purpose. It is seen further that there is a 20% grouping that will be on the fence somewhat, who will know that there are new levels of consciousness, new experiences that are different than what was given to them as the fundamentals of the human experience. Not all will then choose to leap into the higher realms of consciousness, trusting that they will be taken forward in their experience. Many will be very afraid to do so and will wind up being part of the group of beings who are still choosing to have the experience of being completely enmired in physicality, and even experiencing a deeper loss of their spiritual nature or their spiritual understanding of their connection to the Divine, to the soul and to God Itself.

These are all choices that are made based on the understanding of what life purpose one wishes to experience or what their soul purpose is. To think that they are simply victims at the complete control of those evil masters is not quite correct, and even those who are in charge know this as a deep and powerful truth. Only those who are choosing to come with them, even if they are still asleep, are those that they can affect. Those that they manage to convince, are those truly that are seeking and desirous of that experience. Those in charge, those who have dominion, know this truth and they still understand that while this is so and they are allowed to play their games, they may keep certain individuals in their web of deception. Ultimately each and every being can escape this web of deception if they truly wish to and if it is their soul purpose of this life.

WHEN WILL THE EXPERIMENT BE COMPLETE?

Questioner: Thank you). I think you answered his next question. His last question: "Although I feel as though the experiment in separation is complete inside my heart and I feel no connection to the darkness and evil deception of the Orion force, as I have removed myself from it to as complete a degree as physically possible, yet each day I still wake up and observe it around me defining and structuring the physical world that we exist in. My questions are: How will the Orion control structures in place today collapse? When will the experiment in separation from Unity Consciousness embodied by the Orion force of darkness be complete?" Your comment please?

Cosmic Awareness: It will be complete when it is complete. This is a question that cannot be answered, for it is assuming there is a timescale involved and therefore the Orion timescale may still take 3 million years or 20 million years, but it has a finite time to it. This is not quite so, for time is simultaneous; all time is occurring at the same moment. What can be said however is that it will take as long as it takes for those who are having this experience to choose another experience and then to move on. For some it will seem as if millions of years are needed for this to be accomplished, while for others it will occur in the twinkling of an eye, the blinking of an eye. Thus it is difficult to answer this question.

What is more important is that the entity himself is starting to become more and more aware of his own role in this matter, of his own desire and choice not to be part of the machinations of those who are seeking to manipulate consciousness and to keep a large element asleep.

He is beginning to understand that as it is his choice not to experience any longer the results of the machination of those forces that have dominion and who are in charge, he will not experience this reality. The matter is somewhat complicated at this time, for it is still the case that the planet itself, human beings and humanity itself, are still largely under the sway of those Orion types and the reptilian types that have controlled and manipulated human consciousness for eons.

While Ascension also represents a breaking away from those who have had dominion for so long, it is not yet a completed act; it is in the process of unfolding. Therefore, it is easy to look at those who are in charge and wonder if they will ever lose control, and if they will ever go away. This would be an error, for they will not go away, for it is part of the stream of consciousness of the Divine Itself that is choosing to have these experiences of separation and manipulation of the masses. Therefore, as it is part of the Divine, the wish that it would go away is also a wish that the Divine would go away and would not exhibit an understanding that this is part of God's plan as well; and at the same time God has given each and every individual a choice in the matter. It is not that God's plan needs to disappear, but that each and every individual wakes up to a degree that they recognize that they have a choice in the matter, and that in the belief that this is so, the individual events of their lives will begin to change.

Wanderers and "Oppressive Energies"

While this is still in that intersection point of the old and the new, the good and the bad, those who are in charge and those who are finding their own level of power, of choice -- there are still those events that are occurring that are challenging to many who must experience them. This Awareness has called these 'oppressive energies' of these times that affect many of the Light Workers, many of those who are the Wanderers. This Awareness encourages those individuals who are awake or awakening to be patient and to be trusting that they are indeed aware of those deeper truths that will guide them eventually into the stream of consciousness that is about to ascend.

