Introduction:

I have been asked by a number of people before:

“What if you just don’t believe in Magick? How can it work or even affect me?”

This is a very good question! And here is the simple answer:

Magick in short works on the following premises:

1. Science cannot explain everything at this time, if it ever will... but yet scientists too believe everything vibrates at a certain rhythm and thus releases energy when doing so...
2. Magick is defined as a process of using these energies that are not understood by ordinary people [even some scientists] to produce known effects...
3. Therefore, even scientists would have to agree, that by this definition, there is much magick left in the world.

You do not have to “believe” in magick, anymore than you have to believe in “science” for it to work. It is simply a fact of life that both exist.

The difference between science and magick is simply the level of understanding, and ease of repeatability of results; even then the line can be indistinguishable between the two.

The difference between the scientist and the sorcerer is simply the goal:

- The scientists seek to understand the phenomena in terms of some mathematical model or in terms of the mechanism at work.
- The sorcerer seeks to use the phenomena without regards to understanding the nature of the mechanism(s) at work.

Of course, there are extremes. Most do seek to at some point exploit the findings into some application. And many sorcerers put forth theories as to how they think the mechanism of their magick works. These basic definitions create a boundary line between science and magick that are crossed by both scientists and sorcerer alike.

So it is not a matter of belief as to whether or not something is possible. What matters is how real a phenomenon actually is.

There was a time when many people didn't "believe" that gunpowder existed, or that a substance like that was even possible. Belief had no place in its existence.

So I will share with you the following concept:

Almost anything is possible through magick if you know how.

This is a fundamental basis for our universe. It is a phenomena associated with a universe based on free will.

Let me explain:

In order to have free will, it is necessary to have:

- Reality (which offers choices)
- Perception, (the ability to distinguish reality)
- Self Awareness, (which includes: A belief system with “concept of Morality/Ideal Reality/” and Subconscious)
- Life-Will, (an order generating phenomena that is the basis for life itself.)

Given the history of invention, I would suggest that the only limitations on the eventual potential abilities of science are simply resources and imagination.

Therefore, anything you want to achieve is possible, if you can just figure out how to do it. This does not mean that any process is viable, it just suggest that any result may be!

This then means that magick is a valid process, if not a well understood one, as long as it brings about the results that are intended. It is just as valid as scientific processes, which also have qualified amounts of uncertainty and confidence associated with them.

So our belief system can make something real; i.e. make something possible. It is a combination of visualising a goal, chanting some words in rhythms known as spells or even using certain paraphernalia to make it possible or real.

Now this covers magick in its basic sense.

What about Sympathetic Magick?

This gets a little more specific, and to understand how this works we must understand the concept of Life – Will. The concept of Life-Will is rather abstract, so I will not try to cover it in its fullest detail here. However, I will seek to explain it enough to further the understanding of the nature of sympathetic magick.

Life-Will is a directive of the universe that seeks to create order out of disorder. It is a low-level manifestation of the non-corporeal that directs matter into patterns that produce life-generating benefits.

It is usually controlled on what we might call a subconscious level. This level of awareness is very powerful, as even modern scientists have become aware of.

Life-Will can be directed by congruent individual wills to produce more viable results. One of the single greatest examples that I believe illustrates this concept was a simple experiment involving chicken eggs and a heat lamp.

The lamp was set up to blink randomly, and to be on only half the time (statistically). But when the eggs were placed under the lamp, the light tended to stay on longer and was on for more than 50% of the time intended.

Something that the researches could not understand, was keeping the light on longer than it was supposed to be, but only when the eggs were placed under the lamp.

This is an example of congruent subconscious will directing Life-Will to help produce life generating or sustaining benefits!

The eggs were aware, as they could “feel” and “react” to the heat of the lamp, via metabolic processes that increased and was sustained when the lamp was on. This awareness directed the Life-Will to keep the lamp on longer than it had been programmed for, something the researchers had not planned for! (The end result was that the chicks did eventually hatch).

This is the basis of sympathetic magick, and indeed for religious dogma.

