What is Knot Magic?

Knot magic is an ancient practice of magic stemming back to the Babylonians for malevolent and beneficial purposes. Knot magic is dependent upon your mental intentions and desires that you have. Intentions can be made fruitful if this is what you sincerely desire. Therefore, it is important to focus all of your energy into each knot that is tied.

Knot magic is akin to creating a witch's ladder. The witch's ladder is used primarily for malevolent or black magic by hexing your victim. It can also be used to control or bind another person to you. There are always an odd number of knots tied into the string, preferably seven or nine in most knot magic spells but this depends on the person casting the spell since one's personal energy is most important. After all casting your own spells is more powerful since it is your energy and intentions being made and that makes the spell stronger and more apt to work.

Types of Knot Magic

Knot magic can be performed for love, fidelity, money, control, healing, binding, hexing, protection, or whatever you desire. As previously stated, one's intention is all that matters.

How to Perform Knot Magic

To perform knot magic, you must first decide what you want and cater the spell towards that desire. You will first choose a piece of colored string or yarn, color relevant to your desire. For example, the following colors are relevant to the following things:

RED: Love, Sex

PINK: Love, Romance

GREEN: Money, Health

BLACK: Hexing/Binding

PURPLE: Control/Binding

WHITE: Protection, Healing

You will need at least a twelve inch piece of string or yarn to tie your knots into since you will be tying 3, 5, 7, or 9 knots into the string. An odd number of knots have to always be tied with knot magic.

Colored candles relevant to the knot magic spell can accompany the spell but are not necessary but candles always personally get me into the mood of performing spells. The burning of incense is also good to heighten the magical process and the scent chosen relevant to the spell performed.

The following types of incense can be chosen for the following types of knot magic spells:

Love/Sex: Jasmine, Rose, Lavender, Musk

Hexing: Patchouli

Healing: Myrrh, Frankincense

Protection/Healing: Sandalwood

Money: Cedar, Sandalwood, Pine

Control/Binding: Patchouli

Prior to making knots, I always pass my string through the smoke of incense and the flame of a candle. Anointing the string with oil is the next step. The following oils can be used to anoint the string:

Love: Rose, Jasmine, Lavender, Musk, Love

Hexing: Patchouli, Hexing, Black Arts

Control/Binding: Controlling, Compelling

Money: Money Drawing

Protection/Healing: Sandalwood, Protection

After anointing the string with the oil, it is preferable you call upon your deity of choice if you have one or a spirit guide. My Goddess is Hecate that is petitioned prior to assist me with my magical endeavors. Performing a prayer to Hecate is recited before intentions are knotted into the string.

These are just examples to go by when performing knot magic. Spells can be worded and catered to any of your needs. Remember your energy is what makes a spell most powerful and more apt to prosper into reality. It is not necessary to pay witches or sorcerers to perform magic spells for you. You can do all of these yourself and if you truly believe in your own power then they will work for you.

Personal Experience with Knot Magic

I have personally performed knot magic for various reasons and seen my spells become a living reality. I have had enemies in the work place and performed knot magic on these individuals to be out of the work place and they have been forced to resign usually within one month to three months. It seems the more evil a person is though, the longer it takes for a spell to work. However, do not give up because time will tell the tale.

As always, do not perform knot magic against someone unless they truly deserve what you are doing to them. Remember the law of karma will come back to you three times worse if the person indeed does not deserve what you ask for in your spell or if you have also done something wrong in the situation. This too has occurred for me whenever I hastily did an evil curse against someone who made me angry. I later found out this person did not intentionally mean to harm me and I did a nasty curse impulsively and had bad luck as a result. Therefore, always be sure you are doing the right thing before you embark upon any type of magical spell including knot magic. Remember magic is real and powerful and cannot only hurt and influence the intended person the spell is geared towards but those around the person including your self. All facets should be weighed before a spell of any kind is performed to ensure it is the right thing to do and be prepared for any consequences that may result from your spell not only to others close to the person the spell is intended for but for your self.