In many ways, they are already in that stream of consciousness and they must release that connection to the events and circumstances of that which is the planetary level of consciousness that is still very much in focus at this time. They must become as the entity Tim Gray has noted, the observer of these events, trying not to be triggered by them, but observing them, seeing them as indications of that which is currently so, and yet seeing also in other actions that are starting to emerge more and more- evidence that change is happening and that this change will bring stranger and weirder events in the immediate future.

By staying in a neutral and detached position to that which is unfolding, this will allow those many who are affected by the oppressive energies, a way to come through them. This does not mean that they will not occasionally fall to those energies and be oppressed by them, but what must be held onto, especially at this time, is the deeper trust and knowing that this too shall pass and that the Ascension will unfold as planned.

Questioner: (Question please). The words "all time occurring at the same time"; is this a reference to parallel dimensions or frequencies?

Cosmic Awareness: This can be so understood. The parallel universes are all occurring at this time, and the way to reach them is to focus on them as being the individual's reality. Thus if one wishes to experience a parallel reality where those who are the oppressors, those who are the Elite, those who have dominion, is no longer their reality, then one must simply begin that process of knowing this is not so for them. The problem here is that this is not necessarily an instantaneous event, although as seen from the perspective of this Awareness, It would call this an instantaneous event. However, because the individual on the physical plane is in a dense vibrational energy, there is nothing instant about this to them and it feels to be a long and drawn-out process. But eventually they will be in that reality where those who have charge are no longer in charge, for the reality will have unfolded in such a way that those were once the oppressors have gone their own way, and the individual now is free to experience the new reality that exists parallel to that which one might find themselves in at this time.

Questioner: It explains it, thank you.

Cosmic Awareness: This explains it, but this Awareness is aware that many questions will come of this explanation.

THE PROCESS OF ASCENSION IS TO GROW UP

Questioner: It is a deep, deep subject, indeed.

Cosmic Awareness: It must be understood in some ways, that the Ascension process can be represented as a growth from an infantile state of consciousness to that of an adult, all within the space of a very short time. It would be as if the child is suddenly an adult and lives as an adult with full understanding and in awareness. This is a hard concept for many to attain, for humanity is very infantile in its nature, wishing to believe in simplistic concepts that have been handed down to them over many generations. They wish to believe that those in charge are those who have their best welfare. They wish to believe that having lots of money will make their lives go better and they will be happier. They wish to believe that believing in a rigid God that hands down laws and commandments will guarantee them eternal happiness.

To Leave behind simplistic and naïve beliefs

The process of Ascension is as well as anything the process of growing up, of becoming the adult and leaving behind the things of a child, including the simplistic and naïve beliefs that so many still hold now. This maturation is a process that involves the consciousness of those growing up, but those who have reached higher levels of awareness and perception are still living in the domain of those who have not grown up, and as there are many more who have not yet achieved this new maturity and yet still have power, it is difficult for those who have reached higher levels of conscious awareness and who have grown up, to not feel the effect of those many who still have charge. Even though the adults understand clearly what is now needed, they are not yet in control.

This will come when those who have chosen to have that experience of Ascension complete this journey and are then in a position where they find themselves in the presence of many, many adults indeed.

MYSTERIOUS SIGNALS FROM OUTER SPACE

Questioner: Wonderful! Thank you). We have something from Judy Chan concerning mysterious radio waves or signals. She writes, "A newsscientist.com article concerns an unknown object in the nearby galaxy M-82 has started sending out radio waves or signals. The co-discoverers said they had no idea what it is. Could Awareness please explain what this event is about or what message is being transmitted, or is it related to recent events? Example: earthquakes, volcano eruptions, increase of strange phenomena, sightings etc. and if not mentioned in your commentary, is it possible this could be related to the many signals transmitted by Earth over the years simply being reflecting back to earth when these went as far as they could and had nowhere else to go? Similar to, say if there is one hitting a dividing line of our universe then bouncing back?" Your comment please?

http://www.newscientist.com/article/dn18775-mysterious-radio-waves-emitted-from-nearby-galaxy.html

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness will start with the latter comment and question of the radio waves bouncing back to the earth. It is not seen that this is what is occurring in this event, although it is an understanding that has some grounding- that eventually that which was sent forth will eventually return back to the source, as the radio waves will eventually do. Again, this is not seen as that which is happening. It is seen that these are messages from another solar source, another star that is communicating with its brother star in this system. It is sending out pulses- it is actually dialogue that is occurring, but as this is stellar dialogue- conversation of the stars, it is not comprehended or understood by those who are monitoring these signals, who are eavesdropping on the conversation, that they are being translated into that which can be perceived, that which is the radio waves that are being monitored.