If the subconscious will is this powerful, imagine the power of the Directed Conscious Mind! By creating congruent belief systems (religious dogma), a collective driven mechanism for directing Life –Will can be produced, and sustained. The power of this system is only limited by the belief system and the number of people involved (obviously the bigger the better!).

There is an old adage: You can make anything true if you believe hard enough.

This is Life Will at work.

The fact that you exist in this universe, on this plane of existence, means that you are affected by it.

All forces work at a distance. Even the force of physical contact is actually an expression of quantum electromagnetic forces, which do not allow for any two objects to actually touch, but rather the forces are expressed before any actual contact is made. To even come “very” close is to produce nuclear effects such as fission or fusion, and this is still not “touching”. The point is that the idea of “force at a distance” is prevalent in modern science.

Furthermore, these forces extend to infinity, by definition. They may be basically consciously imperceptible, but they are there. This means that collective influence is always possible. So by existing in this universe, you are subject to influence by everything else that exists in it, too.

And in this way we are all just expressions of one bigger collective experience called the Universe.

It is impossible to destroy or create mass or energy we have been told since time antiquity. But Life-Will seeks to do neither, and rather directs already existing energy and matter into more organised states that benefit life.

This means that magick does not violate any “known” laws of physics, but rather works with laws that we may be aware of, as well as in congruence with those laws we are not aware of.

So what does it matter that you “don’t believe in magick?”

It means that you won’t be able to use it, because you won’t let yourself, much like someone who doesn’t believe in cars will be unable to let themselves drive.

It does not mean that you can’t be affected by it, only that you won’t consciously use it yourself. This is much like the person listed above, who will not drive, but could still be easily struck by a moving car should they step in front of it at the wrong time.

What about doing spells on people that don’t believe in magick?

In accordance with what has been stated previously, it should be obvious that the practitioners of magick will be able to direct magick to their will, regardless of what the belief systems of the intended are.

This does not mean that the spell caster should use this as an opportunity to practice black magick of any kind on such individuals! There are other subconscious systems at work that will keep this from repeating should a spell caster abuse his powers.

Instead, merely realise that you could perform beneficial magick, and the incongruent belief system of the intended recipient will have little effect on the spell.

However, consciously driven congruent belief systems will always produce better results! This means that if you and the recipient both believe in the effectiveness, you will both “empower” the spell to be more effective.

And in this manner, you can see how organised faiths or religions have produced just such beliefs, and how these beliefs have been spread into large groups, and therefore the systems have been strengthened greatly.

So although belief may not be able to stop the effects of magick, it does make magick more powerful when it is present. The stronger the belief, the stronger the resolve, and the more powerful your magick becomes.

This is the power of faith. It does not require that everyone believes, only that the spell caster does!

Now to see how powerfully YOU can use spells to improve your life for the better proceed to the magickal working ahead...

Magickal Success to YOU!

The Spells!

ASHES TO RIDDANCE

There are times in our lives when we become burdened with worrying. We spend so much time worrying that we never come to solving the problem. Sometimes we have past hang-ups that prevent us from moving towards more positive lifestyles.

This little Creole spell is to help us put an end to these ruts in our lives.

Needed: Ashes from burned wood Jar or bowl to hold the ashes

Moon Phase: Waning Moon

Locations: Outdoors

Application: In a clearing gather wood ashes the day of the spell and place in a glass jar or open bowl. During the day, hold the jar or bowl and visualize all your worries and/or hang-ups pouring from your 3rd eye and heart and into the ashes. When the night falls, take the ashes to a clearing in a field, wood, or parking lot. Hold the jar or bowl in your hands and do one last pouring out of your worries and hang-ups. Now say:

"You are ashes, and to ashes you shall return."

Pour the ashes out of the jar or bowl and walk away without looking back. When you've returned home be sure to wash out the jar or bowl. Burn some incense, take a bath, or light a candle, and refocus. It is done.

UNWANTED VISITOR SPELL

To get rid of unwanted visitors you should place a broom by the front door. If you can, make a small sweeping motion as you place the broom, and if you can do this without being noticed, so much the better. This will speed such people on their way and give you some peace of mind...

Or simply:

Sprinkle salt in their shoes and imagine them outside your home.

BANISH BAD MEMORIES

Used to rid oneself of potentially damaging blocked, or denied memories. The premise for this rite is that we all have blocked memories in ourselves that we either won't, or can't face. They may include everything from being teased at school by our 'friends' to emotional, physical, or mental abuse by parents, loved ones, etc.

The purpose of this rite is to draw these hidden memories up into a closed box, open it in a manner similar to the Pandora myth, and meet, greet, and make peace with the memories, as they can be very detrimental to one's ego growth if kept hidden.

Instead of finding hope in our boxes though, we will find acceptance, and peace with oneself, and one's past.

This rite is good for anyone, even those who assume they have had perfect childhoods. You don't always realize the past is dragging you down until it is too late, and you would be amazed by what you can find out about yourself!

You will need:

- Yellow candles
- A box of any shape, or size
- Incense (any type,)
- Music of a childlike nature may be used to enhance the atmosphere
- A group of 3 persons or more..

Preparation: The box should have a lid. Paint the inside glossy black, or line it with an irregular reflective surface, such as aluminium foil. The outside should be decorated with any drawings, pictures, or whatever one may want to help evoke a childlike state of mind, and to help trigger childhood memories.

Start with an opening of any sort you feel comfortable with. Light candles and incense as desired. State the intent:

"It is my will to greet my past, and accept it for what it is."

Recite the invocation:

"I call the past to meet the present, that the future may be bright. I bring myself forth from the dark, and hold me to the light. Let not the past control my present, let not my future be dark as night. I meet and greet me with open arms, and move back into the light."

At this point, one person sits in the centre of the group with their box, keeping it closed. She focuses on the box while the rest of the participant's circle around, teasing, insulting, and degrading her. At this point, the teasing should not be too personal. When she reaches gnosis, she opens the box, and gazes inside, seeing whatever she sees. At this point, the taunting should reach a more personal, and vicious attitude.

This continues until they close their box again. The box then is dealt with in whatever manner she sees fit. It can be destroyed, left open in a spot of sunlight, kept for future uses, as it may be a good idea to do this more than once. When the first person is finished, another takes her place, until the entire group has a turn. Banish by laughter and embraces.

TO RID YOURSELF OF AN UNWANTED LOVER

Some people are wooed by persistent would-be lovers, those who won't take no for an answer and who won't leave them alone. This is the ideal Vudu spell for such a situation. It should be done during the waning cycle of the Moon.

Have a roaring fire going, then go outside and pick up two handfuls of dry leaves (you can place them on the ground ahead of time, if necessary.) As you pick them up, shout out the name of the one you wish to be rid of.

Turn and go into the house (or cross to the fire if this is all done out in the open) and fling leaves onto the fire with the words:

“Here is my pain; Take it and soar. Depart from me now and offend me no more.”

Do this for three nights in a row. You will hear no more from the unwanted ones.

PROTECTION SPELL

This is a Creole spell to protect a person from the criticism and hate of another. This spell can be done during any phase of the moon. You must have something that is connected to the person, like a piece of handwriting, a picture, hair, etc. Place this in a container, and set it aflame. While it is burning, chant:

Away from me Away from me Away from me Away from me.

DESTRUCTIVE KNOT SPELL

If there is a situation, problem, possible menace you are facing, there is a Vudu knot spell for this. Take the cord and firmly visualize the problem in all its agonizing detail. Become emotional about it; seethe with anger, crumble into tears, whatever works.

Then firmly tie the knot. Walk away from it, out of the room if possible. Take a shower, eat, do whatever will get your mind off the spell and allow you to relax. When your emotions are stabilized return to the knot. With calm and peace untie the knot.

See the problem vanishing; dissolving into a dust that is swept away by the cleansing, refreshing North wind. It is done.

BANISH POVERTY

The moon should be dark or waning. You should perform this on a Saturday. Take 7 sheets of toilet paper and write:

"I banish poverty"

On each sheet. Flush them all down the toilet saying:

I banish poverty.

With each one. Do this every day from the full moon to the dark moon.