This Awareness spoke of the symbiotic relation of the stars to each other, of the sun to the earth, of the planet to the humans -- all of this as being interconnected. As the powerful events are unfolding on the planet, it is being monitored and observed from a distance by the other stellar consciousnesses, including the one that has communicated back to its brother Sol. This communication with Sol is such that the monitoring of it has created the impression that another race has been sending messages to the planet. It is not so much that this is so, but that the monitoring of the radio waves indicates that consciousness is expressing itself, and is communicating with another aspect of itself. It is seen that this is what is occurring.

These signals are not that which is creating the effects on the planet: the volcanic eruptions, the earthquakes, the weather patterns, the oil spills; and yet it is part of the overall scenario as It seeks to understand what is occurring on the planet and in the solar system, as It seeks to ask its Star Brother what is up. It is this that is seen by this Awareness as that which is being monitored and observed and the questions from the entity herself, Susan Chan, are reflective of this process.

Questioner: I see. The Star Brothers: are they from a different solar system or are they from within our galaxy?

Cosmic Awareness: They are from within the galaxy known as the Milky Way.

Questioner: Related I guess...

Cosmic Awareness: This is so, but all planetary bodies are interconnected. It is the equivalent of understanding that a human being on planet Earth is related to all other human beings, even though there is a sense of separation, a sense of individuality. Yet an individual living in the city of Calgary, Alberta could pick up the phone and call someone in Alice Springs, Australia; could call someone in China, and could call someone down the block. There are ways to communicate now that are well understood by all individuals and are not questioned. Yet a short time ago, less than 150 years ago, this was not possible.

The concept of picking up an apparatus and speaking into it, so that a brother or sister living in another country could hear them was almost considered as dark magic, or as something utterly impossible, and yet it has come to be so. It has come to pass, and now individuals think nothing of using a telephone, of using a cell phone, or of going on Skype and conversing with someone on the other side of the planet. If you were to monitor this from above without understanding what is occurring, this may seem a strange event and may even be presumed to be causing other events to occur, when indeed it has nothing to do with it.

The communications between the consciousnesses of the stars themselves is of this nature; it is communication through means that are not understood, for they are not technical in nature but are expressions of consciousness itself. This is why, when it is understood that this is simply communication between two brothers, so to speak, and that it is not detrimental or harmful, that one will start to understand the incredible complexity of multidimensionality and expanded consciousness.

This Awareness feels that It has commented sufficiently on the matter, but as always welcomes further questions.

DID A COMPUTER OF THE FUTURE CREATE THE UNIVERSE?

Questioner: (Thank you. It's been quite an education today). Ok, there are several questions from Larry Kell. It concerns the Coast-To-Coast show, which he is asking you to comment on. They concern universe creation, UFO phone call, Russia's Lake Baikal and UFO concepts. He writes: "These reports on a previous Coast-To-Coast show have very bizarre topic for Awareness to comment on. Questions on these four topics, the four different topics, are offered for consideration. The first one: What can It tell us about the idea of the universe being created from a conscious computer in the future, the holographic universe theory?" Would you like these one at a time?

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness will answer that just presented. This Awareness indicates that basically the universe was not created from a computer in the future. Yet this Awareness would also say, "What is God Itself then but a Supreme Consciousness, a Supreme Awareness that has created Itself, not from the future, for the future does not exist as such, but from its own moment of the Now, of Its present focus of consciousness?" In the creation of All That Is, It indeed even created the concepts of future and past and of artificial intelligence, such as a computer. Therefore, God Itself could be considered the Supreme Computer. In this, this Awareness could say that God as that Supreme Computer did indeed create from the future, from Its moment in power and in focus and from the past as well. It is all-inclusive and all comprehensive, only if one is able to expand their own thinking on this matter. This completes this Awareness' answer.