TO DRIVE AWAY EVIL

Take an iron nail - rusty and old. On a dark night - moonless and cloudy, set upon a smallish flat stone. With an iron hammer strike it thrice. At each stroke say:

"Clavus Ferreus Malleus Ferreus Ferrum Refilum Ferrum Nobilis"

Score the stone three times across with the nail's point, then take the stone and bury it far from the house. Carry the nail with you always as a charm.

BANISH ILLNESS

Ingredients: A Handful of Salt. Cast the salt into the flames of a fire. The flames will turn blue. Gaze into the blue flames and with as much feeling and imagination as you can muster, visualize the illness leaving the person while incanting:

Sickness burn, Great good health return.

BASIC LOCATION SPELL

This is a basic spell to locate anyone no matter where they're. You will need:

- 4 blue candles
- A goblet filled 3/4 of the way with water, jasmine incense
- A quiet, undisturbed place

Put the 4 candles around you – one north, one south, one east, and one west. Light the candles and the incense. Sit in the centre of the candles, facing west. Put the goblet in front of you. Invoke the element of water. Repeat 4 times:

"Let the water show the location of (person's name)

TO GET SOMEONE TO CALL YOU

Take a piece of parchment or fine quality writing paper and inscribe the name of the target. Write it in a circle twice, so the ends meet. As you do this, concentrate on the person's face and your desire that they call you. Then, while still concentrating, put a needle through the centre of the circle created by the name. Place the charm by the phone.

The call will come within 5 minutes, 5 hours, or 5 days, depending on how well the spell was cast and how much will power was used. Concentrate on the person and meditate after.

CHARM TO FIND LOST ITEMS

Simply picture the lost item and repeat:

Bound and Binding
Binding Bound
See the Sight
Hear the Sound
What was lost now is found
Bound and Binding
Binding Bound

TO SUMMON A LOST PERSON TO YOU

Every night for a fortnight, place a pinch of blessed sea salt over your doorframe and under your doormat (or in front of your door on the ground). Visualize the person you are summoning while doing this chant.

Salt in the ocean, salt on my door draw (name) to me in a fortnight or before. As ships sail and travel the great four seas send my heart's desire through the cosmos to me. I call to the powers of the ever-flowing sea and As I will so mote it be.

Then go in and light a white candle with the person's name carved into it and let burn for 13 min. Visualize the person walking through your door and you and they embracing in a big hug.

EXTINGUISH, do not blow out. The person will contact you within a fortnight after completing this spell.

TO COMMUNICATE WITH AN ABSENT PARTNER

You will need: pink candle, photo of your partner/friend crystal ball or magnifying glass.

First, light a pink candle. Now, holding a photo that clearly shows your partner's face, look into his or her eyes. You can look deeper into the eyes and beyond, into the mind, by placing a crystal ball or a magnifying glass on top of the image. Speak directly to the photo or through the object you have chosen to magnify it with. The eyes, mouth, and facial features in the image will move in such a way that it appears you are speaking directly, face-to-face, to the person you're trying to contact.

At this point you have made the connection. Tell the person what it is that you want, or ask a question. The response will come to you telepathically. Blow out the candle and wave the photo through its smoke from north to south and from west to east. Return the photo to where you normally keep it.

SPELL FOR CONTACTING A FRIEND

This spell should be used to cause someone with whom you have lost contact to contact you. It is not manipulation so much as an astral call for contact when you have no other way to reach them that you know of. You will need:

- White candle anointed with sandalwood oil
Sandalwood incense
- Photo of the person small glass of water salt

Light the white candle and the incense.

Place the picture of the person on your altar.

Put 2 heaping tablespoons of salt in the palm of your right hand.

Let a small amount of salt trickle into the glass while making the sign of the cross of the elements. Make this cross 3 times. Say:

" Call me"

Three times as you do this. Then set the glass on the altar and say:

"Get in touch with me, please."

They should contact you by the time the water has evaporated from the glass.

FIND SOMETHING YOU HAVE LOST

Take an object from the area in which you lost the item and hold that item in your hands. Carefully visualize the item you have lost and open your mind to the impressions that you feel from the item that you are holding.

After a while, you should be able to see the lost item and see where it went to and how it got there. Remember NOT to cloud your vision with preconceived thoughts of where and what happened to the item you are looking for. Remember: An open mind sees more clearly than one "fogged" with "clouded" thoughts!