Questioner: Larry's next statement: "Physicist Jack Sarfatti's strange phone call from a robotic voice claiming to be a computer aboard a flying saucer in the future." Is this fact?

Awareness: This Awareness sees this as fictional.

ARE GIANT UNDERWATER HUMANOIDS LIVING IN RUSSIA'S LAKE BAIKAL?

Questioner: His next question: "Are there really giant amphibious humanoids swimming underwater without air tanks in Russia's Lake Baikal? How did they get here or there, is there a UFO base in that region and also in the Indian Ocean?" Your comment please?

Cosmic Awareness: This lake is a very deep lake. It extends deeply into the mantle of the Earth and connects to a series of underground rivers and seas. These beings are indeed valid and they come from the deeper recesses of the planet itself up through these deep-water openings into such lakes as Lake Baikal or Loch Ness in Scotland. Indeed that which is known as the Loch Ness monster, Nessie, is such a creature that comes from the deeper regions of the planet, the deeper depositories, the underground oceans and seas where these creatures are more abundant. Occasionally they do make their way up through the crust to these very deep-water openings in these regions, including India, and including mountain lakes in Canada and the United States, where sightings of such creatures as Ogopogo or other equivalent creatures are reported from time to time. Therefore, this Awareness would substantiate that these creatures are indeed valid and are real.

MORE ON THE TUNGUSKA EXPLOSION

Questioner: Hmmm... amazing). Larry's next question: "Who were the strange non-Russian investigators who went to the Tunguska explosion site soon after it happened to collect data and then disappeared? Was this truly the result of a conflict between two UFOs?"

Cosmic Awareness: It is seen that the Tunguska explosion in the early 20th century was indeed an explosion of a nuclear nature. It is seen that a craft exploded, causing this blast that one could see as nuclear in nature. Thus there was indeed a conflict and those who came down were extraterrestrial beings that needed to collect evidence of what had occurred. In a manner of speaking, they were looking for the black box of that vehicle that had crashed, for it contained much evidence of what had occurred and the matter went in front of an arbitration board, so to speak, where decisions were made as to what occurred.

It is seen ultimately that it was a conflict between Orion forces and Galactic Federation forces, with the loss of a Galactic Federation ship at that time. Indeed, this Awareness would even add that both ships were lost, but only one crashed and the matter was brought before a Galactic Council, for at that time the Galactic Federation was not in the same position of opposition and was trying to act legally, as it would be understood today, in conflict resolution, trying to come up with a mediated solution. This failed however, and the matter has escalated since and the opposition is much, much stronger now.

Questioner: What was the timeframe of this?

Cosmic Awareness: Approximately 1919.

Questioner: Thank you. Do you have a closing message please?

IT'S TIME TO TAKE THE NEXT STEP

Cosmic Awareness: This Awareness has indeed been talking today about strange and weird events and phenomena. It has deliberately pushed the mantle further back, and has introduced some new concepts into what this Awareness would call 'multidimensionality'. It has introduced these concepts at this time, for It is felt that those who read of this and hear of this are now ready to expand their thinking, and to expand their consciousness to a new level. That is why also many will start to see the weird events that are unfolding and will also start to understand that those events that are being presented to them over the media are events that often have a much deeper answer or cause, and they will not so easily be led into gullibility about what has occurred and what is occurring.

Be prepared now for these interesting events to accelerate, for the players involved, even those cosmic players are upping the ante, and are increasing the odds. This is, as this Awareness has often said, a most interesting time, and it presents to one and all the option that in interesting times, interesting people come forward and interesting events unfold. Each and every one who hears this message, and reads this message is indeed an interesting being in the process of unfolding into a truer knowledge, a deeper knowledge of who and what they are. It is indeed a time to take the next step and to grow up a little more in the universe of that which is, versus that which what one thinks is and what one was taught is. The time is unfolding and unfolding quickly at this time. This Awareness is complete.