A SPELL TO MAKE YOUR LOVE REACH YOU

You need a phone, 2 tarot cards: queen of cups and the lovers. Lay the lover on your phone and say:

May the one I love (name lover)

Then lay the queen of cups on your phone and say:

Contact me now and upon my work may none get hurt. Blessed Be

TO GET A LOVER TO CALL

This Vudu spell is best begun when the moon is waxing, but if you cannot wait that long go ahead and do it. Take a photo of your lover and a photo of yourself.

Using a paper clip, hook the photos together so that the faces are on top of each other. The idea is that the person cannot see past your face. Take the photos and place them at the bottom of your underwear drawer. The person should soon write, call, or reappear.

TO ATTRACT AN ITEM TO YOU

Draw a picture or a symbol of the item on a leaf with the end of a burnt stick, a matchstick seems to work. Tie the leaf around a tree with a vine, then walk around the base of tree nine times, repeating:

Ancient One of the Ancient Earth Older than time can tell Grant me the power at your command to work my magick spell.

The leaf may stay up or it may not, it doesn't matter, the item is on its way to you!

THE NO-EFFORT WAY TO SELF IMPROVEMENT
FEATURING THREE PUBLICATIONS IN ONE BOOK,
Authored by James Cullinan, Martin Brooks & Robina Peartree

Our planet has during these past five decades made enormous advancement in all aspects of its existence. It is of no surprise that the 'mind' responsible for this great achievement has revealed to men new ways of influencing that part of it (mind) called the – Subconscious Mind for the purpose of causing desirable changes in one's life. WITHOUT A DOUBT THIS IS THE MOST EFFECTIVE SYSTEM OF SELF-IMPROVEMENT IN EXISTENCE... IT EXCELS EVERY OTHER SYSTEM KNOWN TO US OR ANYONE ELSE.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials from readers are living proof of this. You can travel to the corners of the earth study 100 philosophies or read a thousand books, but you will not find anything to match this. The sheer delight of the system is its simplicity, and that fact that it requires ABSOLUTELY NO WILL POWER OR EFFORT TO MAKE IT WORK. It works automatically and easily, once you know how. It is not self-hypnosis... hypnosis requires attention, plus trance condition, which this does not. This publication demonstrates how easily – WITHOUT WILL POWER OR EFFORT – it is to:

- Pass a driving test
- Overcome stage fright
- Have perfect self-control
- Eliminate shyness and lack of confidence
- Increase ability to absorb foreign language
- Acquire original ideas for business or social life
- Improve health and much more...
- Face any test or exam with complete confidence
- Make yourself sensuous and attractive
- Read much faster
- Develop personal magnetism and personal power

You are even shown how to treble your will power without using will power to do so!

The second publication within this volume is by Martin Brooks and is entitled "Master Keys For Influencing The Subconscious." Mr. Brooks a keen student of Mind Power for 15 years and the author of several books on the subject was so impressed with Mr. Cullinan's system that he decided to add his own contribution in the belief that many more people should be alerted to this wonderful opportunity of self-improvement. In some respects Mr. Brooks has gone beyond Mr. James Cullinan exposition and we consider his contribution of great significance. Martin Brooks approach is thorough and practical, and brings a fresh perspective to the subject. Moreover he is keen to share readers experience with the system if you would like to write to him at the address given in the book.

The third and final publication incorporated within this unique book is Robina Peartree's "The Chart Method". Her method distinct from Mr. Cullinan's was developed from the original system. She claims wonders for it, including the miraculous recovery of a friend's health that was close to death. She is convinced that one subconscious mind can contact another. She also welcomes readers' experience on the subject. "The Chart Method" can be used in conjunction with the first two publications in the book or without.

There you have it – three publications in one complete book, all completely new, never before published. It is the greatest self-help offer ever made – your key to happiness, riches, health, fulfilment, love – the NO EFFORT WAY! Simply quote "THE NO EFFORT WAY TO PERSONAL IMPROVEMENT" along with your remittance for £5 to: Starlight Books, York Chambers, 33 York Street, Wolverhampton WV1 3RN, UK
